Morrow Swamps Rivals In New Jersey

SENATE ACTS ON ISSUES OF LOANS ABROAD

HAS NO LEGAL POWER
All Expressions On Securities Given Force Only By Implication

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington (CPA).—Of more than passing importance is the resolution adopted by the United States senate requesting the department of state to explain under what sanction of law does it "have its right either to approve or disapprove investment securities offered for sale in the money markets of the United States by foreign governments, corporations or individuals."

The issue was raised particularly in connection with the recent announcement that the government of the United States did not disapprove of the German reparations loan, thus implying to many people that it favored the transaction. Senator Glass is not opposed at all to the state department's position in this particular matter but he does not see what business it is of the American government to say anything about it at all.

As a matter of fact, the right of the state department to approve or disapprove foreign loans of any character has never been assumed by the department except by implication. The usual course in the past has been for the department to approve or disapprove the merits of a loan but simply to say that it had no objection to the flotation on the grounds of public policy.

STARTED WITH HARDING

The practice originated with the Harding administration when various European governments were not disposed to fund their war debts with the United States and public opinion in this country was opposed to the lending of money to foreign countries whose governments were not ready to begin payment of their war debts to America. Informal conferences between New York bankers and the department of state resulted in an understanding of an entirely voluntary character, backed only by the sanction of public opinion at the time. It provided that as a mat-

DAMMANN REMAINS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Madison—(CP)—The condition of Theodore Damman, 60, secretary of state, today was described as critical by attaches of the hospital here where he has been a patient since late Sunday. Relatives remained within call of his bedside.

Doctors said they noted a slight improvement over his condition yesterday.

Mr. Damman suffered a relapse from a chronic illness Sunday after attending memorial services at the grave of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

INVESTIGATE FUNDS IN 1928 CAMPAIGN

Milwaukee—(CP)—The legislative interim committee investigating campaign expenditures was expected to hold a session here Friday to probe reports of the Democratic National committee contributions to the Blaine-Progressive-Smith Republican in the 1928 Wisconsin campaign. Several prominent Wisconsin Democrats are expected to be called for testimony.

DATE WHISKY FOUND BY DRY LAW OFFICERS

Milwaukee—(CP)—Date whisky today was the latest distilling innovation, prohibition agents said. Raiding a still here yesterday, they said they discovered the main ingredients contained in the mash were dates and cane sugar.

Dawes Has Plenty To Talk About

Chicago—(CP)—General Charles G. Dawes American ambassador to Great Britain, came home today and met a "lot of talk" with hell 'n maria waves of his upside down pipe.

About Chicago: "Chicago doesn't need any defense. What the hell is the difference what people say about it? Chicago will go right on being a great city for centuries."

About Chicago crime and the suggestion he take the job of cleaning it up: "Talk, talk, talk. When Chicago moves there won't be much talking about it. Certainly I won't contribute any talk to a situation which demands and will get action."

About the 1933 Century of Progress exposition, for which he came to lend his aid: "Just watch it grow!"

About the naval treaty: "The naval pact will be ratified without a shadow of a doubt and it should be. The delegates at the naval conference were agreed on everything and their differences were so small as to be ridiculous."

"Don't you worry about the naval pact. The world's peace is involved. It is either a step in advance or a step back. It will be ratified."

"The naval experts of Japan say 'our navy is ruined.' There is the best evidence possible it is a perfect treaty."

The ambassador was good natured about posing for a battery of photographers, but he balked at talking for the talkies.

"All this shooting doesn't mean a thing," he remarked.

LIVESTOCK EXECUTIVE GROUP QUILTS JULY 14

Kansas City—(CP)—Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, today revealed all members of the executive committee of the National Livestock Marketing association, million dollar government sponsored cooperative, had presented resignations preparatory to the election of a new committee July 14.

Mr. Legge indicated the resignations were offered as a matter of routine under an agreement at the time of formation of the cooperative in Chicago, Oct. 14, 1929.

He said the members of the committee were stepping out so undue preference could not be charged against the organization.

SHOW OPERATING COSTS IN LAKE CARGO CASE

Washington—(CP)—Studies of railroad operating costs applying on coal transport to the Great Lakes were presented to the Interstate Commerce commission today by Ohio and Pennsylvania mine operators seeking to have the rate adjustment altered in their favor.

C. B. Ackerman, an expert in railroad accounting and operating methods, testified to most of the data recorded. From his calculations on cost of movement and conditions of operation in the lake cargo traffic, the northern mine owners expect to draw the conclusions on which they will ask the better rates on their products.

Testimony in opposition to that of northern producers will be introduced in behalf of their opponents in the controversy, who are largely coal mine operators of West Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

Widespread Protest Is Aroused By U. S. Tariff

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A new tariff law was put into effect by the United States today and international reaction to it was reflected in actual retaliation in kind by one government, consideration by two others of measures of reprisal and condemnation from the press of several nations.

Automatically with the effectiveness of the 1,122 new rate schedules contained in the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill, Canada's countervailing duties became operative, placing higher duties on a dozen commodities imported from the United States.

These duties, which were included in that government's May 1 budget, are applied on the principle that if a "dollar tariff" shall be as high on articles coming from other countries as the rates those countries levy against the same commodities from Canada.

The Belgian cabinet discussed the new law and then decided that any retaliatory measures should await conferences with other European countries; while the Spanish government studied requests that it break the existing modus vivendi with the United States as a protest.

In Havana, the newspaper El Mundo, attacking the new tariff law as unjust, says it will destroy the friendship between Cuba and the United States.

The Paris Petit Bleu advocates boycotting of American products in France.

At Rome, the Tariff Commission of the League of Nations, said the tariff was the ultimate manifestation of the economic imperialism of the United States.

GETS 3 VOTES FOR 1 GIVEN DRY ADVOCATE

Freylinghuysen Trails Far Behind Fort—Morrow's Lead Over 260,000

BULLETIN
Newark, N. J.—(CP)—With 223 districts missing of 3,504 in New Jersey, the vote for Republican nomination for full term United States senator was: Fort 107,174; Freylinghuysen 43,093; Morrow 374,276.

Newark, N. J.—(CP)—Outdistancing his nearest opponent by 260,000 or more votes, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow is the Republican nominee for United States senator, double victor in a primary election in which he stood for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and state control of liquor. In the principal contest for the long term, Morrow was nominated in a four-cornered fight in which he won a majority of the total vote carrying all 21 counties.

Representative Franklin W. Fort, who ran as a dry with the backing of the state Anti-Saloon league was second. Former Senator Joseph S. Freylinghuysen, advocate of modification of the liquor laws and federal control of liquor traffic, ran third. John A. Kelly, who sought the nomination as "the original wet Republican" was a poor fourth. Kelly was Morrow's only opponent for the short term.

Morrow will be opposed for election next fall by Alexander Simpson, wet Democrat, who was nominated for the six year term without a contest and for the unexpired term of former Senator Walker E. Edge, by Miss Thelma Parkinson, the only Democratic candidate for that term.

CONCEDE VICTORY

Fort and Freylinghuysen conceded Morrow's nomination a few hours after the polls closed and early returns indicated an emphatic victory for the ambassador. Both sent telegrams congratulating him on his victory and pledging their support in the fall election.

The returns indicated that Morrow had carried many of the dry rural districts from which Fort was expected his chief strength.

Balotage was light in the fore part of the day but there was a rush to the polling places before they closed at 8 o'clock p. m., as commuters thronged home from New York and Philadelphia.

Ambassador Morrow sat quietly in his Englewood home reading Herodotus while the votes indicated his victory were being counted. He refused to comment, saying he would wait until the complete vote was tabulated.

"However," he said smilingly, "I seem to have carried my own ward."

ONLY 43 OF CIVIL WAR REGIMENT STILL ALIVE

Fond du Lac—(CP)—Of 1,910 men whose names appeared on rolls of the 14th Wisconsin regiment organized here in 1861, only 43 were alive today, records showed.

Five members yesterday attended the annual reunion of the organization here. Those attending were president L. M. Corbett, Green Bay; Vice President John W. Duran, Milwaukee; Secretary Spink, Oshkosh; Frank Delant and Thomas Stewart, Milwaukee.

Sackett Changes His Mind, Delivers Speech Despite Protest From Sam Insull

Berlin—(CP)—Repercussions of American political arguments over the power and public utilities question were heard in Berlin today where more than 1,000 engineers are gathered from all over the world for a power conference.

Today's Berlin morning papers available for publication the text of a speech which Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett, former senator from Kentucky, will make at 5 o'clock p. m. before the conference containing passages to which Samuel Insull, Chicago power magnate, had objected as controversial at this time.

Ambassador Sackett, after previously having consented to Mr. Insull's request for a revision of parts of the speech, announced last night that the address would be given in full and without changes. He also authorized its publication in full in advance of delivery.

The passage in the speech to which Mr. Insull was understood particularly to have taken exception read: "I know of no other manufacturing industry where the sale price of the product to the great mass of consumers is fifteen times the actual cost of production of the article sold."

Mr. Sackett's speech was written several days ago and copies sent to the press to be held for release.

AGREED WITH INSULL
Word of the contents of the address was carried to Mr. Insull who approached the ambassador and suggested that perhaps the speech seemed a bit controversial for delivery upon this particular occasion. Mr. Sackett, after consideration, agreed that it might be interpreted as presumptuous.

The embassy then informed the press to hold up the text, inasmuch as corrections would be forthcoming. Meanwhile Mr. Insull's action became known among other American delegates and considerable talk developed, to some of which the ambassador took exception.

Hunt Maniac Who Selects His Victims

Says 14 Must Die. Will Kill One Tonight, Two Already Murdered

New York—(CP)—Queens borough today feared the unknown hand of a maniac slayer who already has killed two men and threatens the murder of a third tonight. He has sent newspapers a list of 14, including one woman, who, he has said, must die.

Warned that he would strike to night in College Point, Queens, more than 600 policemen, many called in from vacation, today made an intensive man hunt.

Description of the man has been given to police by two girls, companions of the killer's first two victims. One is Catherine May, 19, who was with Joseph Moynski, a grocer, in his auto when the killer walked up to them and shot Moynski, then escorted May to a bus and sent her home.

The other girl is Elizabeth Ring, daughter of a policeman. She was with Noel Sowley, 26, a radio salesman, when the killer shot him Monday night. Again the slayer didn't harm her, but took her from the isolated spot in Creedmore, Queens, to a bus.

In letters to newspapers, signed with a cabalistic inverted V, and scored, a normal V, also underscored, and the final symbols XN, the slayer told the murder of Sowley before the body was found.

Fiscal Year Closes With Surplus But Expenses Likely To Climb

Washington—(CP)—Although the government will complete the 1929 fiscal year on June 30 with a surplus, the treasury will refrain from any decision as to what time whether the 1 percent reduction in income taxes granted this year on 1929 incomes can be continued for 1930 incomes.

Estimates were made of a $122,000,000 surplus at the end of the 1929 fiscal year. Since then, however, estimates of farm bond expenditures next year have reached $150,000,000 and the new soldiers' pensions bill adds another $75,000,000 to federal expenses.

If continued, the tax reduction would reduce government revenues by $160,000,000.

Such a reduction would be spread over two years, half in each, but half of the present reduction must come out of the tax on 1930 incomes so that if continued as much more would be taken from the total of the tax for that year.

The increase in expenditures has made it appear to the treasury that it might be necessary to go back to the income tax rates of the 1929 revenue bill, 1 percent higher than paid on the 1929 incomes. Officials have declined to predict whether the tax reduction could be continued, however. It was made at the recommendation of Secretary Mellon by congressional resolution and decreased the tax on all normal and corporation incomes by 1 percent. At that time officials expressed the hope that the reduction could be continued.

12 SHIPS WIN RACE AGAINST TIME AND NEW TARIFF RATES

New York—(CP)—Winning a race against time, 12 ships were in port today having cleared the customs before the new tariff went into effect and thereby saving importers hundreds of thousands of dollars in increased duties. Several others lost out because of fog.

The White Star liner Olympic, bringing a $1,000,000 cargo, was the last vessel to cross the line at Ambrose lightship in time to come under the provisions of the old tariff law.

Importers with freight aboard the Olympic were saved approximately $100,000 by the arrival of the ship before 5:30 p. m. yesterday. Although the new law was not effective until midnight, the closing hour of the customs house marked the end of the old tariff for importers. The usual closing hour of the customs office is 4:30 but an additional hour was allowed.

Bolt Threatens British Royalty; Bookie Killed

Ascot, England—(CP)—Panic swept through the throngs of fashionable persons at the Royal Ascot race meeting today when a terrific electrical storm broke over the enclosure and a bolt of lightning struck and killed Walter Holbein, well known north of England bookmaker, in Tattersall's betting ring only a few yards away from the king and queen and their royal guests.

The meeting, with its attendant fashion display, was at its height when the sudden electrical storm occurred. The royal hunt cup race had been run and all was animation within the enclosure.

The king and queen, with the prince of Wales and other members of the royal party, had just arrived by motor car.

Society women, caught in a rush for shelter, when a deluge descended upon the throng, were thrown to the muddy ground and trampled under foot.

Hats were knocked off, parasols were lost and some of the women arrived at the stands without their slippers which had been left behind stuck in the mud or torn from their feet.

Extraordinary scenes were enacted when the storm warning, of which had been given by a great lowering cloud at the end of the Royal Hunt cup event, broke suddenly with great intensity.

They were chatting animatedly when almost instantly the scene of confusion was precipitated before their eyes and the air was rent by a blinding lightning flash which killed the bookmaker.

TICKER FALLS FAR BEHIND IN TRADING

Powerful Banking Support Credited With Checking Further Decline

BULLETIN
New York—(CP)—The stock market passed through another selling climax today, which depressed several pivotal shares to within striking distance of the minimum levels of the autumn selling panic. Total sales aggregated 6,400,000 shares; exceeded this year only by the 2,600,000 share day of May 5.

New York—(CP)—Still another swift shrinkage in the quoted values of equity stocks was halted by what appeared to be powerful banking support today and pivotal shares made moderate recovery in the last hour of trading.

Prices declined swiftly during the early hours of trading a long list of important issues losing $5 to nearly $50 a share, but the price list began to work lower.

Trading was in enormous volume; the ticker falling more than an hour in arrears. Nearly five million shares were traded by 1:30.

Such issues as U. S. Steel, Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, American Can, Johns Manville and Westinghouse Electric, dropped $5 to $10 a share, then rebounded $2 to $6.

UNCONFIRMED RUMORS
It was rumored in Wall Street that large orders had been placed slightly under current quotations for important stocks, but these rumors could not be confirmed. One report had it that an order had been placed to buy 10,000 shares of U. S. Steel at each point under current quotations.

Traders who had been waiting for signs of a turn in order to catch the automatic rally which almost always follows a severe decline, pushed to buy. Although it was not felt in brokerage circles that the bear flag was an important factor in the decline, short covering also added to the late upturn. Although trading had been in enormous volume during the early hours of the session, it slackened somewhat after mid-afternoon.

The late rally, in the main, served to cancel about half of the earlier decline. It was added by an upturn in the Chicago wheat pit, where early losses of about 4 cents a bushel were reduced to less than 2 cents.

Stocks showed an inclination to rally soon after midday, but during the early afternoon, each point ran into further selling. It was not until the last hour that the planned rally came impressive. Further selling occurred in the final few minutes of trading, cancelling part of the late advance.

Selling was in such volume that the ticker was about an hour and a quarter behind the quotations when the closing gong at 3 o'clock sounded and it appeared that it would take the tape until about 5 o'clock to tell the complete story of the violent price movements.

GOVERNOR SIGNS TWO HIGHWAY CONTRACTS

Madison—(CP)—Gov. Kohler today announced he had signed two highway contracts totaling $103,750.43. One calls for surfacing, grading and draining a portion of U. S. Highway 8 in Oneida-co., known as the Monlo-Crandon-rd. Yaeger and Brown Construction company of Eden, will do the work for $25,806.06.

J. Rasmussen and Sons, Oshkosh, secured the contract for placing a bituminous surface on about eight miles of U. S. Highways 2 and 141 in Florence co. at a cost of $77,944.37.

MURDERER SENTENCED TO DIE IN CALIFORNIA

Eureka, Calif.—(CP)—Clarence L. King, today faced death on the San Quentin gallows Sept. 12 for the slaying of Mrs. Minnie McCoy, his former sweetheart. King showed no emotion when sentence was pronounced yesterday. His attorney said he would appeal.

SHERIFF IS CALLED

Sheriff John B. Dietrich of Calumet-co. was summoned from Chilton. He visited the scene of the accident with John Minahan, coroner. When the officials arrived, however, all of the people had been taken to St. Elizabeth hospital at Appleton by ambulances.

Mr. Klemmer and the little Reiter boy were dead when taken from the wreckage. Mrs. Reiter died 15 minutes after reaching the hospital and Mrs. Klemmer died an hour after reaching the hospital. Attending physicians said there was little hope for the little Reiter girl.

Members of the coroner's jury were impaneled at Chilton early Wednesday morning. The jurors were Peter Enders, Paul Blenier, L. G. Horst, G. B. Jensen, O. L. Doran, A. A. Stransky.

The jury was brought to Appleton to view the bodies of the four dead people at the hospital. Then they visited Mrs. Reiter who told them she was unable to remember anything about the accident except that she saw the Henderson car approaching the arterial. She could not say whether Klemmer stopped for the arterial or not.

After the visit at the hospital the jury went to the scene of the accident and then to Forest Junction, where the inquest was held.

SAYS OESTERICH KNEW OF LOVE AFFAIR

Los Angeles—(CP)—Philip J. Stover, machinery manufacturer of Milwaukee, testified in the murder trial of Otto Sanhuber here today that Fred Oesterich, whom Sanhuber is alleged to have killed, had been aware of his wife's illicit love affair with the defendant for nearly two years.

Schlee And Brock Back In Florida

Forced Landing And Broken Wheel Mar West-to-East Flight

Jacksonville, Fla.—(CP)—Delayed by a stop in Louisiana for fuel this morning, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, completed their round-trip coast-to-coast flight this afternoon, landing at the Jacksonville municipal airport 16 hours and 50 minutes after leaving San Diego, Calif., last night.

In landing their big monoplane here the flyers overshot the field, crashed into a fence and tipped the plane over on one wing. One wheel was smashed.

On arriving here the men disclosed that they had come down at Calhoun, La., at 9 o'clock a. m. today to take on 50 gallons of fuel, thus explaining the delay.

They took off from Jacksonville beach at dawn yesterday morning on a contemplated 30-hour round-trip flight to San Diego and back.

The plane shot across the finish line at Jacksonville beach at 1:04:45, according to the official timer. This gave Brock and Schlee a total elapsed time from San Diego of 16 hours and 50 minutes.

Thirteen hours, 54 minutes and 30 seconds was the new record set by the aviators for the east to west journey.

KOHLER ASKS HELP FOR U. S. RED CROSS

Designates National Organization For Relief Work In Wisconsin

Madison—(CP)—Expressing commendation of the American Red Cross relief work in the torn-and-stricken area of northwestern Wisconsin, Gov. Walter Kohler today appealed to the people of the state to extend financial aid to Red Cross chapters.

The governor said he was designating the American Red Cross as the official disaster relief agency. Last Saturday, Adjutant General Ralph M. Innell, with the governor's approval, ordered the national guard into the territory to cooperate in relief work.

"The American National Red Cross has assumed responsibility for the conduct of the entire relief operation," Governor Kohler stated, "and experience demonstrates that the handling of the situation will be efficient and thorough."

JONES TIED WITH TWO OTHERS AT TOURNAMENT

Hoylake, England—(CP)—With all the favorites reported, Bobby Jones and MacDonald Smith, of the invincible golfers from the United States, and Henry Cotton, a British pro, led the first round of the British open championship with scores of 74.

"Long Jim" Barnes, Cornishman, long a resident of the United States, was only a stroke behind the leaders with a score of 71 and Horton Smith, tall young Missourian now living at New York, scored 72.

Leo Diegel and Don Mo were tied with several others at 74.

Only two Americans were far down the list, George Von Elm, with 81 as a result of a tragic nine at the 18th hole and P. C. Stevens, Jr., Los Angeles, who collapsed on his second nine holes to record an even 80.

Among the British players joining Cotton in low figures were Fred Robson with 71, Norman Sutton, 72, Tom Green 73, Archie Compston and Charles Whitecombe 74, Abe Mitchell, Percy Alliss and others 75.

THREE INJURED IN COLLISION IN CALUMET-CO

West Allis Couple, Oshkosh Man, St. John Child Are Dead

CARS TRAVELING FAST
Driver Fails To Stop For Arterial At Intersection Of Routes 10, 57

Traced stalked at the intersection of Highways 57 and 10, near Forest Junction, last night when two speeding cars crashed together, killing four persons, seriously injuring another, and causing injuries to two more.

A coroner's jury at Forest Junction at noon today, after 15 minutes' deliberation, decided that blame for the accident rested on one of the cars which failed to observe an arterial stop sign. This car was driven by Peter Klemmer, 36, West Allis, one of the dead.

Others in the crash were: Mrs. Peter Klemmer, 50, dead.

Arthur Reiter, 2 years old, St. John, dead.

Othmar P. Fries, 33, Oshkosh, dead.

Miss Genevieve Reiter, 11, St. John, near death with a fractured skull.

Mrs. John Reiter, St. John, a broken jaw and broken arm.

I. E. Henderson, Oshkosh, several fractured ribs and severe cuts and bruises.

RETURNING FROM WEDDING
The Klemmer car was coming toward St. John on Highway 57, taking the Reiter family to their home after the group had spent the day at a reception at Dundas in honor of the Oshkosh bridegroom, Mr. Henderson and Mrs. Fries were returning from Manitowish where they had been on business.

Henderson is a member of the firm which operates department stores in Manitowish and Oshkosh. Fries was the manager of several departments of the Oshkosh store. His parents live in Erie, Pa., where his father operates a large dry goods store. Mr. Fries had been working at Oshkosh for about three years.

According to testimony given by Henderson at the coroner's inquest Tuesday, both cars were traveling at a high rate of speed. Mr. Henderson said he did not reduce his speed because he knew he was traveling on an arterial highway and he expected the other car would stop.

Two other witnesses, Harry Loefer and Lloyd Franke, who live near the scene of the accident, also testified that both cars were going at a high rate of speed. Neither of these men saw the crash, however, and they were unable to say whether the Klemmer car had stopped.

There were five other witnesses, who gave testimony that it was all relative to finding the cars and removing the bodies from the wreckage. The testimony revealed that the two machines crashed at the center of the intersection and then went into a field. Both cars were demolished.

The other witnesses were Oscar Schley, Dr. P. J. Waltersheim, William Schaubert, William Dieckhoff and Dr. W. L. Boyden.

CARS TRAVELING FAST
Driver Fails To Stop For Arterial At Intersection Of Routes 10, 57

Traced stalked at the intersection of Highways 57 and 10, near Forest Junction, last night when two speeding cars crashed together, killing four persons, seriously injuring another, and causing injuries to two more.

A coroner's jury at Forest Junction at noon today, after 15 minutes' deliberation, decided that blame for the accident rested on one of the cars which failed to observe an arterial stop sign. This car was driven by Peter Klemmer, 36, West Allis, one of the dead.

Others in the crash were: Mrs. Peter Klemmer, 50, dead.

Othmar P. Fries, 33, Oshkosh, dead.

Miss Genevieve Reiter, 11, St. John, near death with a fractured skull.

Mrs. John Reiter, St. John, a broken jaw and broken arm.

I. E. Henderson, Oshkosh, several fractured ribs and severe cuts and bruises.

RETURNING FROM WEDDING
The Klemmer car was coming toward St. John on Highway 57, taking the Reiter family to their home after the group had spent the day at a reception at Dundas in honor of the Oshkosh bridegroom, Mr. Henderson and Mrs. Fries were returning from Manitowish where they had been on business.

Henderson is a member of the firm which operates department stores in Manitowish and Oshkosh. Fries was the manager of several departments of the Oshkosh store. His parents live in Erie, Pa., where his father operates a large dry goods store. Mr. Fries had been working at Oshkosh for about three years.

According to testimony given by Henderson at the coroner's inquest Tuesday, both cars were traveling at a high rate of speed. Mr. Henderson said he did not reduce his speed because he knew he was traveling on an arterial highway and he expected the other car would stop.

Two other witnesses, Harry Loefer and Lloyd Franke, who live near the scene of the accident, also testified that both cars were going at a high rate of speed. Neither of these men saw the crash, however, and they were unable to say whether the Klemmer car had stopped.

There were five other witnesses, who gave testimony that it was all relative to finding the cars and removing the bodies from the wreckage. The testimony revealed that the two machines crashed at the center of the intersection and then went into a field. Both cars were demolished.

The other witnesses were Oscar Schley, Dr. P. J. Waltersheim, William Schaubert, William Dieckhoff and Dr. W. L. Boyden.

GOVERNOR SIGNS TWO HIGHWAY CONTRACTS

Madison—(CP)—Gov. Kohler today announced he had signed two highway contracts totaling $103,750.43. One calls for surfacing, grading and draining a portion of U. S. Highway 8 in Oneida-co., known as the Monlo-Crandon-rd. Yaeger and Brown Construction company of Eden, will do the work for $25,806.06.

J. Rasmussen and Sons, Oshkosh, secured the contract for placing a bituminous surface on about eight miles of U. S. Highways 2 and 141 in Florence co. at a cost of $77,944.37.

SAYS OESTERICH KNEW OF LOVE AFFAIR

Los Angeles—(CP)—Philip J. Stover, machinery manufacturer of Milwaukee, testified in the murder trial of Otto Sanhuber here today that Fred Oesterich, whom Sanhuber is alleged to have killed, had been aware of his wife's illicit love affair with the defendant for nearly two years.

Schlee And Brock Back In Florida

Forced Landing And Broken Wheel Mar West-to-East Flight

Jacksonville, Fla.—(CP)—Delayed by a stop in Louisiana for fuel this morning, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, completed their round-trip coast-to-coast flight this afternoon, landing at the Jacksonville municipal airport 16 hours and 50 minutes after leaving San Diego, Calif., last night.

In landing their big monoplane here the flyers overshot the field, crashed into a fence and tipped the plane over on one wing. One wheel was smashed.

On arriving here the men disclosed that they had come down at Calhoun, La., at 9 o'clock a. m. today to take on 50 gallons of fuel, thus explaining the delay.

They took off from Jacksonville beach at dawn yesterday morning on a contemplated 30-hour round-trip flight to San Diego and back.

The plane shot across the finish line at Jacksonville beach at 1:04:45, according to the official timer. This gave Brock and Schlee a total elapsed time from San Diego of 16 hours and 50 minutes.

Thirteen hours, 54 minutes and 30 seconds was the new record set by the aviators for the east to west journey.

KOHLER ASKS HELP FOR U. S. RED CROSS

Designates National Organization For Relief Work In Wisconsin

Madison—(CP)—Expressing commendation of the American Red Cross relief work in the torn-and-stricken area of northwestern Wisconsin, Gov. Walter Kohler today appealed to the people of the state to extend financial aid to Red Cross chapters.

The governor said he was designating the American Red Cross as the official disaster relief agency. Last Saturday, Adjutant General Ralph M. Innell, with the governor's approval, ordered the national guard into the territory to cooperate in relief work.

"The American National Red Cross has assumed responsibility for the conduct of the entire relief operation," Governor Kohler stated, "and experience demonstrates that the handling of the situation will be efficient and thorough."

JONES TIED WITH TWO OTHERS AT TOURNAMENT

Hoylake, England—(CP)—With all the favorites reported, Bobby Jones and MacDonald Smith, of the invincible golfers from the United States, and Henry Cotton, a British pro, led the first round of the British open championship with scores of 74.

"Long Jim" Barnes, Cornishman, long a resident of the United States, was only a stroke behind the leaders with a score of 71 and Horton Smith, tall young Missourian now living at New York, scored 72.

Leo Diegel and Don Mo were tied with several others at 74.

Only two Americans were far down the list, George Von Elm, with 81 as a result of a tragic nine at the 18th hole and P. C. Stevens, Jr., Los Angeles, who collapsed on his second nine holes to record an even 80.

Among the British players joining Cotton in low figures were Fred Robson with 71, Norman Sutton, 72, Tom Green 73, Archie Compston and Charles Whitecombe 74, Abe Mitchell, Percy Alliss and others 75.

New York Prepares Great Reception For Byrd, Party

WELCOME TO APPROACH ONE GIVEN LINDY

Members Of Antarctic Expedition To Be Greeted Tomorrow In Metropolis

New York—(P)—Returning home after sixteen months of exploration in the Antarctic, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and the members of his expedition will be received as conquering heroes by the city of New York at noon tomorrow.

Expectations were that the city's welcome would surpass all receptions here since that accorded Col. Charles A. Lindbergh upon his return from his flight to Paris.

A marine parade up the harbor, a salute of 15 guns from Governors island and a band of honor including 3,000 troops for a procession up Broadway to city hall have been arranged in honor of the man who flew over the earth's two poles.

First greetings to the returning explorers, however, will be extended from a big navy amphibian plane carrying former Gov. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, brother of the commander, and officials of that state.

It was planned to circle over the two Byrd ships, The City of New York and the Eleanor Bolling, as they approached Quarantine.

Admiral Byrd's wife, children and mother were expected to go down to Quarantine on the municipal tug Macom with members of the city's official welcome committee, which will be headed by Grover A. Whalen.

Two ships in addition to the Macom will carry the official party down the bay. Admiral Byrd and officers of the expedition will be taken aboard the Macom at Quarantine and the crew on the Riverside.

The Marine parade up the harbor in which 25 ships are expected to take part will start at 8:50 a. m. (C. S. T.) and the guests will be landed at the Battery at 9:10 a. m.

With 3,000 troops forming a guard of honor the parade up Broadway to the city hall will get under way at 9:40, arriving at city hall at 10 o'clock a. m. where it will pass in review before Mayor James J. Walker.

A painting commemorating his achievement will be presented to Admiral Byrd by Mayor Walker, while each member of the expedition will receive the city's medal of valor. An honorary degree of doctor of laws will be presented to Admiral Byrd by Chancellor Elmer E. Brown of New York university.

A complete radio description of the reception at Quarantine and the ceremonies at city hall will be broadcast over nation-wide chains by both the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Admiral Byrd and his men will remain in New York only one day, leaving at midnight Thursday for Washington to be received by President Hoover and to be guests at a luncheon given by the National Geographic society. Admiral Byrd on Saturday will be received at Richmond, Va., by Governor Pollard and will spend Sunday at his home in Winchester, Va. A long program of receptions will follow extending as far as July 11, when he will be guest of honor in Chicago.

ARMY-NAVY AFFAIR PUT INTO RECORD

Inspector General's Report On Athletics Argued In Congress

Washington—(P)—As the result of an exchange in the house on the athletic breach between the Army and Navy academies, the Congressional record today contained the report of the investigation of athletics at West Point by Inspector General Drum, which in substance said all was well. Secretary Hurley has endorsed the report.

General Drum said a thorough inquiry proved there was no foundation for allegations that athletes were paid at the academy or that 50 per cent of the Point football teams were composed of men who had already played three years at other colleges.

The report said that of 163 football players since 1923 only 10 per cent had played one year. Five per cent two years and 6 per cent three years at other schools before becoming a cadet.

The controversy between the academies on athletics is largely because the Army allows who have played at other colleges to play three years in Army teams.

The breach between the service schools had been discussed frequently in Congress. Representative Fitzgerald, Republican, Ohio defended the West Point athletic system and introduced the Drum report.

Representative Eliot, Democrat, Texas, today introduced a resolution to have the schools resume sports competition at once, with the Army adhering to "prevailing rules."

Representative Fish, Republican, New York, who often has criticized the Army system, said he favored the resolution.

SELL FARM LAND TO SATISFY MORTGAGE

A parcel of land in the town of Adams was sold at public auction at the courthouse this morning by Sheriff John Lappen for $3,773.85 to satisfy a mortgage foreclosure judgment granted by Judge Theodore W. in municipal court on April 12.

The property was purchased by T. & Davis, who also held the title and other mortgages.

The property was owned by Elizabeth Adams.

Chosen President Of Wisconsin Commerce Secretaries Organization

Madison—(P)—Kenneth Corbett, Appleton, was elected president and Wisconsin Rapids chosen for the 1931 convention by officers and directors of the Wisconsin Association of Commercial Organization secretaries here Tuesday.

Other officers elected are Lee I. Yorkson, Wausau, vice president, and A. T. Sands, Eau Claire, secretary-treasurer. Alvin Gillett, Madison; Ed Hauf, Beaver Dam; Richard Malla, Green Bay, and Dar Vriesman, Racine, were chosen directors.

A return of the business mind of Wisconsin to realism after the "romantic orgy of the late market crash," was urged by President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin in a speech before the secretaries.

President Frank said real business statesmanship should be brought to bear upon chain marketing, mergers, combinations and other problems now used as political footballs. He said it was time to make a realistic audit of the new era expressed by the evolution of corporations.

WOMAN AGAIN WILL RUN FOR TREASURER

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen To Be Candidate For Fifth Term In Office

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, announced Wednesday that she would seek reelection next fall. She will be a candidate for the Republican nomination at the primary contest in September. Earl W. Bates, Appleton, previously announced he would oppose Miss Ziegenhagen.

The present county treasurer has served Outagamie-co for four terms, having been elected four times and always against opposition. She was born and raised in Outagamie-co.

She secured nomination papers Wednesday from John E. Hantschel, county clerk, and the papers will be circulated this week.

Others who took out nomination papers Wednesday were: Martin Vorhagen, Kimberly, Democratic candidate for sheriff; Oscar J. Schmiede, candidate for assemblyman from the first Outagamie-co district.

Vorhagen was the Democratic nominee for sheriff two years ago, winning from a field of three. He was defeated in the final race by Fred W. Giese.

American Films Talk To World In Every Tongue

BY DEMING SEYMOUR

New York—(P)—American-made movies are talking to the world in a dozen languages and dialects.

The babel of tongues which descended upon the motion picture industry with the coming of the talkies is being regimented.

At production centers in New York and Hollywood pictures are being turned out with dialog which can be understood in Stockholm, Tokyo or Buenos Aires.

Maurice Chevalier and Claudette Colbert made an English version of "The Big Pond" at the Paramount studios at Astoria, L. I.

Then, in front of the same sets and the same camera, they enacted the play again in French, with their American supporting cast replaced by French players.

Vilma Banky and Edward G. Robinson made an American picture, "A Lady to Love," at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Hollywood. Then they rested and rehearsed for a week and did the story again in German.

Thus the transition from silence to speech is being accomplished by the American motion picture industry without the loss of foreign markets.

When it became apparent that American dialog made a picture thoroughly unsuitable for foreign showing, efforts were made to pick out the most important parts of the dialog, translate them into related subtitles and show these subtitles on the lower quarter of the screen.

Oddie Amendment Would Appropriate $50,000 Towards Project

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—Within a few years we are likely to be able to make motor tours from any point in the United States down to the Panama Canal.

Highway experts, automobile interests and the various governments between Washington and the Canal Zone have been getting steamed up over the thought and the general idea of an inter-American highway has become definitely fixed as something which is bound to come—and the sooner the better.

The Senate has before it the Oddie amendment which would appropriate $50,000 for co-operation with members of the Pan-American Union in advance surveys on possible routes, probable costs and other factors in construction. Congress two years ago authorized this appropriation and it is asked now in a proposed amendment to the deficiency bill.

As soon as the money is available the State Department is ready to go ahead with the preliminaries in conjunction with Mexico and the Central American republics.

INTERNATIONAL GROUP BUSY

Since Congress originally resolved to embark on the survey the First Inter-American Highway Congress has been held in Panama. The congress decided that there was no physical obstacle in the way of a program which would open such a highway for public travel within five years. The Pan-American Union was asked to create an international commission to study problems of location, construction, maintenance and financing.

It was decided that each of the countries through which the road will run—Mexico, Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama—should fix the route through its territory with a view of the best social and economic development such as the road is intended to promote. These countries and the United States were called upon to assist the commission with engineers, transportation information or other means.

The arguments on behalf of the highway are that it will promote social intercourse and better international understanding among the several nations, greatly lessen the cost of both domestic and national transportation and improve the economic condition of the territory traversed.

Construction would be carried out progressively. That is, roads would be "roughed through" to permit motor transportation and further improvement would be undertaken as traffic began to move through.

U. S. PART FULFILLED

No building would be required on the part of this country. The northern end of the highway would end at Laredo, Tex. We have plenty of hard roads in this country to connect with it. Canada, which also is expected to join in the project, would also need no extra construction.

Mexico some time ago approved the route of a highway running from Laredo to Mexico City and from Mexico, a link in the inter-American highway which would cover almost half the distance from Laredo to the Canal. Construction of this is being given preference in the Mexican roads program and large stretches of improved road are now maintained north of Mexico City.

All the Central American countries are concentrating on highways as a general program, keeping in mind their part in the future inter-American road. Salvador is carrying out a program including a link from the Guatemalan frontier to the Honduran border. Honduras expects soon to start work on a Pacific coastal highway connecting Salvador with Nicaragua. Guatemala, Nicaragua and Costa Rica are all developing highways and Panama has more so because words are spoken on the screen six times as rapidly as they can be read.

Another system was to fit subtitles into the picture in the foreign language, but leave the American dialog audible.

A third plan, having foreign actors behind the scenes, reproduce the dialog in their own language, following as closely as possible the lip movements of the characters on the screen, was hooted by several German audiences.

Most producers have decided that the only way to make pictures for the foreign market is to use actors who actually speak the language of the country where the film is to be shown.

Thus actors like Miss Banky, Chevalier, Robinson, Dolores Del Rio, Lupe Velez, and others versed in two or more tongues loom as the most valuable screen stars.

Paramount began making short pictures in foreign languages last April.

Some were made in Swedish, French, Czech-Slovakian, and three Spanish dialects—Castilian (the court language of Spain), Mexican and Argentinian. Even Esperanto was employed in one picture.

Despite this activity foreign language production are still utterly inadequate to meet demands.

From the actor's standpoint, if he has a reasonably good speaking acquaintance with three or four languages, it is not difficult to make versions of a picture in each language. Robinson says.

Russian Clown School Is Unit Of Propaganda

Moscow—(P)—Soviet Russia claims to be the only country in the world which has a school for clowns. It also boasts of a school for training acrobats, jugglers, tight-rope walkers, bareback riders, magicians and other circus performers.

The school for training clowns which gives instruction in the art of being funny and grotesque to both sexes, is located in Moscow and furnishes clowns, male and female, to hundreds of theatres and circuses in the Soviet Union. All are well grounded in methods of disseminating communism.

One of the oddest things about the school is that it was founded by a woman, the first wife of Anatole Lunacharsky, formerly commissar of education. Students of both sexes between the ages of 14 and 20 who are thought to have special aptitude for buffoonery are accepted.

They pay nothing for their education, the Soviet government considering that clowns are good not only for spreading merriment, but in disseminating through their "white-face art" communist doctrines and proletarian ideology.

There are now in the Soviet Union one hundred pairs of musical clowns, 150 solo trick clowns and fifty "russ" or tumbling clowns.

Lured with the great outlet to the north in mind.

One of the aims envisioned is a highway system which eventually will connect the capitals of all the Latin-American republics.

President Hoover is especially enthusiastic over the plan and has endorsed the proposal to lend American engineers from the navy and the Department of Agriculture to aid the smaller republics in their construction problems. He has also recommended to the favor of private interests "all reasonable loans sought by these countries to open main lines of travel."

CLARA BOW TELLS STRANGE TALE OF ALIENATION SUIT

Dallas, Texas—(P)—Clara Bow, "It" girl of the movies, is going to leave Monday or Tuesday, so she says, after giving Dallas the first real thrill of the hot weather season.

She appeared mysteriously Monday, using an assumed name which did not conceal her identity successfully. She said her studio managers thought she was in Hawaii "just loafing," was her explanation.

Tuesday, interviewed by a reporter from the Dallas Times Herald, she told a new story about dates with the young business man of Dallas which led to a threatened alienation suit and payment of $30,000. According to this story, which could not be confirmed from California records, she came to Dallas to explain some things to the young man.

Studio officials in Hollywood discounted the story. They said Clara was given to talking extravagantly. They told the Associated Press they knew nothing of any demand for money.

Today Miss Bow, who has been entertained by automobile rides and dances and apparently avoiding further interviews, was found again by a reporter. This time she said that, instead of remaining two weeks as she had intended, she would leave Monday or Tuesday. "Too much hot weather and too much noise" was her explanation.

The cinema star was accompanied in Dallas by her secretary who was also using an assumed name.

Of good cheer to drifters who search street waste-paper containers is the prediction of a London editor that newspapers will be published hourly by 1970.

In London a "dining theater" will soon open at which meals will be served during the show. Chances are that among the choices not to be found on the menu will be soup and celery.

Huge Engineering Feat Removes Seattle Mountain

Seattle, Wash.—The faith that moves mountains evidently is sometimes nothing more or less than mankind's faith in the abilities of the steam shovel and the endless conveyor belt.

Seattle had a mountain right on the edge of its business district—a high craggy hill that towered above the tops of the highest office buildings. It was very much in the way. The business district wanted to expand and couldn't. The hill blocked its path.

So Seattle decided to move the mountain—to abolish it, scoop it out of existence, level it flat so that it could put buildings where there used to be a great, high hill.

FINISH THIS YEAR

The job has been going forward for a year now, and by September it is to be completed. By autumn the last trace of the hill will be gone. The 5,000,000 cubic yards of earth that lay heaped in a vast pile over 92 acres of ground will be out of sight forever—dumped into the deep water of Puget Sound.

The amazing thing is that all of this work has been and is being done without interfering with any of the ordinary business pursuits in the neighborhood. Traffic has not been blocked in the slightest degree. Seattle has got so used to the job that it has paid little attention to it.

Denny Hill used to be the best residence district of the pioneers. But in recent years Seattle's city planners realized that Denny Hill was just an expensive nuisance. So last spring the city council ordered the $2,000,000 job begun, with the city paying most of the expense and adjoining property owners paying the remainder.

So the steam shovels got busy—the steam shovels, and an elaborate system of conveyor belts.

The dirt is dumped by the shovels into bins adjacent to them. From these bins, long, rubberized conveyor belts 30 inches wide carry it to a central bin, from which a larger belt carries it on an overhead track clear down to the water front, over streets and business houses. There it is dumped into scoops, which haul it out into the sound and spill it into the water.

A PROFITABLE VENTURE

A wooden shield below the belts prevents the dropping of dirt onto the streets or houses below, and the whole contrivance is almost noiseless in its operation. In all, 10,000 feet of the belt have been used. Seattle city planners believe that the advantages from the project will be tremendous. The $2,000,000 cost of the job, they say will be far outweighed by the value of the land that will be made available for building purposes.

The scoops used to carry the dirt out into the sound are worth special notice. They are self-tipping and self-bailing; water turned into

BAND DRAWS CROWD DESPITE WEATHER

Cornet Solo By Reynold Schilke Feature Of Evening's Program

Despite the cold weather and threats of rain, an exceptionally large crowd attended the Tuesday evening concert by the 120th field artillery band. The gathering was highly enthusiastic and forced the band to play encores after every regularly scheduled number.

Reynold Schilke, Green Bay, made the biggest hit of the evening with a cornet solo, "Sounds from the Hudson," while the overture "Euryanthe," which opened the evening's entertainment, also was well received.

Selections from the stage and screen production, "No, No, Nanette," because they are well known and popular numbers, also were pleasing to the audience. The concert closed with the complete opera number, "Carmen."

There will be no concert next Tuesday evening because many members will attend the annual picnic at Shawano. A special concert is being planned for Friday, June 27, however, the day being one of the convention dates for the Spanish American war veterans. The last concert before the band goes to Camp McCoy at Sparta will be played Tuesday, July 1.

PASTORS ATTENDING MEETING OF SYNOD

The Rev. R. E. Ziesemer of Mount Olive Lutheran church, the Rev. Philip Froehke of St. Matthew, and the Rev. F. M. Brandt and the Rev. T. J. Sauer of St. Paul church are attending the North Wisconsin district meeting of the Wisconsin Synod at Algoma this week. The conference, which will continue until next Tuesday, will draw about 300 pastors and laymen from 90 congregations in the district.

COMMITTEE INSPECTS APPLETON STREETS

The street and bridge committee met at the city hall Tuesday afternoon. An inspection trip of streets was made, and several recommendations were made to the street department.

CASE AGAINST LOCAL MAN IS ADJOURNED

Preliminary hearing of the charge of non-support against Gene Balhazor, Appleton, was held in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Wednesday morning and the case was adjourned for 30 days. Balhazor was arrested last week on complaint of his wife, Cella, who charges he failed to support her and their three minor children.

After Crooks

Committee To Meet Tonight To Discuss Arrangements For Meet Next Week

The general arrangements committee in charge of details for the Wisconsin United Spanish American War Veterans' thirty-first annual encampment here next week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, will meet at the Armory at 8 o'clock tonight. W. H. Zuehlke is chairman of this committee. Other members are Louis Jeske, R. G. Sykes, T. F. Thomsen, A. O. Hecht, Henry Steger, C. B. Peterman, Emil Hoffman, Joseph Hassman and Marcus Steinhauer.

One of the main subjects to be considered will be arrangements for the parade Friday afternoon.

Mr. Steger, in charge of arrangements for housing the 1,500 delegates which are expected in Appleton, announced that he desired to secure the addresses of homes which had rooms to let during the convention. Mr. Steger can be reached either at the Schabo meat market during the day or at his home evenings.

Workman started decorating store fronts this week in preparation for the convention. Street decorations, which are being arranged by the Charles O. Bear camp, which is sponsoring the convention, will be put up next week.

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES OUTSIDE FIRE CALLS

The question of charging for fire runs outside the city limits was discussed at a meeting of the fire and water commission at city hall Tuesday evening. August Laabs, chairman of the town of Grand Chute, conferred with the committee.

EDUCATIONAL FUND IS DISCUSSED AT CLUB

The Rotary club educational fund was discussed at the meeting of the club at Hotel Northern Tuesday noon. Speakers were W. O. Thiede, L. J. Marshall, and Dr. R. C. Mullen.

NO SCARLET FEVER OR DIPHTHERIA IN CITY

The city is absolutely free of scarlet fever and diphtheria, and the number of cases of measles are rapidly decreasing, according to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer. A few cases of mumps, chicken pox, and whooping cough still exist, although the number of new cases is nominal.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday by John E. Hantschel, county clerk, to Elmer W. Dacke and Annetta Filz, Appleton.

MAN AWARDED DIVORCE ON CRUELTY CHARGE

A divorce was granted by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Tuesday to Clifton Short, 41, Appleton, from his wife, Mrs. Anna Short, 40, Oshkosh, on charges of cruelty and inhuman treatment. Short charged his wife was operating a roadhouse near Oshkosh against his wishes and that she kept company with other men. Mrs. Short did not contest the case. The Shorts were married in Carleton, Ill., July 17, 1909. Two children were not affected by the decree.

BOTH WET AND DRY WIN IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Newark, N. J.—(AP)—Both a wet and dry apparently won congressional nominations in New Jersey's primary yesterday in the only two of six contests in which prohibition was an issue.

On the basis of incomplete returns, Representative Ernest R. Askerman, a dry defeated Wesley A. Stranger, wet, for the republican nomination in the Fifth district, while in the Ninth district Peter A. Caviechia, a wet, apparently won the Republican nomination over Joseph C. Cassini, wet, and Meadow Wright, a dry. Caviechia, if elected, will succeed Representative Franklin W. Fort.

In the Tenth district to fill the post of Representative Harold G. Hoffman, who will retire at the expiration of his term, Assemblyman Thomas M. Gopsill defeated Donald S. Bowie for the Republican nomination. In the Eleventh district Irving W. Taft apparently defeated William W. Britten for the Republican nomination.

Only two contests were waged in the Democratic party. In the Sixth district Archibald C. Harover on the basis of incomplete returns apparently defeated Edward C. Kenny, and in the Tenth district Edward Simms led John F. Cahill.

LIBRARY OFFICIAL GOES TO CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Nellie Harriman of the Appleton public library has gone to Los Angeles, Calif., where she will attend the annual convention of the American Library association, and visit her son Frank. She will be gone a month, and upon her return she will take up her new duties as assistant cataloguer at the library. Mrs. Harriman was formerly in the children's department of the library.

BOOKS AVAILABLE ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Books may be obtained at the Appleton public library on the summer schedule from now until Oct. 1, states Miss Florence Day, librarian. The summer schedule enables any person to take out 10 books at a time, none of which are due until the winter schedule again goes into effect. However, no new books, fiction or non-fiction, may be taken out for this period.

Wisconsin Weather

Generally fair tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer Thursday.

Moderately low pressure centered over the St. Lawrence Valley has caused rain over the Atlantic states and Ohio valley, and cloudy, unsettled weather over the lakes region. Low pressure also prevails over the southern Rocky Mountain states and western Canada, causing maximum temperatures above 80 degrees in many sections of the Rocky Mountains. Mostly fair weather prevails from the Mississippi river westward to the Pacific coast, with the exception of occasional showers in the upper Missouri valley and western Canada. Fair weather is expected in this section tonight and Thursday, with warmer Thursday.

TWIN WILLOW 4-H CLUB MEETS WITH SECRETARY

The Twin Willow 4-H club met at the home of the secretary, Miss Dolores Heimann, route 1, Appleton, Tuesday evening. After the business meeting the group learned one of the club songs and played games. The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Alice Schwalbach, on June 30.

Union Protests H. S. Band At Its Benefit Movie Show

Because of objections raised by the American Federation of Musicians, the Appleton high school band will not be allowed to play a concert at the benefit movie to be shown at the Fox theatre Thursday and Friday evenings. The band intended to play a 15-minute program during the intermission, but the objection of the union makes this impossible.

The band members, in teams of two, are still selling tickets for the movie, in an attempt to help defray the expense of the Washington trip. Tickets are on sale at three drug stores, Proest's, Downer's and Veit's. Ticket scales made by the boys or at the drug stores yield the band a 50 per cent commission, but the proceeds of all tickets sold at the box office of the theatre on the night of the performance go to the theatre.

The movie to be presented is "Only the Brave" featuring Gary Cooper and Mary Brian.

The band members and their director, Prof. E. C. Moore, have asked the Post-Crescent to express their thanks to all those who donated money to the Appleton Post-Crescent subscription fund for the band members' trip to Washington, and to all those who purchased movie tickets.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS ON BIKE HIKE TODAY

Members of the boys department of the Y. M. C. A. went on a bicycle hike to High Cliff Wednesday morning and returned late in the afternoon. The hike was planned by C. C. Bailey, boys' secretary of the association. The boys all took food along with them and prepared a meal at noon.

BUILDING PERMITS

Four building permits were issued Tuesday by John N. Weiland, building inspector. They were granted to Edward Munster, 1120 N. Durkee st., glass porch, cost $200; H. Russell, 114 S. Meade, one car garage, cost $300; Irving Zuehlke, 103 W. College-ave, store and office building, cost $250,000; and E. F. Miller, 1625 Ravinapl, residence and garage, cost $5,000.

OSBORN CO-OP CHEESE GROUP IS DISSOLVED

The North Osborn Cooperative Butter and Cheese company, town of Osborn, has been dissolved, according to papers filed Tuesday with A. G. Koch, register of deeds. This company had been capitalized for $4,000 which consisted of 400 shares of stock of $100 par value each. Adolph B. Miller was president of the company and Irvin Schmidt was secretary.

A Canadian paper complains that too many magazines are imported from the United States. Probably is a strain on the government's transportation facilities being Sat. Eve. tests to the provinces.

START DECORATING FOR VETERANS' CONVENTION

Decorations for the approaching convention of the Spanish War veterans are in the process of erection now. The plans, as outlined by the H. W. Lewis company, which has charge of the work, will include, in addition to the store front decoration, trim for all the "white way" poles, with special design arrangements at the intersections. The decorations are expected to be completed by next Monday.

EMBER UNDERGOES 1ST OF TWO OPERATIONS

Charles Emler, vice president and manager of the Conway hotel, submitted to an operation at Colonial hospital, Rochester, Minn., on Tuesday. His condition immediately following the operation, which is the first of two to be performed within the next 10 days, was reported as favorable.

NEED FOR ADVERTISING SHOWN BY CENSUS

Roger Babson Says March of Population Is Continually Opening New Markets—Advocates Ceaseless Advertising

Ceaseless advertising by American manufacturers is necessary to sell their products to the 7,000 new customers represented by the daily population increase, says Roger W. Babson, noted economist and statistician. This great growth means a new national market of 2,500,000 prospective customers each year to which the American manufacturer must tell his story and sell his product. "And to this great mass, advertising is the only way," Mr. Babson said June 7 in an interview with Stungis Insurance, president of Doran, Sullivan & Co., of New York.

"Because 120 is a census year it is interesting to speculate what the census statistics will tell us about advertising as a force in American business. Merely for the purpose of illustration let us project the trend of former years and assume that the 1930 data will indicate that the United States as a market is increasing at the rate of 7,000 new customers per day.

"Every day 7,000 customers to whom your goods are absolutely unknown. Every day 7,000 people with whom you must start all over again, and tell them your story and teach them to use your product. It has always seemed to me that this is the greatest argument in the world for ceaseless advertising. You are not addressing a stationary audience, a fixed assembly, but you are talking to a passing procession.

"The census, although advertising is immeasurably its statistic, it is a continually moving target. Last year's figures show that a period of good business is marked by enlarged advertising and that a period of poor business is marked by curtailed advertising."

"Bond holdings kept well diversified as to industry, service, locality, type and maturity, etc., will build up a strong investment account."

Cannon Dares Tinkham To Waive Immunity Of Office

HINTS LIBEL SUIT IF WAY IS NOT BARRED

Bishop Challenges Congressman To Make Statement On Floor Of House

Washington—(P)—Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, who was challenged by Bishop Cannon today to repeat his charges against the dry leader in a way which would make him subject to prosecution for libel.

Speaking in the house, Tinkham late yesterday said the southern churchman "will stand convicted in the eyes of all honest men of having appropriated to his own use money given to the anti-saloon league."

This assertion was made after he had reviewed Cannon's refusal to let the senate lobby committee of the disbursement of $48,300 given him by E. C. Jameson of New York, to promote the Hoover cause in the south.

Passing through Louisville, Ky., last night, Cannon read of Tinkham's statement in the newspapers and immediately dispatched the following telegram to Washington:

"When Congressman Tinkham shall give to the press over his personal signature the statements reported by the press as made by him today on the floor of the house of representatives, where he is immune from prosecution for libelous statements, he may command the respect of honorable men. But making such statements on the floor of the house where he knows his immunity from prosecution brands him as a blustering cowardly congressman appealing especially to his wet Roman Catholic Boston voters to retain him in office."

QUESTION OF FUND

Before the lobby committee Jameson testified he gave Cannon $65,800. Of this amount the bishop reported the expenditure of $17,000. Later he contended the remainder was expended in a manner which made it unnecessary that a report be filed.

Tinkham appeared before the committee and charged Cannon with a violation of the corrupt practices law through his failure to report the entire sum, an assertion which he repeated yesterday.

Cannon repeatedly refused to answer questions on his political activities when before the committee and contended such an examination lay outside the committee's authority. On this point he was upheld by a majority of the committee.

A report on the Cannon episode was prepared for introduction today by the committee chairman, Charles W. Clegg of Arkansas. It consisted only of the transcript of the bishop's testimony and contained no recommendations for action against him.

SCHOOLS SUPPORTED IN CITY BY BOOTLEG FINES

Couer d'Alene, Idaho—(P)—Testimony in the trial of 43 Wallace, Idaho, alleged "rum ratchets" in progress here, has indicated that education in that mining town thrived chiefly by virtue of fines assessed against bootleggers, gambling den operators and proprietors of questionable resorts.

L. L. Leighty, 70-year-old city clerk of Wallace, testifying yesterday, said half the money the government seeks to prove was collected as a "tax" from law violators went to the school district.

Among the 43 persons included in federal indictments which charged that fines were imposed upon several types of law violators to bolster Wallace's municipal revenues are Mayor Herman J. Rossi, former Mayor V. H. Herrick, former Sheriff R. E. Weniger, Chief of Police J. W. Bailey.

Leighty testified that between April, 1927, and May, 1928, nearly $7,000 was collected by the city under the ruse of fining bootleggers and others.

CHICAGO'S PER CAPITA MURDER RATE NOT HIGH

Milwaukee—(P)—Chicago today has fewer slayings per capita than any other city of comparable size in the United States, Sias Strawn, vice president of the National Chamber of Commerce, and the "man who refinanced Chicago," told delegates attending the National Editorial association convention.

Speaking to the delegates and the Milwaukee Rotary club yesterday, Strawn said Chicago got its bad name mostly because of unfavorable newspaper stories.

"As a matter of fact, there were but nine murders per 100,000 persons in Chicago last year," he said, "as compared to 25 per 100,000 in Detroit."

SAYS WIFE PAINTED EYE AND BLAMED HIM FOR IT

Milwaukee—(P)—Fred Helz today sought to reopen his divorce case, mainly, he said, because the black eye his wife, Florence, displayed as grounds of cruelty to win her decree was not so black as painted.

Fred's mother testified the black eye was Florence's fault.

"My son did not give her the black eye," she testified. "I saw her paint it black."

MILWAUKEE POLICE HUNT "RIDE" VICTIM

Milwaukee—(P)—Police today searched for Tony Bouczer, 28, believed to be Milwaukee's first "ride" victim. Bouczer's first missing was reported June 13. Neighbors said they heard a quarrel outside his home, a terrified scream from him, and the roar of an automobile speeding away. There were several men in the car, and the car was a 1935 Ford.

He expressed great pride in the vote given him by his neighbors in Englewood.

Despite the overwhelming defeat of Fort, Dr. James K. Shields, superintendent of the anti-saloon league said, "the Anti-Saloon league is still in the fight and we are here to stay. We thought he would make a better showing than that."

Morrow opened his campaign May 15 with an address to which he declared that if elected he would be prepared to vote for a resolution submitting to the states a constitutional amendment which would restore to the states the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic, he said.

CZAR'S JEWELS TO BE PUT ON DISPLAY

Funds to Be Used to Help Finance 5-year Industrialization Plant

(Associated Press Correspondent)

Moscow—(P)—To aid in attracting tourists to Russia and to gain money for purchase of machinery in pursuance of the five year industrialization plan, the soviet government is being urged to put on public display the $264,000,000 collection of Russian crown jewels.

Opponents of the plan assert, however, that the cost of maintaining the necessary guards would exceed any revenue that might be collected.

At present only foreign visitors whose standing entitles them to special consideration by the soviet government are permitted to view this Aladdin's storehouse. But recently the privilege was extended to half a dozen American newspaper correspondents.

The gems are kept in a huge steel barred cage in the State Bank here. This cage is wired so that any tampering with it or its contents is signalled to the bank and to the police.

When the newspapers were admitted the dazzling array of jewels were strewn about on tables. The visitors were free to pick up and examine each object, but they did so under the keen eyed scrutiny of a dozen functionaries.

Transcending all other items in the collection is the enormous mitre-like crown worn by Catherine The Great. It is larger than a man's derby hat, contains 5,000 diamonds weighing 3,000 carats and is valued by the soviet government at $52,000,000.

Next in value comes the imperial sceptre. It is priced at $32,000,000 and contains the Orloff diamond, weighing 195 carats and as big as a hen's egg.

Then there is the unpolished Shah diamond of 96 carats bearing Arabic inscriptions of the 16th century. It used to hang above the Persian throne, but was given to the Russian czar of a hundred years ago to prevent an attack upon Persia in reprisal for the assassination of the Russian ambassador to Persia.

The tragic note of the whole collection is epitomized in a child's rattle and whistle of pure gold, encrusted with diamonds and rubies. It belonged to the czar's daughter, who was killed by her parents and sisters was butchered at Ekaterinburg in June, 1918.

The government would like to convert the whole collection into cash. But it refuses to break up any of the pieces and thus far no individual or museum has been found in position to pay the staggering prices.

DEATHS

MRS. DORA LOOSE

Mrs. Dora Loose, Kohler, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Ridge, Kohler, after an illness of two weeks. Survivors are: one daughter, Mrs. Broz, Kohler; three sons, Theodore Loose, Appleton; William, Westfield; and Louis, Kohler; and 16 grandchildren. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning from the Broz residence with the Rev. E. A. Katterhenry, of Grace Reformed church, Kohler, officiating. Burial will be at New Holstein.

The government would like to convert the whole collection into cash. But it refuses to break up any of the pieces and thus far no individual or museum has been found in position to pay the staggering prices.

Believe Farm Products To Bring Wealth To South

Tuskegee, Ala.—(P)—Two humble farm products, the goober and the yam, stand ready to heap riches on Dixie agriculture.

All they need is the helping hand of industry, says Dr. George W. Carver, negro scientist of Tuskegee institute, who has done more with the peanut and sweet potato than any other man.

He has found 200 uses for the peanut and more than 100 for the sweet potato.

Dr. Carver has found that the goober and yam can be used by many industries that now rely on other raw materials.

From the peanut he has extracted products ranging from oils and pharmaceutical preparations to paper, ink, rubber and even synthetic milk and cream.

His peanut list also includes pickles, 17 kinds of wood stains, axle grease, dyes for cloth, synthetic lard, linoleum, breakfast and stock feeds, 200 uses for the peanut and more than 100 for the sweet potato.

Dr. Carver has found that the goober and yam can be used by many industries that now rely on other raw materials.

have not reached a final solution of a world old problem by the present eighteenth amendment.

"I look to the time when the moral teachers of the country will realize that in the battle for a great social reform there was wisdom in the old system of experimenting in 48 laboratories rather than in one."

During his campaign he visited every county in the state but made only three prepared addresses. One of these was devoted to a discussion of the London naval treaty which he helped draw up as a delegate to the recent London conference. He urged ratification of the treaty both as a peace move and as a guide to naval construction.

The prohibition party nominated Dr. James Gilbert Mason for the long term and Miss Esther H. Elford for the short term. Henry Jager was named by the Socialist party for the third term.

Fort was formerly secretary of the Republican National committee. He has been a fishing companion of President Hoover and was leader of the floor forces which nominated the president at the 1928 convention.

At a campaign meeting Morrow was praised as presidential timber by Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university, and by former Gov. Edward C. Stokes. Twice statements were issued from the White House denying that President Hoover favored a particular candidate.

Morrow, an Amherst classmate of Calvin Coolidge and a lawyer was a partner of J. P. Morgan and Company before being appointed ambassador to Mexico by Coolidge in 1927. He is the father-in-law of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

HAS HOOVER SUPPORT

Washington—(P)—Confidence that Ambassador Morrow would be the next senator from New Jersey was expressed at the White House today on behalf of President Hoover.

"The White House will give every possible support to the Republican nominee for the senate from New Jersey," the statement said. "The president and the administration have every confidence that Mr. Dwight Morrow will be the next senator from New Jersey."

It was emphasized that this was the only comment which would be forthcoming from the White House on the results of the primary which nominated Mr. Morrow.

per hour passed and the members of his family had not returned home. He decided to drive toward Dundas to look for them. He came upon the scene of the accident in time to see the two children and his wife before they were taken to the hospital.

Only a year ago, another son of the Reiter's, Norman, was killed in an automobile accident at Oshkosh.

The sister of Fries, whose family is socially prominent in Erie, was married Tuesday. Fries' body was to be taken to Erie tonight where funeral services are to be held. He is survived by his widow, two small children, his parents and a sister.

Fries attended the Catholic University of America at Washington, D. C., and also Niagara university at Niagara.

Mr. Klemmer has lived at West Allis for 30 years while his wife formerly lived at Ripon. The bodies of the pair were to be sent to West Allis today where funeral services are to be held.

Funeral arrangements for the Reiter boy have not yet been arranged.

CHOIR DIRECTOR TO HOLD REHEARSAL HERE

Milton Detgen, Manitowish Maestersinger choir director, will be in Appleton Thursday evening to conduct a rehearsal for the mass male choir concert to be given on July 13, in conjunction with the convention of the East Wisconsin Saenger Bezirks in Manitowish July 11, 12, and 13.

The Appleton group will send delegates from the Appleton Maestrenchor and the mixed choir. These two groups are under the direction of Professor A. J. Theiss, and the Maestrenchor will appear under his direction in a concert on Saturday night, July 12. About 14 or 15 organizations will take part in the convention.

The current film favorite of the 3000 convicts, of course, is Joan Marie Lawes.

"It's natural enough," declared her father, "that Cherie should have much of the police of an adult. She associated with grownups before she knew other children, and now she likes the company of an older person better than that of her schoolmates."

"You ought to see the matter-of-fact way she walks into board meetings, to meet prominent visitors who come here. Cherie has a hard time believing that the inmates of the prison are really bad people. Instead of warning her moral attitude, as some people have suggested, I find that the associations have left her with the much healthier knack of discovering the good things about everybody."

CHERIE NO SQUEALER

"She has absorbed the prison code of honor, and lives by it. She hates a squealer or a rat, and the men know she's no spy. Cherie wouldn't even tell me about things she sees going on in the prison."

When Githens and his staff were filming "A Day in Sing Sing" they found 8-year-old Cherie, instead of the principal keeper or the warden, was the one who could best select the convict characters and persuade them to act for the pictures. Within a few days she had established herself as a sort of assistant director and followed them everywhere about the grounds. So when the new picture was scheduled for production in Hollywood, Cherie was rewarded with a fat contract.

WARDEN'S LITTLE DAUGHTER GIVEN ROLE IN MOVIES

Born and Reared in Prison, 8-year-old Girl is on Way to Hollywood

BY PAUL HARRISON

Ossining, N. Y.—Joan Marie Lawes is as happy as any 8-year-old girl would be upon becoming a real motion picture actress, with a leading character part in a regular contract and everything. There'll be the trip to Hollywood, and the thrill of working on location, and the chance she always has wanted to meet her favorite stars. But best of all, there'll be so many exciting things to tell her friends in Sing Sing prison when she returns from the cinema city to resume her life behind the bars.

Joan Marie—though you'd better call her "Cherie"—is the youngest daughter of Warden Lewis J. Ziegl. She was born inside the prison's grim walls, and ever since she could toddle, the entire institution has been her playground. Aside from her schoolmates at Ossining Seminary, who regard with awe this strangely old and self-assured little girl, Cherie's only friends and playmates have been the guards, their prisoners, and the convict-servants in her father's home.

Because she so thoroughly knows prison life, and because her face and voice and sparkling personality register so well in the talkies, and partly, of course, because she is the daughter of a nationally known personality, Cherie is going to play in a film of prison life called "Up the River." She was chosen by the Fox people, whom she materially aided when William Githens recently filmed a short picture at the penitentiary called "A Day in Sing Sing."

LEAVES GLOOM BEHIND

So Cherie has gone to Hollywood taking with her many little gifts and scrawled letters and the memory of gruffly whispered best wishes from the men in the "big house." But behind her she left a much deeper aura of gloom than usually hovers over the place. Men in the shops and the yards no longer look up eagerly to see her wander among them, to dash past on her pony with a wave and a cheerful greeting. The guards are lonely without Cherie to talk to them, or ask about their children.

And there are men in the death house who never will see her again. Warden Lawes has three daughters, one attending the University of Vermont, another at Cornell, and Cherie. "But the youngster," he said, "is the only one who ever had the run of the place."

"She goes into the jail, all about the grounds, even into the condemned cells. All the men know her, and she knows most of them. Safe? Don't be silly. She's safer with these murderers and thugs and kidnapers than she would be on a city street. They love her, don't you see? She means something real to them. The man who lifted a finger against her wouldn't live ten minutes."

BANDIT WAS HER GUARDIAN

"We went to the coast one time and left Cherie here—the only person not a prisoner who was sleeping within the walls. Her nurse was a former stick-up man who wouldn't let her out of his sight."

Cherie has a pony named Beauty, and a man assigned to care for it and to drive her about the grounds. Her first servant was a convicted murderer, the second a man who already had served 20 years for kidnapping. Both are dead now, and she has another devoted attendant who is serving 20 years to life for murder.

Especially is she idolized by the warden's house servants, whom she orders about with queenly mien. "Yes," she said, "they're nice to me. But it isn't because they know that if I put a finger on them they'd get the bounce."

"I've got them to teach me some words of Japanese, and a little French, and even some Jewish. And they play with me—tennis and things like that."

"These burglars, though, are all terrible tennis players."

Cherie skates and swims and rides astride, tumbles and tap-dances and prompettes on her toes. She loves the movies, and never misses a show at the prison. Nancy Carroll and Buddy Rogers are her favorite stars, and she's very fond of the way Helen Kane sings.

The current film favorite of the 3000 convicts, of course, is Joan Marie Lawes.

"It's natural enough," declared her father, "that Cherie should have much of the police of an adult. She associated with grownups before she knew other children, and now she likes the company of an older person better than that of her schoolmates."

"You ought to see the matter-of-fact way she walks into board meetings, to meet prominent visitors who come here. ## ADVERTISING CLUB HAS ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual picnic and outing of the Appleton Advertising club, held yesterday at Strobs Island, was attended by about 40 members. After a baseball game, played in the afternoon between members of the club, a supper was served on the lawn. The committee in charge of the arrangements was made up of J. E. Murphy, Earl Wichman, and Leo Balaban.

URGES ADOPTION OF AMENDMENT IN RIVER-HARBOR BILL

Ohio Senator Backs Blaine Measure

Washington—(P)—The senate resumed consideration of the rivers and harbors bill today with Senator McCulloch, Republican, Ohio, urging adoption of the controversial Blaine amendment to limit use of water from the Great Lakes for the Illinois waterways project.

Senator Densen, Republican, Illinois, was ready to carry on the contest for the Illinois Waterways project today in a speech against the Blaine amendment.

Leaders were hopeful of getting a vote by tomorrow, at the latest, on the Blaine amendment.

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, contends the language of the house bill would permit an excessive drainage of water from Lake Michigan to the detriment of the other Great Lakes states.

This is the lone issue to be settled in the vast rivers and harbors measure and with its settlement an early vote on the bill is expected.

Neither side was making claims today on the outcome but leaders understood that both were agreeable to permitting the Blaine amendment to come to a vote, thus avoiding any filibuster.

FAIR AND WARMER, SAYS WEATHERMAN

The prediction for Wisconsin weather is generally fair tonight and Thursday and slightly warmer Thursday.

Variable winds over Lake Michigan have succeeded in keeping the clouds hanging threateningly low over northeastern Wisconsin for the last few days, though the precipitation has been practically negligible.

The sun hidden from sight by the clouds has not had an opportunity to raise the temperature to the June normal. This morning at 6 o'clock the mercury read 53 degrees above zero, while at noon it had risen to 63 degrees.

CHURCH TO OBSERVE CORPUS CHRISTI FEAST

With about 15 visiting clergymen, the feast of Corpus Christi will be observed out of doors at Little Chute Thursday evening. The Rev. Theodore Verbeet, of St. John church will be in charge of the service.

Church members will assemble at St. John church at 7 o'clock and travel in a procession to the four outdoor altars erected in the city. Two of the altars are on Vandenberg-st. and two on Grand-ave. Benediction will be said at each of the altars, the choir will sing, and the band will play. After the procession the group will return to the church, where benediction will be said.

The line of march will be the flag and the cross, school children and Sisters of St. John school, women who are not in the church societies, St. Agnes sodality, Young Ladies sodality, St. Elizabeth society, band, children strewing flowers, members of clergy and servers, the Blessed Sacrament and the Holy Name society. All members of the parish are expected to be in the procession.

ATLANTIC COAST RAIL LINES AGAIN INVESTORS' FAVOR

Company Operates Over 5,000 Miles Of Road In Southeastern Parts

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
New York—Operating over 5,000 miles of road in the southeastern section of the United States, Atlantic Coast Line has long been in high favor with investors both as to its bonds and to its common stock. All of the bonds sell on a low yield basis and all of them are railroad investments of the highest grade. The only one that needs any special mention is the 4 per cent issue of 1927 which is secured by deposit of Louisville and Nashville stock. Should the parent road at some future time desire to free this stock from the lien it would be necessary to call the bonds at the redemption price of 105 and this possibility has at times given the bond a mild speculative attraction.

There is a negligible amount of 5 per cent preferred stock outstanding but the only public interest attaches to the $100 par common. On this the present dividend rate is 7 per cent annually with, in recent years, extras that brought the total amount up to 10 per cent. If it be admitted that this $10 dividend is to be continued the stock sold first half of 1930 to give a higher return than other railroad stock of comparable grade.

The reason for this comparatively low price is of course the falling off in earnings which the Atlantic Coast Line has suffered in common with other railroads serving the southeast. On the year's earnings to date the indicated net available for the stock is not much more than dividend requirements. There may be a revision upward when car loadings improve as they must do it and when business in that section recovers but meanwhile there is enough doubt about the time element to make investors hesitate.

Atlantic Coast Line made its record profits during the Florida boom in 1925 and 1926 and in the former year the stock sold at a record high of 268. In the great market collapse last November it came down to 161. The range this year has been relatively small because the stock is closely held, the floating supply is not large and it has never been a speculative favorite. Its market price therefore ought to reflect rather closely the changes in the industrial outlook.

No analysis of Coast Line would be complete without reference to its ownership of 51 per cent of the stock

Post-Crescent, County Farm Department Plan Contest For 4-H Club Members

Details of a new contest, sponsored by the Appleton Post-Crescent and the county agricultural department, are announced today.

The contest, with cash prizes each month for four months, is designed to stimulate 4-H club members to do their best in all 4-H's, to facilitate the exchange of 4-H ideas and helps, and to let other people know what 4-H club folks are doing.

Every regularly organized 4-H club in the county will be eligible. In order to enter each club must elect a reporter and send the name of the reporter to the office of Gus Sell, county agent. The contest will be conducted during the months of June, July, August and September. Cash prizes totaling $24 will be given during the period. Each month of Louisville and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis. Both of these properties are very valuable and non-regional dividend Atlantic Coast line stockholders received in December 1926 rights to subscribe to new shares at par, which rights it sold gave an additional income ranging from $15.50 to $18.25 a share.

prizes of $3, $2 and $1 will be awarded.

Entries in the contest, which will consist of news reports on regular meetings, the monthly summary reports of the group and monthly summary reports of all activities, must be submitted to Mr. Sell's office. Judging will be done by members of the Post-Crescent staff and Mr. Sell's office.

The clubs will be graded as follows: 35 points on regular meetings; 30 points on other group activities; 20 points on the news reports of each meeting and activity; and 15 points on the monthly summary activities.

HERE ARE POINTS

The points for regular meetings are separated as follows: 10 points for the program. If it includes project work or study, demonstration or other literary, recreation or health project; and 10 points for originality and variety in program.

The points for other group activities are divided as follows: 10 points for special meetings, such as parent's day, project or inspection tours and others; public demonstrations; 5; local 4-H fairs; 5; participation in community activities; 5; and participation in 4-H camp, 5.

The news points are available as follows: promptness in sending in reports, 5; writing complete accounts which answers the questions: Who? What? Where? Why? and How?, 5 points; reports on members' work or news on progress of projects, 5; composition and neatness, 5 points.

Points to be given on monthly summary are as follows: completeness, promptness and clearness. All monthly reports must reach Mr. Sell's office not later than the tenth of the month following. That is, reports for June must be in by July 10; reports for July by Aug. 10, etc. Prize winners each month are to be announced as soon after the tenth of the month as it is possible to make selections.

Mr. Sell and Miss Harriet Thompson, county home demonstration agent, are urging the 4-H clubs to enter this contest because they believe that it will make for more activity among the clubs.

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury in an automobile collision.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days, before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancaes road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.

TRACE RUMORS AFLOAT ABOUT JAKE LINGLE

Chicago Tribune To Carry Probe To End, Regardless Of Results

Chicago, (AP)—The Tribune today editorially took cognizance of various sinister rumors that have circulated since the murder of its police reporter, Alfred (Jake) Lingle nine days ago, and at the same time it pledged itself to pursue the inquiry to the end, "no matter where it may lead."

"Recent rumors have arisen regarding Mr. Lingle's relations with gangsters," the Tribune said. "It has been said that he was, in one fashion or another, an ally and that he was killed for violating in some manner that code of gangdom."

"In justice to the memory of Mr. Lingle, we can say that during his lifetime Mr. Lingle's honor was not questioned by the editor of the Tribune. Furthermore, every rumor, however unlikely its foundation, is being investigated."

"The Tribune does not know why its reporter was killed. It is engaged in finding out, and expects to be successful."

The joint job of solving the Lingle murder and driving gangsters from Chicago was concentrated today in the hands of State's Attorney John A. Swanson, directing the grand jury investigation, and John H. Alcock, acting commissioner of police. There was uncertainty as to whether Alcock was to be retained in temporary command of the police, but his status was expected to be clearer following today's meeting of the city council.

Mayor William Hale Thompson has given no indication of what he has in mind in connection with the police commissionership.

Alderman Arthur F. Albert, who was prominent among council members in demanding the resignation of Russell as commissioner and John Stego as chief of detectives, had prepared a new resolution for the council today.

"What we should determine is how it has been possible for organized criminal gangs to have built up an oligarchy in this community under the noses of the state's attorney and the police," he said. "I propose that we call on the captains and deputy commissioners and other police officials to know something about gambling and vice."

ANNOUNCE APPROACHING MARX-THIEL WEDDING

Special to Post-Crescent.

Hilbert—Announcement was made at St. John's church Sunday of the approaching marriage of Miss Rose Marx, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert, to Mr. John Thiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thiel, of St. John.

Wall Street, New York—(CPA)—
In looking about today for some development, other than a technical market condition, that would bring about a rally in stocks, Wall Street found some basis for it in the relatively high income return on standard shares that has been produced during the readjustment of market values to a change in business prospects.

This necessitates careful selection of stocks whose dividends are not likely to be affected by current conditions, or else those whose dividends will probably be reduced, but in which purchases are being recom-

STORM BREWS OVER ANTARCTIC CLAIMS AS BYRD RETURNS

Increasingly Important Question Of Polar Sovereignty Is Revived

BY MILTON BRONNER
London — When Rear Admiral Byrd returns to the United States, he is likely to find himself in the center of an antarctic storm — of diplomatic friction between great nations. For the seemingly worthless regions of eternal snow and ice, mountains and glaciers which he triumphantly explored have turned out to be highly desired territory.

So John Bull is squinting suspiciously at Uncle Sam and Norway is looking jealously at both. Meanwhile the British self-governing dominions of Australia and New Zealand are preparing to have their say in the matter.

The plateau and peaks of the antarctic may be stuffed with coal, gold and other valuable materials, or they may not. If they should contain these good things, there are various countries, America among them, ready to stake out their claims.

But the hardy Norwegians are not speculating on the potentialities of the land. They are interested in the sea activities, for they are today the greatest seal and whale fishers in the world. They have a vital economic interest in the antarctic islands and coast of the continent, whatever the future inland developments may be. Quietly, but none the less steadily, they are making themselves the pioneers of polar imperialism.

OCCUPY ISLANDS
In the north they have succeeded in getting recognition of their claims to Spitzbergen, which they call Island. They have annexed the island called Jan Mayen and are claiming the fringes of East Greenland. In the last quarter century, since they turned their attention to the antarctic, the Norwegians have established camps and factories on many barren southern islands. They also have whaling ships which are veritable floating factories.

Norway began its south polar campaign of imperialism by persuading the British government to recognize its claim to Bouvet Island in the South Atlantic. Then it turned its attention to the continent itself.

Just the imperial conference in London in 1926, vast areas were mentioned "to which British title already exists by virtue of discovery."

In this addition to earlier British claims to the Falkland Islands Dependencies (1908), and the Ross Dependency (1923), include nearly all of the continent. The latter areas are sectors extending to the pole and it is assumed that the other "lands," such as Enderby, Kemp, Queen Mary, Wilkes and Oates Land, also are intended to extend from the coast to the pole. Byrd's sovereignty over these sectors, however, never has been officially recognized by either the United States or Norway.

U. S. CAN MAKE CLAIMS
It has been argued that the United States can claim all of Wilkes Land, since it first was explored by Charles Wilkes of the U. S. Navy in 1840. A counter claim also might be made to the Falkland Islands Dependencies. Palmer Land, in this area, was discovered by Nathaniel Palmer, also of the U. S. Navy, in 1820.

Two discoveries in a hitherto unexplored area were made by Admiral Byrd. These he named Rockefeller Range and Marie Byrd Land. Since the latter lies outside the Ross Dependency, it was claimed for the United States. The claim is believed to have been strengthened by the fact that Byrd discovered a stretch of coast outside British-claimed territory from which Marie Byrd Land can be reached directly.

Two things recently concentrated British attention upon America's probable claims:

When Admiral Byrd was incorrectly quoted from New Zealand as saying that he did not intend to claim any antarctic territory, the state department promptly repudiated the report.

America admitted Byrd's films to the United States on the ground that they were not goods imported from a foreign country.

"What could this mean," say the British, "if it does not show that the United States looks upon the lands where Byrd lived for so many months as American territory?"

HAVE STRATEGIC INTERESTS
At once, some murmurs were heard. It was not so much the possible value of the lands themselves; it was not so much the valuable fishing rights in those waters. What disturbed the man who presides over the destinies of the British Empire was the possible, if improbable, fact that the south polar regions might be used as strategic points from which to threaten Australia and New Zealand.

The British sum up the situation as follows:

Australia and New Zealand have vital strategic interests at stake. Norway has powerful economic ones.

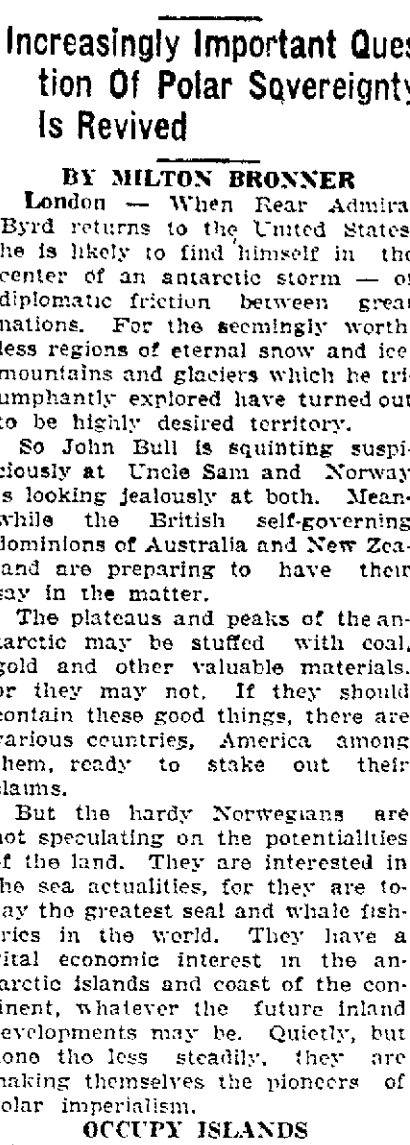

The United States and Great Britain are involved only on the standpoint of potential resources and international prestige.

Wherefore, the suggestion has been seriously put forth that an international conference should be held and that the entire antarctic should be made mandated territory, to be administered by Denmark. The little Scandinavian state is indicated because of its kindly, capable government of the Eskimo tribes in Greenland is said to be a model for the whole world.

Bebe Daniels Becomes Bride

Bebe Daniels often has worn a bridal gown as the culmination of movie romances, but this was the first time it really meant anything to her. The picture shows Bebe with her new husband, Ben Lyon, and the latter's mother, Mrs. A. V. Lyon, as they appeared after the wedding ceremony, an outstanding event of the season in Hollywood.

Small Army And Tear Gas Needed To Arrest Woman

Chicago—(CP)—They arrested Mrs. Carmel Czarnicki yesterday, and that was considerable.

Mrs. Czarnicki was in the bath when four policemen arrived. They pounded on the door and she called down to them "musically as to her status, and the officers agreed to wait."

They were lounging about the porch nonchalantly. They had a warrant that resulted from an argument Mrs. Czarnicki had had with a neighbor whose name, for purposes of accuracy and truth, is hereby set down: Mrs. Hattie Venkatesch.

Mrs. Czarnicki completed her bath.

Manitowoc—(CP)—Chief of Police Thad Logan of Two Rivers, and his brother, the former Hennepin Schubert, Kenosha, today were on a 10-day honeymoon in Canada. They were married at St. Boniface church here yesterday.

Houghton, Mich.—(CP)—When their boat overturned on Sturgeon river near Houghton yesterday, Fred Blaine, 56, and Michael Blaine, 20, drowned. Two other men escaped.

Milwaukee—(CP)—John Wattle, 26, Negro, today was to stand a sentence of life imprisonment for the slaying of his estranged wife on May 27.

Janesville—(CP)—The Rock board of supervisors yesterday approved a highway and maintenance program that calls for a expenditure of more than $1,000,000 during the next four years. Among projects approved were paving of Highway 32, 141 and 40.

Marquette—(CP)—Lucille Rouse, 16, drowned yesterday while fishing in a small creek near Lena. The body was discovered in shallow water by members of the county fire department when she failed to return to the farm home for dinner.

Sheboygan—(CP)—Harold Arpie, 27, today had a appointment to succeed his father, the late Dr. H. A. Arpie, as head of the county insane asylum.

EUROPEANS GET CHEAP PORK CHOPS IN MOROCCO

Casablanca, Morocco—(AP)—Religion, finance and pork have been mixed to create a situation here which results in Europeans throughout North Africa enjoying cheap chops.

Nine-tenths of the population is Mohammedan, and the Koran forbids the faithful to eat pork. The Koran says nothing about raising pork. Hogs were therefore popular in every baryard. The chief market for them was Spain.

The crash of the peseta prevented the Spanish from buying, and this created an even greater crash in the local price. Pork chops have been sold at 12 cents a pound.

WANT SUGGESTIONS FOR JULY 4 FETE

American Legion Committee Calls General Meeting Thursday Night

A general meeting of all Appleton people interested in the proposed July 4 celebration at Erb park to be sponsored by Onece Johnston post of the American Legion, has been called for 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the city hall by Charles Sparling, general chairman of the legion committee in charge.

The veterans have elaborate plans for the independence day celebration but still are seeking suggestions from legionnaires and from townpeople. The plan is to make the celebration the largest ever held here and cooperation of all groups and individuals is being asked.

Last year's celebration was featured by an "old-time" outing and picnic and attracted thousands of persons from all over the valley. The same opportunity is being offered for a picnic and outing this year with a few added attractions.

Among the events to be staged are a horse show featuring riders from

PARTIES

A reception in honor of Miss Rose Ann Marshall will be held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Marshall, 218 N. Drew-st., Sunday, June 23, not this Sunday as announced in Tuesday's paper. The engagement of Miss Marshall to Keith Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Baker, Oshkosh, was announced yesterday.

Mrs. Marshall, who was graduated this spring from the Chicago Kindergarten school, will teach at Franklin school next year.

Mrs. George Wettengel, Alton-st., entertained at a luncheon and bridge Saturday at her home in honor of Miss Mabel Wolter, whose marriage to Ezbon Torrey took place Wednesday noon. Covers were laid for eight guests. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. J. L. Johns, Mrs. Max Goers and Mrs. Arthur Kuchmsted.

Twelve members of a club were entertained at dinner Tuesday at Candio Glow tea room as the final function of the group for the summer months. Games were played after the dinner, prizes being awarded to Mrs. Arthur Schroeder, Mrs. Elizabeth Burmeister, Mrs. Elmer Schabo, and Mrs. A. Schabo. The meetings will be resumed in the fall.

Miss Margaret Heutle and Miss Helen Winkel entertained at dinner and bridge Tuesday in the Green room of Conway hotel. Covers were laid for eight guests. Prizes at bridge were won by Miss Anita Boese, Miss Alice Jensen, and Miss Dorothy Nooyen. Other guests included Miss Marie Palzer, Miss Katherine Lammond, and Miss Mary Schreiter.

Carl Hoffman was guest of honor at supper Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Werner, 3313 W. Eighth-st., given by members of the F. F. S. club. Games and music provided the entertainment. Members of the club and their families were guests. Mr. Hoffman who was graduated from Lawrence college this year, will leave Friday for the summer course at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He will teach in Michigan in the fall.

AGREEABLE A fat woman elbowed her way through the crowd, jabbing first one person and then another. Finally she gave one near-by man an unusually hard thump and asked, "I say, does it make any difference which ear I take to Greenwood Cemetery?" "Not to me, madam," he replied. —Tit-Bits.

SLIPPERY Mr. Jones was going to town, so his wife asked him to call at the grocer's and order a pound of butter, two pounds of lard, and three gallons of oil. "All right," said Jones, "but I'm sure all those greasy things will slip my mind." —Tit-Bits.

WHAT EXAGGERATION! "So you don't think Mrs. Meier tells the truth?" "She lies to such an extent that you can't even believe the opposite of what she says." —Hummel, Hamburg.

PARTICULAR There was great excitement aboard the liner. "Man overboard!" was the cry. "Gentleman overboard, if you please," said Mrs. De Snobbe. "That's my husband." —Tit-Bits.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Mabel Florence Wolter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Charles Wolter, 1301 W. Spencer-st., and Ezbon Sharpe Torrey, 838 E. Eldorado-st., took place Wednesday noon at First Methodist church, with Dr. J. A. Holmes performing the ceremony. Miss Freda Koppin presided at the organ. Mrs. Robert K. Wolter, Appleton, was matron of honor, and Fred Torrey, Hortonville, acted as best man. Kirtland Wolter attended as ring bearer. The church was decorated with large baskets of pink and white peonies. A wedding breakfast was served to 15 guests at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Torrey will leave on a trip to the western part of Wisconsin and Minnesota and on their return will reside at 838 E. Eldorado-st. Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Torrey, Hortonville.

The marriage of Miss Marie Karsseboom, city nurse, to Dr. Vernon Spaeth of Chippewa Falls, which took place at Minneapolis on May 31, has been announced. Mrs. Spaeth will continue her work as city nurse until Sept. 1, and then join her husband at Chippewa Falls, where he has been practicing for the past three years. Dr. Spaeth is a graduate of the Marquette dental school.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reels, Green Bay, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Milford J. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Taylor, 217 N. Catherine-st., on June 16 at Green Lutheran church, Green Bay. The Rev. L. F. Gast performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will make their home in Green Bay where the bridegroom is employed at the Hoberg Paper company.

PICNICS

A picnic at High Cliff entertained the Appleton Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday night. A picnic supper was served after which a marshmallow roast took place. Twenty-seven members were present. Plans were made for the next meeting which will be in the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Emmeline Gronner, Hancock-st., third Tuesday in July. Mrs. Gronner will be chairman of the committee in charge.

About 3,000 people attended the annual Sunday school and parish picnic of Zion Lutheran church Sunday at Pierce park. This year the attendance exceeded that of last year. Services in both German and English were held in the morning and dinner and supper were served by members of the Ladies Aid societies. Music was provided by the 120th field artillery band.

Appleton Riding club held its annual picnic Tuesday evening at Waverly Beach. The trip to the beach was made on horseback and supper was served at 7 o'clock. Twenty-five riders attended.

A picnic down river will entertain the Young Ladies' sodality of St. Theresa church Thursday evening. They will meet at 6 o'clock at the church basement. A picnic supper will be served and boating and games will provide the entertainment. Miss Clementine Johann will be in charge.

COUNT DE CASTELLANE ILL Paris—(AP)—Count Doni de Castellane, who has been suffering from nerve trouble for more than a year, is confined to his home in Paris, unable to move about, his friends said today.

The illness, is not regarded as serious. Up to a few weeks ago the former husband of Anna Gould was able to take short walks. Recently his physicians advised against such exercise.

The Story of Sue by MARGERY HALE © 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

FOR just a second Sarah hesitated, as Jean Brady asked her what atonement he could make for the unpleasantness he had caused lately. Then her eyes widened and she smiled softly and her cherry red lips parted a little before she spoke.

"It was Sue Merryman whom you really annoyed the most. And Sue has a brother, an awfully nice chap who has an inventive turn of mind. It would please her if you could help give him a chance to show what he can do."

She hoped that the strange young musician wouldn't guess that she was pleading for herself, too. That she dared to hope that if Ted Merryman succeeded he might not be so hesitant about accepting her love.

But if he succeeded and there was another instead... Sarah had made her own way in the world long enough to know that the only thing to do is to hold on to your courage and keep climbing when wild winds blow.

"Go to Sue," she heard her voice talking on. "Tell her what you've told me and suggest that her brother or might like a position with your father. Are you sure it will be all right with your father?"

"O. K. and then some," he answered. "The prodigal son messed up things, and he's back. I'll get a lecture and life will be more than tip-toeing through the tulips now, but the old man is so darned glad I've come to that he'll come across. But how about you?"

"About me?" Sarah laughed lightly. "I'm all right. Don't waste sympathy on me. I'm financially independent. But you will see about Ted won't you?"

"Yes. And sometime... oh, a long time from now, maybe I'll prove that I am sorry."

Another thought came to Sarah. "You might have to take Ted out of town, though, if he gets a job with you."

"Would his sister object?" Sarah thought she caught an ironical interest in the usual impersonal eyes.

"No, it will be all right." But she was telling herself that men don't live on memories as long as women do. If Ted went away he might never come back. But she would give him his chance if she could.

"We have a branch office here. He might help in that, and be allowed to go on with his invention, whatever it is. Would that be better?"

"That is up to Ted," she answered. "Shall I take you up to see Sue?" It had grown much colder outside, she noticed, as they rode uptown to Sue's office. She rather hated to be asking this suave, coolly apologetic young man for any favor. And when she discovered that Sue was not in, she got rid of him quickly, telling him the Merryman home address.

"I'm making tea," Miss Parsons told her. "I brought down a hot plate this morning. Maybe I'm getting ancient but I think I get by better if I pep up with Orange Pekoe and lemon along about three o'clock. Won't you have some?"

Sarah sat down gladly and watched the snowflakes as the older woman talked of petty things. "That kid sister of Sue's certainly pulled a quick one, didn't she?" she said presently. Then, as Sarah's eyes showed no responding agreement, she explained the marriage.

"Corinne married Harry last night?" Sarah repeated slowly. "Thank fortune, Sue's not going to now!" she said impulsively before she thought.

"Sue is in love with Jack," Miss

MISS SCHMIT, CITY CLERK ARE MARRIED TODAY

The marriage of Miss Della Schmit to Carl Becher, city clerk, was solemnized at 7:15 Wednesday morning at St. Joseph church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmit, 543 N. Division-st., and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Becher, 529 E. Fremont-st.

The bridesmaid was Miss Isabelle Schmit, sister of the bride, and the bestman was John Becher, brother of the bridegroom. A wedding dinner was served to the immediate families at the Schmit home Wednesday noon, after which Mr. and Mrs. Becher left on a motor trip through Canada. After a 10 day tour they will be at home at 1417 W. College-ave.

Mrs. Becher has been abstractor in the office of the Outagamie County Abstract and Loan association, and Mr. Becher has been city clerk for two years.

SPANISH VETS BACK SCHNELLER FOR COMMANDER

A resolution endorsing Col. Frank J. Schneller, Neenah, for the office of national commander-in-chief of the American Legion was adopted at the meeting of Charles O. Bay camp, Spanish War Veterans, Tuesday night at the armory. Thirty-four members were present.

Officers of the camp were instructed to order government headstones for deceased comrades whose relatives have requested them. Plans were completed for the fish fry to be held Sunday at Stroeb's Island. Members will meet at 7:30 Sunday morning at the armory and go to the island together.

ASK WOMANS CLUB MEMBERS TO PAY DUES

Members of Appleton Women's club who have not yet been solicited by the membership committee, are to pay their dues directly at the club house. This is to make the work of the committee easier as the solicitors are having some difficulty in finding people at home. Mrs. Frank Wright is chairman of the committee.

Parsons answered with matter-of-factness.

ZESTFUL RELISHES AROUSE APPETITES IN WARM WEATHER

Pickles, Ketchup and Jelly Make Balanced Meals More Inviting

Summer heat often lessens the desire for food. However, body vigor must be maintained in hot weather as well as cold. Meals, therefore, must be planned to make folks hungry.

The spicy zest of ketchup, chowchow or pickles, the tart-sweet taste of cool jellies or jam can be counted upon to set appetites in motion. By serving these relishes frequently with meat, fish, potatoes and green vegetables, a new interest will be taken in these foods.

Many relishes can be mixed in French or mayonnaise dressings with delicious results. For example, equal parts of chili sauce and mayonnaise make the zestful Russian dressing. When such dressings are served on vegetable, fruit, meat or fish salads, these wholesome foods are hard to resist.

Sugar plays an important part in the preparation of most relishes. It unifies all kinds of flavors into delicious goodness. Think of this as you plan the family menus. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a simple, inexpensive and dietetically correct way to increase the taste-appeal of vegetables, stews and salad dressings. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

CHURCHES FORCED TO RETRENCHMENT IN MISSION WORK

Diminishing Financial Support Revealed in Report At Conference

Chicago —(P)— Serious retrenchments of their missionary programs are being forced upon the Christian churches by diminishing financial support, Dr. John C. Acheson of St. Paul, president of MacAlester college, disclosed today in his annual report of the executive committee of the Laymen's Missionary movement. Dr. Acheson is chairman of the committee.

Curtailment of funds, he declared, have deprived mission field of preachers, necessitated suspension of many forms of charitable work and the closing of hospitals, dispensaries, schools and asylums.

"We must pause and ask what is wrong," said Dr. Acheson, "when in a decade of unprecedented prosperity and material growth there should have been a forced and continuous retrenchment in so many missionary fields."

Finding that contributions from women's mission board have gained while church benevolent budgets generally decreased, he blamed men for the shrinkage in mission aid, and analyzed the causes of his committee found for the downward trend.

BLAMES PROPAGANDA

"Christian idealism has embarrased many commercial, industrial and political agencies in their exploitation of native labor on the mission field," Dr. Acheson reported. "This has resulted in active opposition, and a flood of propaganda, too great for our missionary workers to stem, has been let loose among tourists and through newspapers and magazines."

"The war-time psychology of 'America first' has had a pernicious effect on missionary work abroad, confirming some nominal Christians in their indifference and undoubtedly having a subtle influence on many more conscientious givers."

He added that building in home churches too often have absorbed available funds.

"Need we mention in addition the materialism of our day and other obvious hindrances to a spiritual and truly 'Christian outlook upon life'?"

The general committee of the Laymen's Missionary movement, and International Association of Laymen, met here today to hear the report and formulate plans to widen the interest of non-clerical church members in the mission field. Dr. Ralph E. Diefenderfer of New York, secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Foreign Missions, was guest of honor.

As antidotes for the conditions he described, Chairman Acheson suggested living mission programs,

Morrow's Victory Fails To Perturb Drys, Claim

New York —(P)— Comments on Ambassador Morrow's nomination for senator in New Jersey, obtained by the New York World, follow:

F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league —The nomination of a wet candidate for senator from New Jersey is nothing new. Mr. Morrow is no more wet than ex-senator Edge whose place he will take if elected in November. Morrow will merely be another wet. If he is elected it does not mean any addition to the wet vote in the senate. Mr. Morrow's nomination is as much a tribute to his personal popularity as an endorsement of the wet program.

On the Air Tonight

By the Associated Press

The inaugural concert of a summer series, with Allan Jones, tenor, and Del Staigers, cornetist, as soloists, and Henry M. Neely as master of ceremonies, will be broadcast over NBC stations at 6:30 o'clock. These concerts will feature a 55-piece orchestra under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret and a string ensemble of thirty pieces.

Leonard Joy's all-string orchestra interprets better now selection by Herbert, Youmans and Kalman for dancers listening to the program which will be broadcast over WTMJ and NBC network at 8:30 o'clock. Grantland Rice, famous sports writer, will interview some prominent athlete on a timely subject of interest to the present sport world.

A few favorites of past years are blended with current tunes by Olive Palmer, soprano, Elizabeth Lennox, contralto, Paul Oliver, tenor, the Revelers quartette and Gustave Haenschen's orchestra during the broadcast over NBC stations at 7:30 p. m.

Last week on the Indian program, Phoebe Jewell Nichols gave an episode in the life of the Winnebago Indians entitled, "Glory of the Morning." This week Phoebe Jewell Nichols will present the sequel to the "Glory of the Morning" in the episode, "Red Bird." This feature will be broadcast over WTMJ at 9 o'clock.

Goethe's vicissitudes in theater management at Wimmer lead to a clash between the famous German poet and his patron, Duke Carl August, in the thirteenth drama from his life and to be presented by a group of Broadway players over WLS and the NBC stations at 7 o'clock.

economics in building programs and formation of men's mission clubs. F. J. Michel, Chicago, secretary of the movement, drew attention to a Minneapolis church whose congregation included twenty millionaires "any one of whom, according to a Minneapolis banker, could easily contribute $5,000 a year to a membership in such a club without knowing that he had made the draft upon his income."

Undoubtedly, many who voted for Morrow are opposed to liquor but saw no danger of dry law repeal by the election of just another wet from New Jersey.

Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment—This is a great tribute to a great man. The Republicans of New Jersey not only understand Dwight Morrow's abilities but they also are determined to repeal the eighteenth amendment and thus restore to the people of our forty-eight sovereign states their ancient American right of local self-government in local affairs. The Republican leaders of other state may well take warning before it is too late.

United States Senator Walsh (D. Mont.)—I could neither rejoice nor be distressed over the nomination of Mr. Morrow. It will be interesting to have in the senate a man right out of the firm of Morgan and company.

United States Senator Morrow (D. Tex.)—New Jersey has long been recognized as a wet state. The political machinery which dominates the Republican party in that state is actively wet. The victory of Mr. Morrow simply means that the Republican machinery in New Jersey is working effectively. At any rate, his nomination does not in any way lessen the strength of prohibition.

Consideration is being given a proposal to change the bathing beauty contest into one for a champion "all-around resort girl" who can excel in landing muskellunge, setting up a camp, playing golf, and swimming.

A loud speaker system will be installed around Little Twin Lake to announce the winners of the various contests, carry news to the crowds expected from all parts of Wisconsin and upper Michigan and otherwise serve officials and participants.

The wood-locked circular lake is calm in almost all winds of weather.

PHELPS GETS READY FOR WATER CARNIVAL

Phelps —(P)—Lumberjacks rolling logs in water, sawing and chopping trees in contests, rescue guides racing in row boats, outboard motor boat races over on "ideal" course, fly-casting contests and a bathing beauty contest are parts of the Phelps water carnival to be held here July 5 and 6.

A still further sign of improved relations between state and church is a concession of the latter's right to own landed property. Several churches which had been turned into government offices have been restored to public and some observers go so far as to predict that ere long a formal concordat will be negotiated between Portugal and the Vatican.

so that fast time is expected in all the eight motor boat races. Plans are being made for free entertainment of the racers. A large entry list is expected.

PORTUGAL LETS NUNS BACK BUT BARS CONVENTS

Twenty Years of Exile for Native Sisters Ended; Many Restrictions

BY GEORGE HALADJIAN
Lisbon —(P)— After 20 years' exile, Portuguese nuns have been allowed to re-enter their native country, but under provisions which bar convent life, wearing of habits in public and the teaching of religion in state schools.

The restrictions, however, represent a considerable relaxation of the decrees under which all religious orders were expelled from the country by the anti-clerical government of Alfonso Costa in 1910.

Now the nuns are permitted to work in private hospitals, institutions for the blind and other charitable institutions. They are also allowed to teach religion privately. Throughout the 20 years the only sisterhoods that have been represented in the country have been Irish nuns of the Beau Success convent and French nuns of the St. Louis hospital. Both these institutions were considered territories of the Irish and French governments and therefore beyond the reach of the anti-clerical ban.

The readmission of the native nuns for private work follows, too, a change in policy which restored them to full standing in the colonies where missionary and parochial schools are run by them and by the Portuguese priests. Until this step was taken the only religious education in the African possessions was given by foreign missionaries who taught the blacks different languages and various creeds.

In some instances disorders broke out between protestant and catholic converts and the government also found that the Portuguese language was making little or no headway among the blacks. So the government has authorized reopening of Franciscan monastery of Varatoz near Torres Vedras to train missionaries for Africa and it has also restricted instruction there in anything but Portuguese.

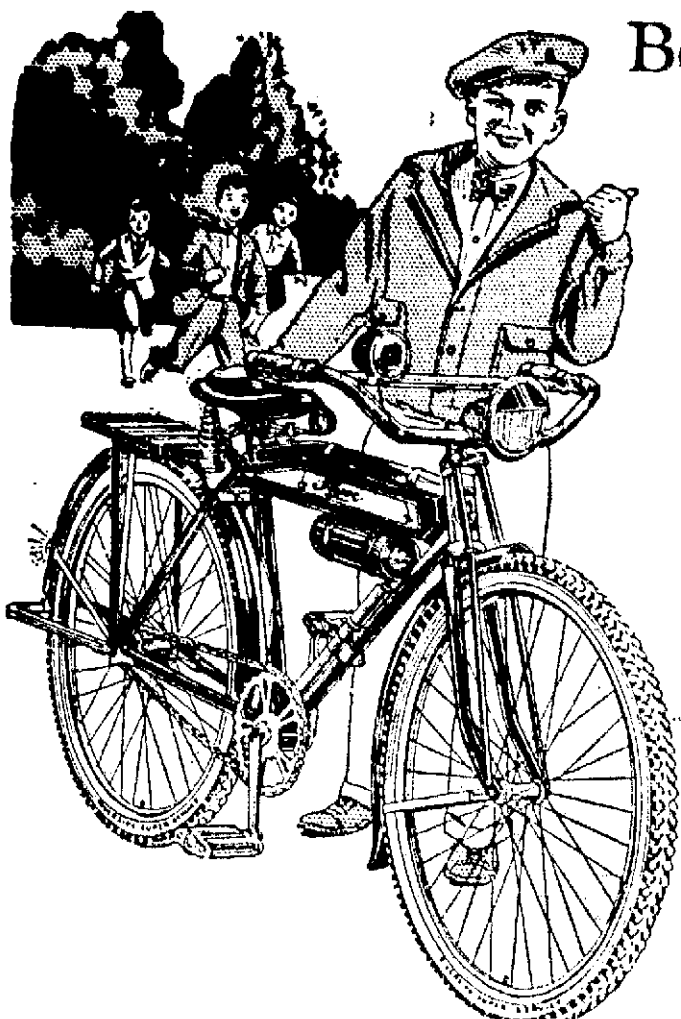

A still further sign of improved relations between state and church is a concession of the latter's right to own landed property. Several churches which had been turned into government offices have been restored to public and some observers go so far as to predict that ere long a formal concordat will be negotiated between Portugal and the Vatican.

Neenah And Menasha News

COUNCIL HINTS ACTION AGAINST SOFT DRINK MEN

Turns Over 20 License Applications To Police, Fire Committee

Menasha—In an effort to weed out and curb the activities of soft drink peddlers, many of which, it is alleged, are selling intoxicating liquors and maintaining nuisances, the city council last night turned over applications for licenses to the police and fire committee and Police Chief James Lyman for special investigation. Over 20 soft drink parlor operators applied for licenses. The council decided to hold a special meeting Friday evening, June 27, at which time Chief Lyman and the committee will report on their findings.

The action culminated on receipt of two letters written to the council by F. J. Budney, former justice of the peace, in which he complained that two soft drink parlor operators are violating not only federal drug laws but city ordinances. The parlors are open Sunday mornings, and later than midnight, contrary to city ordinance, Mr. Budney charged.

It is expected warrants for the arrest of the two operators will be issued in a day or two and Mr. Budney will be asked to appear before justice court to present verbal charges against the pair, according to Chief Lyman.

The two soft drink parlor operators against whom Mr. Budney filed his written charges are Gustave Jacobus, 268 Main-st., and Peter Kropidowski, 416 Racine-st.

PEERENBOOM ON BOARD
C. A. Peerenboom was named to the library board to succeed the late J. M. Pleasant. A short address in tribute to the deceased was given by Alderman T. E. McGilgan of the First ward, and the council paid solemn tribute by standing and bowing for a minute.

Mrs. T. E. McGilgan, N. De Wolf and J. McKennon were reappointed to the library board to succeed themselves by Mayor N. G. Remmel.

Edward Schrage was elected to serve on the board of review.

No action was taken in regard to the fire fighting controversy which now exists between Menasha city and the town of Menasha. Mayor Remmel again told the council that under no circumstances is the department to fight fires outside the city.

He also read a letter from the Wisconsin Inspection Bureau in which the organization suggested that the city of Menasha ask the town of Menasha to purchase necessary fire fighting equipment, and offer to house the apparatus in the city fire house. It is expected some action will be taken at a later meeting of the council.

WANT FLAGMAN
A resolution requesting that a flagman be placed at the Racine-st. crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee St. Paul and Pacific railroad before 6:50 in the morning, at which time a fast passenger train passes the crossing, was read and S. J. Spengler, city attorney, was asked to correspond with railroad officials in regard to the matter.

Also included in the resolution was a request for a wig-wag or other signal at the Milwaukee road crossing of the Milwaukee road. Mayor Remmel reported the crossing to be one of the most hazardous in the city, and will confer with railroad officials about the problem.

The report of the street committee in regard to suitable sites for a building for housing city machinery was postponed. It will be read at the next meeting.

A report on the condition of Sixth-st. between Milwaukee and Racine-sts. was read by Alderman McGilgan, and the council asked that the city engineer draw a map and bring in a detailed report on conditions at the next meeting of the council. Residents request that the street be paved and new sidewalks constructed. Each spring five to six inches of water stand on the present walks due to the high road, Alderman McGilgan stated.

REJECT COAL BIDS
Coal bids were opened and inasmuch as two companies both presented the same figure of $9.50 a ton for Pocahontas coal, the council decided to reject the bids and advertise bids to close before June 27. A certified check is to accompany each bid.

A report on legal proceedings started a year ago against property owners on Wausau and Manitowoc-sts. was read by Attorney Spengler. The city is seeking to open through streets, and to do so it will be necessary that property along the two streets and an adjoining alley be secured.

Attorney Spengler reported that over 50 per cent of the residents had turned over the deeds to the property, but that condemnation proceedings would be necessary to secure the others.

The council decided to hold a public meeting with the property owners at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon at which time the entire matter will be given a thorough airing.

A resolution requesting that the Third ward park subdivision known as the Grove park be annexed was adopted unanimously.

Several applications for operating pool and bowling halls were adopted.

Objections of residents living along Winnebago-ave. and of the Menasha Woodmen-ave. company to closing of the street were aired, and the city attorney was instructed to draw up a resolution whereby the common council be authorized to instruct the street commissioner to close the street.

INJURED FARMER IS IMPROVED, REPORT

Objections of residents living along Winnebago-ave. and of the Menasha Woodmen-ave. company to closing of the street were aired, and the city attorney was instructed to draw up a resolution whereby the common council be authorized to instruct the street commissioner to close the street.

TWO FINED $5 EACH FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT
Menasha—Robert Gilligan, Neenah, and Ray Mittle, New York, formerly of Racine, were each fined $5 and costs in justice court by Justice of the Peace John Koblinski when they pleaded guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The pair were arrested Tuesday afternoon by Menasha police.

SPENDS VACATION AT SCHOOL IN CHICAGO

Menasha—The Rev. John Best, pastor of First Congregational church, is spending his vacation at Chicago Theological Seminary, connected with the University of Chicago. He will study there for five weeks. The pulpit of the local church will be supplied each Sunday during his absence with guest preachers. The sermon next Sunday morning will be preached by the Rev. W. W. Sloan of First Congregational church, Appleton.

BOARD CONSIDERS PARK SWIM POOL

Commission Seeks Estimates On Cost Of Building Outdoor Tank

Menasha—A public swimming pool to be located outdoors in Menasha park is under consideration, according to members of Menasha park board. The Menasha park and recreation commission has responded to public demand for construction of the project so far that estimates of the probable cost are being obtained.

According to opinions of local residents, the city park offers an ideal location for a pool.

Construction of a pool would make it possible to accommodate swimmers where danger of drowning would be almost entirely removed.

The question of financing the project is being weighed and some plan may be devised whereby it will be possible to provide much of the money without resorting to taxation.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—The Young Women's Missionary society of St. Paul English Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. J. Fitzgibbon, Chute-st., Tuesday evening. The topic discussed was Our Church and Its Share in the World Missions. Mrs. C. Steffenhagen was assistant hostess.

Twin City Odd Fellows will meet at Odd Fellows hall at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

Twenty members of the E. B. B. club will attend Camp Manitowish on Spider lake starting June 20, according to announcement made Wednesday morning. The group will meet Thursday to discuss final plans for camp.

The Twin City Business and Professional Woman's club will hold its annual picnic at Neenah park at 5:30 Wednesday afternoon. The group will meet at St. Thomas Episcopal parish house shortly before 5:30 and will go to the park in a body. Miss Pearl Green of the Y. W. C. A. is in charge of the program.

The Wednesday evening Bridge club will meet at the home of Mrs. Perce Lawson on Elm-st. at 8 o'clock this evening. A short business meeting will precede bridge playing.

The monthly business meeting of the Royal Neighbors was held Tuesday evening in the Knights of Columbus hall. Reports were read and plans for the coming month discussed. A social hour followed the business meeting and cards were played and refreshments served. Prizes were awarded.

A record crowd is expected to attend the last of a series of dances to be given by the Germania Benevolent society at Menasha auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, according to the committee in charge. A special program has been arranged.

Mrs. A. Cook entertained the Monday Evening Schafkopf club at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. A. Augustine, First-st. Home went to Mrs. Augustine, Mrs. Joseph Horley, Mrs. Ira Clough and Mrs. Mary Rohloff.

INSTALL LIGHTS FOR NIGHT FOOTBALL GAMES

Menasha—When the football season opens next fall, Menasha high school will probably be the only one in the state having facilities for night games.

Installation of electric light poles at Butte des Morts athletic field is well under way, and probably will be completed next week. It is reported that the entire cost of installation and operation is to be paid out of the student athletic fund.

According to the football schedule arranged for next season by Coach Calders, several games will be played at night, although the night schedule will not affect games to be played by the local team away from Menasha.

INJURED FARMER IS IMPROVED, REPORT

Menasha—The condition of William Furman, a farm living here, who was injured last Saturday afternoon when he was struck by a brick which fell from a building under construction, is said to be improved. It was feared he had suffered a fractured skull and he was removed to Theda Clark hospital. Examination revealed no fracture, but a badly lacerated and bruised scalp.

TWO FINED $5 EACH FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Menasha—Robert Gilligan, Neenah, and Ray Mittle, New York, formerly of Racine, were each fined $5 and costs in justice court by Justice of the Peace John Koblinski when they pleaded guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The pair were arrested Tuesday afternoon by Menasha police.

PLAN NEW ATTEMPT FOR POSTOFFICE

Mayor And Aldermen Will Write To Federal Department At Capital

Menasha—A final attempt to secure a new postoffice building for Menasha will be made this week by Mayor N. G. Remmel and the common council. It was reported Tuesday night at the bi-monthly meeting.

Letters are to be written by Mayor N. G. Remmel and various aldermen to the treasury and postal departments, again pointing out the need for a new federal building here, and requesting that an appropriation be made to remedy the present congested condition in the postoffice, it was reported.

"The treasury department has appropriated funds in several cities in the state where the need for a new federal building was not nearly as urgent as in Menasha, and it is certain that if the department was familiar with conditions here, some thing would be done immediately," Mayor Remmel said.

TWIN CITIES NINE FACES RAPIDS NEXT

Pails Inject More Pep In Practice Sessions After Last Defeat

Menasha—The Neenah-Menasha Pails, who suffered a terrific defeat at the hands of Brandt's Fords at Appleton Sunday are practicing harder than ever this week.

Sunday afternoon they will take the field against Wisconsin Rapids, one of the strongest teams in the Fox River valley league.

It will be the second meeting of the two aggregations and the invaders will be out to avenge the trimming they received on their initial visit to the Twin Cities.

A full victory Sunday and a defeat for Kaukauna, which ended the Green Bay, will put the Twin City aggregation back on the top rung of the valley ladder. A defeat, however, would mean that the Pails would drop to third place. A Wisconsin Rapids victory, and a defeat for Kaukauna, would put the two clubs in a tie for the high berth.

Appleton and Kimberly clubs will clash Sunday afternoon in the other encounter.

MENASHA PERSONALS

Menasha—R. L. Pankratz has gone to Rockford, Ill., to attend a convention of doctors.

Miss Mathilda Mack, Los Angeles, Calif., is spending several weeks visiting her brother, Carl J. Mack, 227 Ahnalt-st.

Miss Virginia Mack spent the weekend visiting her grandmother, Mrs. M. Mack, at Oshkosh.

Menasha—Mrs. Lawrence Zielski, daughter Jane, son George and Miss Helen Danowski left Tuesday for a three weeks visit at Antigo.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyer, Marinette, are spending several days with relatives here.

Matt Stulp, clerk at the local post-office returned Wednesday morning from a short vacation.

PUT MORE EQUIPMENT IN SOUTH SIDE PARK

Menasha—Additional equipment was added to the new park in the Second ward Wednesday, according to members of the park board. The park is becoming one of the most popular in the city, judging from the number of children who take part in supervised play.

New lights also are to be installed in the park, and other facilities, such as additional tables and benches are to be added within the near future, it is reported.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

ALFRED E. BROWN
Menasha—Word was received here Tuesday of the death of Alfred E. Brown, 723 Racine-st., veteran of the World war, which occurred Monday at the Soldiers' Home, Milwaukee. He had been in ill health for almost two years.

Survivors are his widow; one son, John, and one daughter, Carol. The body was brought to Menasha Tuesday night and will be removed to the funeral home of the Menasha Furniture company.

MRS. MATT MARX
Menasha—Funeral services for Mrs. Matt Marx, Hortonville pioneer, and former resident of Menasha, were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning from St. Peter and St. Paul church at Hortonville. The body was brought to Menasha for burial at St. Mary cemetery. Mrs. Marx died at her home in Hortonville Saturday morning.

WORKMAN IS GASSED BY CHLORINE FUMES

Neenah—Charles Langner, employed at the Bergstrom Paper company mill, was slightly gassed Tuesday morning by chlorine gas fumes while at work on a new plant which the company is installing. He was taken to Theda Clark hospital and later removed to his home.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS TO MEET NEXT MONTH

Neenah—Winnebago County Republican club plans to meet early in July at Oshkosh. The Winnebago organization will work under the leadership of a campaign committee, it is intimated.

FINE APPLETON MAN $10 FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Neenah—Harold Kramer, Appleton, was fined $10 and costs Tuesday morning in justice court at Oshkosh on a charge of reckless driving. He was arrested on the Menasha-Appleton road Sunday night by E. G. Abell, county motorcycle officer.

PROJECTS SHAPE UP FOR COUNTY BOARD

Plan Public Hearings Regarding New Bridge Over Fox River At Eureka

Neenah—Although the next session of the Winnebago county board is not scheduled until November, it is understood that several projects to be considered then are taking shape now.

Public hearings regarding the new bridge across the Fox river at Eureka, will be called this summer by the state highway commission. It is almost certain that the board will be presented with a proposal to centralize the plans of financial assistance to deserving families in the county.

The November meeting of the board will witness the presentation of the highway committee's report regarding the need of the Dale-Winchester highway, a project which has been pending since early this year. W. F. Metzger, town of Neenah, has agreed to be responsible for introducing a resolution at the fall session calling for appointment of a county commissioner of roads.

This occasioned considerable discussion at the Monday meeting of the board, the outcome of which was the admission that every township is having difficulty with the fair enforcement of the weed cutting law.

A county commissioner could now accomplish more with a uniform set of rules for all sections of the county, it was believed.

William A. Meyer, Oshkosh, informed the board that there is a movement under way to have the county purchase an ambulance, use of which would be under the sheriff's department. He also stated that the suggestion had been made to equip the motor police machines with radio receiving sets and install a broadcasting system in the sheriff's office so that word can be communicated to the officers while on duty.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES IN FORCE FOR ONE WEEK

Neenah—The new traffic regulations at the Wisconsin-ave. and Commercial-st. intersection have been in force for a week. Both compliments and complaints have been received. Some pedestrians claim it is more difficult to cross streets.

Mayor Sabers Wednesday morning stated that the regulations will be given a longer trial, or until people familiarize themselves with them. If there still are no many objections, a new plan may be adopted.

There still are many motorists who fail to proceed around the right corner against the red light. The new regulation, according to Mayor Sande, was installed to speed up traffic at that corner which is the only outlet the city has for north traffic. Signs have been painted on the pavement to caution the drivers to employ care in rounding the corners against the red light. Any one caught turning at full speed or recklessly, will be arrested.

OUTLINE LEADING POINTS OF CITY'S ZONING ORDINANCE

Measure Will Be Read This Evening At Meeting Of Common Council

Neenah—The new zoning ordinance, which is to have its first reading Wednesday evening at the mid-month session of the city council, is a lengthy one and will require some time in explanation. It will be set for a hearing for objections before the council takes final action on it. In part the ordinance has provisions for Dots Island, the Third and Fifth wards, as residential with the following exceptions: All land lying west of the Soo line tracks and a strip along the track on the east from Abbey-ave to W. Forest-ave, is heavy manufacturing or industrial property; all property abutting N. Commercial-st. and the Chicago-Northwestern tracks is made mercantile or light manufacturing property, as is that east of the tracks to First-st. between Nicolet-ave and the lots abutting on E. Forest-ave, a local business corner is established at the corner of Lincoln and Fourth-sts. and at the corner of Hewitt and Sixth-sts.

In the First, Second and Fourth wards, the zones are generally as follows: East of the Chicago Northwestern tracks is residential except for the land abutting the track between Maple and Orange-sts; between Fourth-ave and S. Commercial-ave and a triangular tract abutting the McMahon subdivision on the north and triangular tract north of Park-st. extended and a triangular tract north of Cecil-st. Local business areas are provided at the corners of Oak and Division-sts, S. Commercial and Park-sts, and First-ave and Park-st.

That part west of the Chicago and Northwestern tracks includes the industrial and commercial area as now in existence, somewhat enlarged and bounded generally as follows:

On the east by the railway, on the south including the north half of the lots between Columbus-ave. and Franklin-ave; from Franklin-ave north as far west as Church-st. except for the four corner lots on Franklin-ave and Columbus-ave at Church-st; both sides of Church-st. from midway of the block between Columbus and Doty-aves north. The boundary between the residential zone and mercantile and industrial zone west of Church-st. will extend generally along Brien-st. and the rear line of all lots abutting Main-st. on the east and including both sides of Main-st. to the Soo line tracks.

Both sides of the Soo line tracks from Main-st. to the city limits are in the industrial zones. All land west of Main-st. is industrial as far north as the abandoned right-of-way of the Chicago and Northwestern railway except the last three lots on the west side of the street. Main and Lake-sts. corner is designated as a local business area.

Two park areas are provided in the fourth ward, one on Winnebago-ave and one south of the slough. A local business area is designated at the corner of Ladd-st. and Washington-st.

Building lines are established in the proposed ordinance for various parts of the city, building heights are regulated, use of lot areas in the several zones are also classified as to use.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Miss Beatrice Darling, Oshkosh, whose marriage to Irwin Pearson, Neenah, is to take place the latter part of the month, is being feted at many pre-nuptial events.

Sunday a group of relatives gave a buffet shower and picnic for the bride-elect at the Darling cottage at Butte des Morts. Miss Evelyn Frisbie of Pine River and Miss Isabelle Brenner of Green Bay were hostesses. Saturday at a luncheon and bridge at the Morgan farm, complimentary to Miss Darling. Prizes in bridge were won by Miss Ruth Parker, Mrs. Lonnie Darling and Miss Marguerite Ackerman. A group of neighbors entertained for Miss Darling last week at the home of Mrs. George Osterag at Oshkosh.

Four tables of cards were in play and prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Strey, Mrs. Fred Appleyard, Mrs. Emma Peterson and Mrs. William Day.

Tryouts for the play which is to be given later by the Winnebago Players in one of the Neenah parks are being held in order to complete the cast which is to be selected soon. "Smilin' Through," presented last year was voted one of the best outdoor performances ever witnessed here.

Axel Jorgenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jorgenson, 114 E. Pacific-st., Appleton, formerly of Neenah, and Miss Hyacinth Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tate of New London, will be married Thursday afternoon at Rockford, Ill., according to announcement received Wednesday. Following a short honeymoon at Chicago, the young couple will return to Neenah to live. Mr. Jorgenson is employed at the office of the Lieber Lumber company.

Neenah—Winnebago Chapter DeMolay will meet Wednesday evening to elect officers and confer DeMolay degree upon a class of candidates.

Twin City Odd Fellows will meet at 7:30 Wednesday evening at its hall at Menasha.

felt by farmers to indicate good times, but right now middle western financial chiefs look to this gold-den flow of grain to turn the tide of trade.

The collapse of prices for grains which has occurred during the past week—just as new wheat is starting to move to market—is not entirely discouraging to business men.
Emphasis is being placed here on the fact that these typical pre-war prices reflect good crop yields and also encourage the flow into consumptive channels of huge quantities of old crop grain now frozen in storage.

Throughout the drop of nearly ten cents a bushel in a little more than a week, the hand of the farm board has been conspicuous by its absence from the wheat market. Grains are being allowed to seek their own levels consistent with world conditions, as a consequence the trading air is being cleared both here and in Canada.

The wheat pool of that country still is loaded with vast quantities of grain on which it loaned $1 a bushel. Similarly, the farm board agencies of this country, are credited with holding tens of millions of bushels purchased at an average price of $1.07.

SEES TURNING POINT
"This year's harvest should provide the turning point in business conditions," R. Arthur Wood, president of the Chicago stock exchange, explained. Mr. Wood not only is a student of economic conditions but has been in close touch with leaders of business and industrial affairs in the middle west to get their views.

"Experience has shown that big crops, whether selling at high prices or not, have had a stimulating influence on general business. There is no reason for this year to be an exception. Of course, no one looks for a boom, but the trade that the market of this year's crop creates, will in all likelihood prove the turning point for the present depression.

"Proportionately, agricultural prices have not fallen as much as those of many other commodities. Besides, farmers have been lowering their production costs through greater use of machinery. Unless there is more of a price collapse than now is indicated, many farmers are going to make money, and when they have money there are no better customers."

Mr. Wood and many leaders in the grain trade feel that this country and Canada made a mistake last year when they held prices above a world level. Europe turned away from North American wheat wherever it could. Now the carry-over of old crop wheat in the United States alone promises to be nearly 250,000, 000 bushels.

"We must offer Europe wheat at a price that will induce her countries to buy," said James E. Bennett, head of an important grain house. "We must increase consumption at home and abroad, and the only way to increase consumption is to offer the buying public something better than the other fellow has to offer at a price that will cause him to buy."

Grains, dairy products and livestock, with the exception of hogs, all are at extremely low price levels.

OPEN BIDS MONDAY ON 3,400 YARDS OF GRAVEL

Bids will be opened at a meeting of the county highway committee Monday afternoon at the courthouse on 2,400 yards of crushed gravel or crushed stone to be used in improving county trunk highways in several towns. All bids must be accompanied by checks totaling 5 per cent of the bid and if the estimates are satisfactory the committee probably will let the contracts at once. The gravel or stone will be used as follows, 800 yards on County Trunk M in the town of Bovina; 500 yards on County Trunk M in the town of Liberty; 500 yards on County Trunk J in the towns of Freedom and Osborn; 800 yards on County Trunk E2 in the town of Center; and 800 yards on County Trunk S in the town of Center.

Miss Iowa Making Her Farewell Tour

Whoever heard of a farewell tour of a hippopotamus? Nevertheless, one—known throughout the whole world—as Miss Iowa, is beginning this year the last lap of her years of travel. It is all because she is too fat. She is quite young—only seven years old. Yet she tips the scale to some four or five tons and her transportation is a matter that the management of the Robbins Bros.
circus, coming to Appleton on Friday, June 27, have decided is entirly too much. It is merely a matter of dollars and cents and the mighty dollar wins by declaring that Miss Iowa would be a financial success by remaining permanently in home quarters. Probably one of the factors that has caused the circus people to arrive "at a farewell tour" is that each year Miss Iowa requires a new cage with its accompanying bath room. That sort of a thing is costly when one has to be built each year on account of the added weight of the "land-waterlubber" from the African jungles.

Miss Iowa consumes 100 pounds of food daily which is another item of cost that is worthy of her keeper's attention, and may have had something to do with the decision. The Robbins Bros. circus is the largest coming to this city this year and in fact is the largest in the world giving a street parade.

"Free Public School" Opened 85 Years Ago

Kenosha—(P)—Eighty-five years ago today the first "free public school" opened its doors here to receive the first class of eight students.

Although the school was only a dingy basement in the Catholic church in what was then known as Southport, it was the realization of a lifelong dream for Michael Frank, ridiculed by many as "a visionary impractical schemer."

Michael Frank and his family moved to Southport in 1838 and almost immediately began agitation for "a free school system and statehood for the Wisconsin territory." The Southport Telegraph which he edited was his chief mouthpiece.

In 1841 Frank organized an association called the "Free School Friends," which held meetings in the interests of establishing a free school system. At the time of the association's inception there were 11 private schools in Southport and two poor district schools.

By 1843 Frank had reached the upper house of the territorial legislature and it was not long before he introduced a bill authorizing the establishment of free schools in the territory. Ignored, Frank introduced the bill a year later and after a stormy two-day debate it was defeated. Finally he succeeded in making a compromise with his opponents whereby he was given permission by law to establish a test school in Southport.

On June 18, 1845 the "first free public school outside of "New England" was opened in Southport. A new school house was built within a year and it acted as the driving force toward establishment of similar institutions throughout the territory. John Bullen, Jr., founder of the village, was the first janitor. He heaved benches from logs and kept the building in condition.

A boulder bearing an inscription today marks the site of the school in the southwest corner of the old high school grounds of Kenosha.

BEE KEEPERS DISCUSS MARKETING PROBLEMS

A dozen beekeepers of Outagamieco discussed crop and marketing problems at the city hall Tuesday afternoon. James Gwin of the state department of marketing, the principal speaker, advised that instead of distributing honey here and there, the beekeepers make contact with local grocers, and serve the local trade rather than shipping their product in bulk.

The decreased honey crop, due in a great part to the lateness of the clover this year, was also discussed.

20 SUPER-POWERED RADIO STATIONS NOW SEEM ASSURED

Big Broadcasting Units Will Boom Through Space Behind 50,000 Watts

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—At least 20 super-powered broadcasting stations, booming through space behind 50,000 watts of power—the present maximum—seem to be assured by virtue of federal action.

Cleared channels and high power are here to stay, the federal radio commission has decided by a four to one vote. Only Commissioner Ira E.
Robison dissents from the view that these de luxe radio facilities are necessary to serve listeners everywhere with good signal strength. He clings to the belief that chains of regional stations, with moderate power could perform the job in a more efficient manner.

The commission has decreed, in a new order, that the number of cleared channels in the country upon which stations using the maximum allowable broadcasting power of 50, 000 watts, shall be limited to 20.
That means that four of the eight cleared channels assigned each of the five radio zones shall be available for transmitters in this superlative power category.

Actually, the order has the effect of making available 11 additional channels upon which stations of 50, 000 watts power may operate. And it does not mean that just 11 stations can operate on them or that the dozen stations now clear over airing or building transmitters of that output are the only ones to be assigned to these channels. The commission means to dole-out stations of that power on some of these channels so that the sum total of 50,000 watt stations will exceed the 20 designated for "super power" channels.

The commission's action settles the provocative issue of high-power and cleared channels to a certain degree. It ordains that the people can best be served with such facilities but it still has before it the questions of simultaneous operation of high-powered stations as a means of alleviating the congestion in the broadcast band. Synchronization has been proved practicable by Iowa's two largest stations—WHD at Des Moines, and WOC at Davenport which now are operating full-time with 5,000 watts power each on the same channel by the minute control of their transmitters. Before they undertook the experiments which resulted in success, they were forced to divide the time on the 1,000 kilocycle channel.

As a result, the commission is casting about for stations on opposite sides of the country to undertake similar experiments on cleared channels. It is understood that it already has several stations favorable to the enterprise, and that the commission probably will authorize such operations soon—perhaps on several of the cleared channels.

FOX MEDAL FOR PERFECT SOUND TO BE PRESENTED THURS. EVE.

The highest official honor for perfect sound photoplay reproduction, the Exhibitor's Herald-World bronzed plaque (shown below), will be presented at the FOX Theatre at 8:30 o'clock THURSDAY evening.

This award is a fitting tribute for the gigantic sums expended in installing the latest of sound photoplay reproduction and in having the entire interior of the theatre treated by experts to insure ideal acoustics.

That this theatre is among the few in the United States that have been accorded this distinctive honor is typical of the progressive achievements of Midwestern Theatres, Inc., which operates the highest circuit of theatres in Wisconsin.

Yankees Bat Way To Within One Game Of A. L. Lead

NEW YORK TEAM AGAIN WINS FROM CLEVELAND, 17-2

Boston Braves In First Division In National League Race

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOW but sure the New York Yankees are pounding their way back to the top of the American league pennant race and they are doing the trick with their powerful bats.

Apparently unnoticed the Yankees have slipped up to within one game of the league leading Athletics and hold jointly with the Senators and Indians, the runner-up position.

In the last five contests Babe Ruth and company put together 89 hits for 53 runs—enough of each to win several ball games. The Cleveland Indians fell victims to the Yankees big bats yesterday for the third straight time, losing 17 to 2 when Roy Sherd held them to seven scattered hits. Lou Gehrig connected with his eighteenth home run of the season.

The Senators had a chance to move out in front as the Athletics were idle but Walter Johnson's team found the St. Louis Browns in one of their hitting moods, so lost 12 to 8.

The Boston Red Sox hammered three White Sox pitchers hard to win 8 to 5. The game closed the White Sox first home stand against the eastern clubs and left them with only four victories in 12 games, the triumph was Boston's fifth over Chicago in six games.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies locked in a pitchers' duel to feature the abbreviated National league schedule. The Phillies won 5 to 4 in ten innings.

The Boston Braves climbed into first division, eight games back of the league setting. Robins with a double header victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Aided by some brilliant relief pitching on the part of Frank Frankhouse, the Braves won the opener 6 to 4 and then accounted for the nightcap 10 to 5.

DAVIS CUP TEAM WILL PLAY ITALY OR JAPAN

America's rival in the interzone finals of Davis cup tennis will be either Japan or Italy.

Japan reached the final round of European zone competition yesterday by eliminating Czechoslovakia, twenty-four hours after Italy had completed its conquest of Australia, three matches to two.

The Japan-Italy tie, to be played July 17-18-19 looks like a toss up.

The survivors of the Japan-Italy series will meet the United States, American zone champions, in the interzone finals, July 18-19-20. The winner of this tie will meet France for the cup July 25-26-27.

Sports Question Box

Question—I have noticed invariably in the major leagues that the pitcher has one foot on the plate and one behind it when he delivers the ball. I thought this was illegal.

Answer—It is illegal and are you quite sure that you have noticed it because if you have you have done better than the umpires.

Question—In tennis, if you play a ball and it hits a flag pole outside of opposing court and then bounces into opponent's court, is it a good ball?

Answer—Yes, and must be played.

Question—Do you think Mickey Walker could have whipped Stanley Ketchell?

Answer—No. With the exception of Bob Fitzsimmons, Ketchell was the greatest middleweight ever to hold that title.

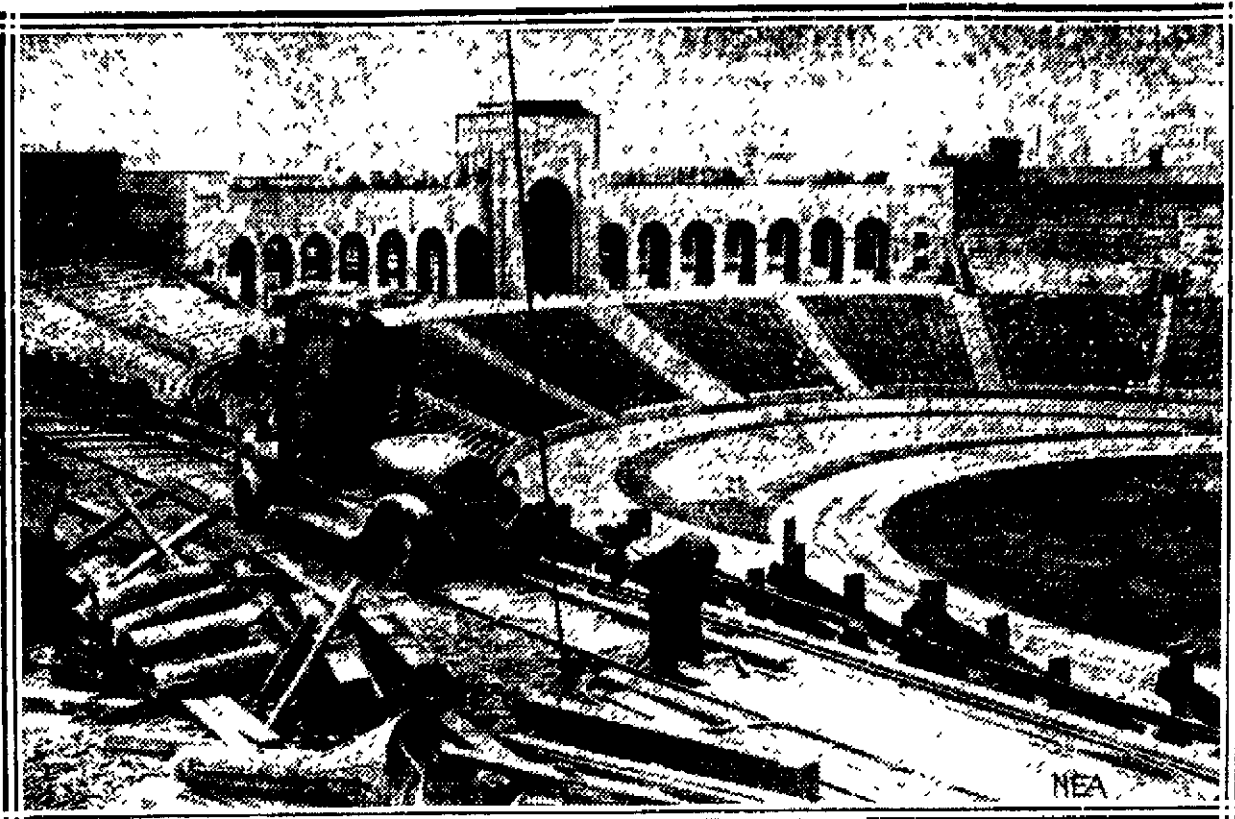

Question—Why do service academies at Annapolis and West Point forbid cadets to be married while in the academies?

Answer—Because it is felt that a student should concentrate on his studies and not be worried by family ties.

Question—What is the rule or decision when the pitcher tries to put the ball over on the batter by making a quick delivery? Is there any set time that a pitcher must give to the bat?

Answer—There is no set time. The pitcher must protect himself. The umpire should assist in protecting the batter when the latter asks for it to be delivered by the pitcher.

Getting Ready For 1932 Olympic Meet

This is what the spacious Coliseum in Los Angeles looks like today. Additional seats are being added at the top of the huge structure to raise the seating capacity to 105,000 persons. The track and field contests of the 1932 Olympics will be staged within these walls.

Indians Have Shown As Strong Team On Road

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright 1930

NEW YORK—With practically one third of the season completed, the Cleveland team has won eighteen games at home and lost eleven. The Indians have won fourteen games abroad and lost ten. Their percentage of victory on the home ground was 654 for the first third of the season. Their percentage victory away from home was 583. Their total percentage today is 604.

If they can keep up that pace all of the year, they can win 95 or 96 games and perhaps win the championship with them. The Athletics figure that 95 victories will win the pennant.

In the same period, the Athletics won 20 games at home and lost six. The Washington club won 20 and lost ten. The odds are a little in favor of the Athletics as against Washington in home victories.

Also in the same period, Philadelphia has won 14 games abroad and lost 15. The Washington team has won 11 games abroad and lost 11. Both Cleveland and Washington have proved to be practically as good road teams, perhaps an ounce or so better than the Athletics.

For the remaining two thirds of the pennant race, the Cleveland team should do better. The material is there. All that is needed is enthusiasm on the part of the players, a continuation of good pitching and an everlasting determination to thrash Washington and Philadelphia.

Both Washington and Cleveland are playing much closer to Philadelphia than the teams played in 1929. The Athletics did not do very well on the Cleveland ground last season but they jammed Cleveland into the turf on the Philadelphia field. They have shown a tendency to do the same thing this year, as they won three games from Cleveland in Philadelphia in the first third of the season and Cleveland failed to win once.

If the New York Yankees were strong enough to enter this three cornered fight and make it four cornered, there would be reason to believe that all three clubs would worry Philadelphia into defeat, as the Athletics have broken before Washington and Cleveland.

AMERICAN YACHTS IN TRIAL RACES

Will Stage A Series Of Runs Off Newport Early Next Week

New York—(AP)—The four candidates for the honor of defending the America's cup against the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock fifth have left New York waters for another series of races off the New England coast.

In the four races that have been sailed here, the Westamoe, owned by a syndicate headed by George Nichols and Julius S. Morgan, Jr., has complied by far the best record. The Westamoe, after finishing fourth in the first test, won the next three in a row. Trailing the Morgan-Nichols sloop was the Enterprise which won the first race and finished second in the next three. These two hold a big lead over the other two contenders, the Yankee, and the Whirlwind, owned by a syndicate headed by Landon K. Thorne and Paul Hammond. The Yankee, however, in its only race against the other contenders, yesterday finished a good third behind the Westamoe and Enterprise.

The next races in the series will be sailed off Newport under the auspices of the eastern yacht club on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

EXPECT FRISCH IN CARD LINEUP THURSDAY

St. Louis—(AP)—Prospects today were for the early return to active competition of the three principal coddles of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Frankie Frisch, whose right ankle was lacerated by a Philadelphia player's spikes, should be ready to return to the lineup during the series with the Phillies which opens here tomorrow. Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician, has announced. Chick Hafey, recovering from eye-strain, will be ready to play in a few days, while Ernie Osratt is expected to be back in right field within ten days.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Lansing, Mich.—Sammy Mandell, world lightweight champion, knocked out Izzy Kline, Winnipeg, (4), non-title.

Chicago—Bobby O'Hara, Chicago, outpointed Frankie Burns, Milwaukee, (8).

Columbus, O.—Tommy Jones Atlanta outpointed Johnny Rich, Cleveland, (6). Pal Moore, Huntington, W. Va., and Mutt Moisch, Cincinnati, drew, (6).

Indianapolis—Walter Pickert, Indianapolis, knocked out Joe Packo, (2). Tracey Cox, Indianapolis, knocked out Harold Knott, Toledo, (2).

Sacramento, Calif.—(AP)—The New York Giants have been given a 26-hour option of Myril Hoag, sensational Sacramento Solon outfielder. Owner Lewis Morling, who gave the option yesterday morning, is reported to have asked $75,000 for the young outfielder.

What the Stars Did Yesterday

Frank O'Doul, Phillies—Hit single in tenth to give Phillies 5 to 4 decision over Pirates.

Fred Frankhouse, Braves—Made debut in Boston uniform as relief pitcher and received credit for 6 to 1 victory over Reds.

Lou Gehrig, Earl Combs and Harry Rice, Yankees—Connected with four hits each as Yankees defeated Indians 17 to 2. Gehrig hit his eighteenth home of season.

Goose Goslin, Browns—Hit first home run as member of the Browns to help St. Louis defeat former teammates, 12 to 9.

GEORGIE BALDUC TO MEET MICKEY O'NEIL

Milwaukee—(AP)—Promoter Pinky Mitchell today said Georgie Balduc, French-Canadian lightweight now living in Milwaukee, had been signed to oppose Mickey O'Neill, Milwaukee, for 10 rounds in the semi-windup of the King Levinsky-Paul Pantaleo card Friday night.

Balduc, recommended after knocking out Eddie Reed, Philadelphia Negro who stopped Johnny Jaddick, knockout victor over King Tut, was a substitute on the card for Jack Moore.

The boxing commission refused Moore permission to appear on the card.

Kansas City Blues Lose To League Leading Louisville Club

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago—(AP)—When Ernie Wingard of Toledo serves out his span as left handed pitcher he probably will become a regular and valuable first baseman or outfielder.

Wingard has taken his regular turn in the box for the Mud Hens with fair success, but his biggest contributions to the Toledo cause have been first base batting and filler-in at first base. Last week he gave the Hens a victory by batting out home runs in successive innings besides pitching well.

Yesterday Ernie was sent out by Manager Casey Stengel to play first base against Minneapolis. The Millers won, 8 to 6, but it was no fault of Wingard's. He hit safely four times, including a home run and scored two of his team's runs. At the end of last season he played first base when he wasn't pitching and hit at a great rate.

Returning to their home field failed to help the Kansas City Blues and they lost the series opener to Louisville, 6 to 2.

Columbus gained a full game on St. Paul in their battle for second place, battering two saint pitchers for 9 hits and a 13 to 3 victory.

Milwaukee's homecoming produced a 6 to 2 victory over Indianapolis. Ambrose pitched well for the Indians but had one hit inning—the seventh when six hits produced four runs. Jack Burdett gave the Indians 11 hits but kept them spaced except in the second.

Dempsey May Consider Regaining Title For U. S.

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS
Copyright 1930

CHICAGO—Gene Tunney or Jack Dempsey may regard Max Schmeling's synthetic possession of the world's heavyweight championship a sufficient affront to the waning prowess of Americans at fistfuffs to bring about the return of one or the other to the ring. But if both refuse the gauge there will be a scurrying and hurrying among the boxing powers to find a suitable challenger for the black Uhlan.

One thing is quite certain. Schmeling will peacefully retain his cheaply won title only until a logical challenger can be brought forth. Herr Schmeling and the title far away in Germany or tramping around Europe will bring no money to American promoters; and money after all is the root of modern boxing.

There is a better chance of Jack Dempsey coming back for one more fight than Tunney. Gene never was one to enjoy the rigors and turmoil of a training camp merely for the sport of taking a punch at someone's chin. He has plenty of money; he is having a good time and it is unlikely he will spring to arms merely because an outlander has the championship.

Dempsey is a different sort. He enjoyed fighting and its increments. Your correspondent is informed that Jack could stand to earn a large lump of money right now. The refereeing and vaudeville business has fallen off since Jack Wall, Dempsey's close friend and booking agent, died.

Jack, out on the Pacific coast, is said to have mentioned the possibility of going into training. Last winter he said he might return if a foreigner won the championship. Put two and two together and you soon may find Dempsey working his old legs on the sands of Ensenada. Gene Normie's resort down in Mexico. Then if there still is spring in his muscles he may vote for the return trip.

HUSKIES FAVORED TO WIN 'KEEPSIE REGATTA, JUNE 26

Yale, Winner In Two Triangular Races Is Also A Contender

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Washington, conqueror of Wisconsin as well as California, holds its place beside Yale as the only other undefeated college crew in the country. That all of the early-season racing is finished and only the big fixtures at New London, Conn., and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., remain.

As a result of a spotless record, Yale will be heavily favored to trim Harvard in this year's renewal of a 78-year-old rowing rivalry on Friday. Washington figures to be the crew to beat in the intercollegiate free-for-all on the Hudson, June 26.

Rowing its races more than two months apart, Washington opened the season away back in April by nosing out California by about five feet and then came through according to schedule against Wisconsin on Lake Monona yesterday on the way east for the Poughkeepsie classic.

Yale also has rowed in only two regattas but both were triangular affairs, the Elms taking the measure of Columbia and Pennsylvania in one race and finishing ahead of Cornell and Princeton in the other.

LEADER AT YALE
Although Yale is coached by a Washington graduate, Ed Leader, these two fine crews are not destined to meet.

The midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy, having seen more competition than either Yale or Washington and beaten seven of the eight crews they have faced, also stand high in the table of results to date.

Figured as the principal eastern standard-bearer at Poughkeepsie, the Navy already has beaten the rough and ready California eight in addition to Massachusetts Tech (twice), Harvard, Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Princeton. The Navy's lone defeat was suffered at the hands of Columbia by a bare quarter-length in its first race of the season.

Columbia also has done well and while most followers of rowing believe the New Yorkers are not quite up to the standard of last year's championship crew, the charges of young Rich Glendon promise to make it tough for the midshipmen, coached by his father, "Old Dick," and the two far western eights.

Cornell is the only other varsity combination with better than a 500 winning average. Unimpressive in their first start when they were turned by Yale, the Ithacans, with a revamped lineup, outrowed Syracuse and Harvard a few days later. If they can show as much improvement at Poughkeepsie they may cause trouble.

California is rated better than the cold figures indicate as the losses to Washington and the Navy were by narrow margins.

Massachusetts Tech, Syracuse, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin are rated as dark horses in the Poughkeepsie fleet with any of the four quite capable of pulling a surprise and getting up among the leaders.

HORNSBY READY TO PLAY IN 3 WEEKS

Chicago (AP)—Rogers Hornsby has notified President William L. Veck of the Cubs, that he will be ready to rejoin the club in about three weeks, but the Rajah probably will not be pushed into action.

Clarence Blair has not shown steady improvement at second base as well as at bat and will be left there until Hornsby is thoroughly ready to go back to work. Lester Bell also is being given plenty of time for his lame arm to mend.

ATLAS MILL BEATS GUARDSMEN, 7 AND 5

Atlas Mill softball team bumped Co. D, Tuesday evening in a regularly scheduled National softball league game at Pierce park. The score was 7 and 5.

The guardsmen went out in front during the early innings while Crane, hurler for the Mill team, was settling down. After that he was invincible and the guards tossed their own game away by a lot of erratic fielding.

VON PORAT, STRIB TO FIGHT FRIDAY NIGHT

Chicago (AP)—Otto Von Porat and William Stribling will go through their important heavyweight boxing exercises in the Chicago Stadium Friday night, instead of tonight as planned.

CAR REGISTRATIONS SHOW BIG DROP IN COUNTY AND CITY

Report From State Shows That Car Sales Fall Off In Last Month

Large decreases are noted in the number of new automobiles registered in cities, counties, and in the state during May as compared to the same month in 1929 in a report issued by the secretary of state. The decreases are noted in figures released for Appleton and Outagamie counties also.

In Appleton in May there were 181 new cars registered compared with 264 in the same month in 1929. The total for the first five months of this year is 552 compared to 530 in the same period last year.

The same decided falling off in the number of new cars was noticeable in the county. Last month there were 345 new cars registered, while in May, 1930, there were 471 new cars registered. The total number of new cars in the county in the first five months of this year is 999 while in the first five months of 1929 there were 1,081 new cars registered.

Figures for the state reveal there were 16,902 new cars registered in May while in May 1929, there were 22,088 new cars. For the first five months of the year, in the state, there were 47,955 new cars registered and in the same period in 1929 there were 54,070 new cars registered.

Following is a list of figures for some cities of about the same size as Appleton, the first figure gives the number of new cars in May, and the second the number for the first five months of the year: Appleton, 191,

Five Sultanic Palaces Are Problem to Mustapha Kemal

BY PRISCILLA RING

Istanbul (AP)—Wanted, by the Turkish Republic, suggestions on how to make republican use of five imperial palaces.

When Mustapha Kemal began his creation of a new Turkey he solved the problem of the sultans by the simple process of exiling the last shadowy occupant of the Ottoman throne. But after eight years he has not solved the problem of what to do with the sultans' dwellings.

Minor summer palaces of princes, princesses, and pashas are being rented to the Turkish equivalents of Tom, Dick, and Harry, for ten dollars a month, with few takers even at that price, or are being utilized as tobacco factories or orphanages. But over five of the six sultanic palaces in Istanbul, question marks hover.

Only one of the six has found a definite new destiny. The oldest and most famous, the Seraglio built by Sultan Mohammed, conqueror of Constantinople, in 1482, has been transformed into a museum.

The residence of the last caliph, the enormous rococo pile of Dolma-Bagiche (Stuffed Garden), so huge that its marble quay stretches for 1800 feet along the Bosphorus, has been put into sporadic use as a summer residence for Mustapha Kemal. But now that the ghazi has built himself a summer capital at Yalova, he is not likely to use the place again as a dwelling.

Istanbul's dance addicts—and they number thousands—have suggested that Dolma-Bagiche would make an ideal dance hall. They argue that there is no other building in town big enough to accommodate Istanbul's increasing hordes of fox-trotters who at present endure the crushes at Turkish charity balls in no very charitable mood. The government has given no answer to this dance hall project.

Yildiz Palace, towering in a superb park above the Bosphorus and favorite residence of Sultan Abdul Hamid the Red, blossomed briefly under republican skies as a gambling casino during the government's abortive attempt to convert the Bosphorus into another Riviera with this Monte Carlo as a starter. The alarming rate at which Turkish citizens lost at the roulette tables, made the government speedily regret its venture.

The Italian manager went bankrupt, and the shutters of Yildiz are closed again while the government debates the possibility of turning it into a college for girls, the first Turkish rival to the American college for women further up the Bosphorus.

Turkey's new inaugurated "tourist policy" includes the scheme of turning other palaces into hotels, but the falling off in the number of visitors this year has temporarily shadowed this project. If the tourist trade and Turkey's finances in general pick up, hotels may still be made of the beautiful marble palaces of Beylerbey where Empress Eugenie once lodged as magnificent quest of the Ottoman Empire and where guesse Abdol Hamid died, of the place of Teheran, reduced to a rubble skeleton by the fire of 1910, but a skeleton whose every bone speaks of splendor; and of the smaller charming Bosphorus palace of Queen Souda (Smy Water) which stands at the mouth of the Sweet Waters of Asia.

A 280-foot mast has been erected in India to enable meteorologists to study weather conditions for the guidance of pilots of dirigibles that will be operated between England and India.

INTENSIVE DRIVE FOR HOSPITAL TO START NEXT WEEK

2,500 Persons Attend 31 Meetings To Discuss Campaign

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—H. M. Holbrook, a specialist on campaign organization, and C. P. Houseman, especially trained in soliciting have arrived here to continue with C. E. Booth, campaign director of the Memorial hospital campaign fund. Both are through men and will remain through the intensive work of the campaign which begins on Tuesday of next week.

The preparatory work has included not only this community but all the region about New London. Thirty one meetings have been held outside the city, at which approximately 2,500 people have been present. The campaign director feels that of this number fully half are prospective hospital supporters, and that 25 per cent have signified their desire to cooperate and share in the campaign work. Twenty three ministers in churches of the territory have been influential in calling out church groups while at the same time acting either as chairman or in some other capacity.

Certificates are offered which entitle the holder and all members of his family to free medical examination. This service is given as a form of interest and it was pointed out, will point the way to health development by decreasing chances of illness.

Doctors of the territory have loaned their names and support to the movement, and a women's committee has been formed, headed by Mrs. Carrie Hooper. This group will meet on Thursday evening.

Members of the woman's committee are: Mrs. Carrie Hooper, Mrs. John J. Burns, Mrs. G. A. Vandree, Mrs. N. R. Denning, Mrs. Chas. Abraham, Mrs. Geo. Ribbany, Mrs. William Werner, Mrs. A. C. Bonchard, Mrs. Ray Pruhl, Mrs. M. A. Borchardt, Mrs. Chas. Voss, Mrs. John Dickinson, Mrs. Curtis Coe, Mrs. Lulu Downer, Miss Thelma Kroll, Mrs. Chas. Black, Miss Ruth Brenskie, Mrs. Walter Smith, Miss Ila Vergez.

With W. T. Constock as publicity director and J. J. Burns as general chairman the committee on organization is as follows: F. L. Zaug, Harry Christy, A. L. Severance, E. W. Wandell, William Miller, Jr., J. C. Mahon, George Puerst, C. H. Kellogg, Wm. Werner, Walter Paschke, C. M. Jelleff, Dona Roosa, Joan Dickenson, Leo Meshke, Wm. Kimber.

NEW LONDON PERSONALS

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Neville of Fond du Lac are guests at the home of Mrs. Neville's sister Mrs. G. W. Dammig.

Mrs. Frank Murphy and daughter Glenna, who have been visiting in Indiana have returned to their home here. They were met at Janesville by Dr. Murphy and Sam Marsh of this city.

40 CHILTON PEOPLE ATTEND ORDINATION

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Chilton—About 40 Chilton people were in Fond du Lac Sunday to witness the ordination to the priesthood of the Rev. Harold H. Keyes. The ceremony took place in St. Paul's Cathedral and was conducted by Bishop Harwood Sturtevant of Appleton.

At 8 o'clock Monday morning the Rev. Keyes offered his first Holy Eucharist at St. Boniface church. He was assisted by the Rev. C. O. O'Brien of Columbus, Wis., and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Charles Gunnell, rector of Calvary church in Waseca, Minn.

Among those from this city who attended the service at Fond du Lac were: Mr. and Mrs. William Aebischer, Mrs. Lyvina Albers and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Weeks, Mrs. Louise Paulsen, Mrs. Anna Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kurtz and daughter, Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Maples, Mrs. Jessie Moyers, Mr. J. E. Reinhold and daughter, Madeline, Mr. and Mrs. Bove and children.

Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Haesley of Chicago spent Saturday and Sunday in this city visiting relatives. Thomas Flately, Henry Ronch, Daniel Joyke, Robert Porokin, Ray Millay and William Carney were in Green Bay Sunday to attend the diocesan convention. They are the delegates from the St. Augustine's Holy Name society. At a recent meeting this society elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Henry Roach, president; Neal Leahy, treasurer; Lorin Schumacher, secretary.

The Rev. William Arpke attended the annual Sheboygan Classis meeting at Potter during the past week, and on Saturday morning conducted the services.

The Women's Missionary society of the Ebenezer Reformed church was entertained at the home of Mrs. George Eldridge Thursday afternoon.

EXPECT 250 WILL ATTEND MEETING OF CHURCH GROUP

Manawa To Be Host To Northern Wisconsin Synod Of Lutherans

Special to Post-Crescent
Manawa—Approximately 250 pastors, teachers and delegates will arrive in Manawa, Wednesday, June 18, for the convention of the North Wisconsin district of the Missouri Synod, congregating at St. Paul Lutheran church here. The convention will open with divine services at 8 o'clock in the evening in the church, of which the Rev. R. A. Karpinsky is pastor and continue until Tuesday, June 24. The convention will reach its climax in the Sunday morning and afternoon services in which the four hundredth anniversary of the Augsburg Confession will be especially observed. Plans are being made for an attendance of 3,000 people on Sunday.

All the convention sessions and services will be held in St. Paul church. The Sunday services, however, weather permitting, will be held in the park owned by the congregation on the east side of Manawa. In case of bad weather the services will be held in St. Paul church and the high school assembly room. Most of the delegates will be guests of the members of this and the Synco church during their stay for the convention.

The opening services on Wednesday evening will be conducted by the Rev. F. Potenhauer, D. D., president of the Missouri synod, or by his representative.

Committee meetings will be held during the day on Wednesday. The regular business sessions of the convention will open Thursday morning with an address by the Rev. H. Dahl, district president from Merrill. Business sessions, many of which will be addressed by national leaders of the church, will continue from 9 o'clock to noon and from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock each day of the convention except Sunday.

The North Wisconsin district embraces all of Wisconsin north of the south line of Waupaca and northern Michigan.

Miss Mary McDermott and Jacob C. Stadler were married at Milwaukee Tuesday morning. Immediately following the ceremony they left on a trip to Niagara Falls and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will make their home at Blanchardville.

CHILDREN PRESENT PROGRAM AT CHURCH

Town Of Brillion Pays Tuition To Kaukauna And Brillion For 28 Pupils

Forest Junction—The annual children's day and the fiftieth since its inception in the Evangelical church, was observed with an appropriate program by the Sunday school at Zion Evangelical church Sunday forenoon.

Pupils from classes taught by Mrs. Edward J. Franz, Mrs. Robert Kleinh, Mrs. Louise Runge, Mrs. Fred Mielke, Mrs. Harry Luckow and Miss Norma Stanelle appeared in recitation and dialogues. The customary children's day address was delivered by the Rev. E. A. Lau, while the fiftieth anniversary was granted recognition in a specially prepared address given by Albert Stanelle, member of the young people's division of the school.

Special local musical numbers were provided by an adult directed chorus of about 50 voices directed by Louis Runge and accompanied by Miss Mildred Baumgartner as pianist; and a young people's division chorus of over 100 voices directed by Miss Flora Haese, with Mrs. Ira Leifer as accompanist. Mrs. R. J. Hacker was chairman of the program committee which arranged the observance.

Tuition claims in behalf of non-resident students, against the town of Brillion for the school year ending June 30, 1930, aggregate $2,714.36. Of this amount, according to the claims filed this week in the office of the town clerk, the town is indebted to Kaukauna high school for the instruction of two pupils, and for 26 pupils to Brillion high school.

At Brillion the cost of instruction totals $11,644.31 for 120 pupils for 36 weeks; at Kaukauna the total cost of instruction was $36,309.07 for 353 pupils for 37 weeks. Based upon these computations, the amount due Kaukauna for tuition is $187.16 and to Brillion, $2,827.20. The figures represent an increase over those of the last previous year, when Kaukauna received $172.42 and Brillion $2,384.

A miscellaneous shower was given Monday evening at the Arthur Stanelle home in honor of Miss Hattie Stanelle, whose marriage to George Haase of Kaukauna is to take place here next Saturday afternoon.

REQUEST GRANTED TO INSTALL NEW LIGHTS IN CITY

Electric System Will Replace Old Arc System In Kaukauna

Kaukauna — A request to install new street lights about the city, made by the utility commission, was granted by the common council Tuesday evening. The lights will be of various candle power, depending upon their location. A report of Herbert Weckwerth, superintendent of the city utility department, was given by Alderman E. R. Landreman, which showed that with the installation of the new lights there still will be a saving of 12 per cent over the cost of operating the old arc light system, which was recently removed. Twenty-one lights will be installed.

Lights will be installed on the following intersections: Lincoln-ave and High-ave; Lawe and Catherine-ave; Highland-ave and the C. and W. railroad tracks; Catherine and Canal-ave; McKinnon-ave and Green Bay-ave; Green Bay-ave and Berke-ave; Green Bay-ave and Sullivan-ave; Sixth-ave and Ninth-ave; Crooks and Seventeenth-ave; Kline-ave and Ninth-ave; Sullivan-ave and Eleventh-ave; Kenneth-ave and Seventh-ave and Eighth-ave; Tenth-ave and Seventh-ave; Island-ave and Badger Tissue mill; Sixth-ave and Main-ave; Twelfth-ave and Grignon-ave; Brothers, Desnoyer and Lawe-ave; Tobacco-ave and Lincoln-ave; Seventh-ave and Crooks-ave; and Ninth-ave and Crooks-ave.

Most of the lights have been petitioned for by property owners while the rest were recommended by the utility commission and the council. The lights will be electric, as are the rest in the new incandescent system just installed.

GRANT 21 PERMITS

Twenty-one class A permits for the operation of soft drink parlors were granted by the council. They were Ernest Robach, 101 Island-st; Henry Loe, 100 Island-st; J. Schermitzler, 120 Third-st; Joseph Asikauer, 414 Depot-st; Charles Curry, 111 E. Wisconsin-ave; John Coppes, 701 Dodge-st; E. J. Mitchell, 163 Wisconsin-ave; John Timmers, 137 Wisconsin-ave; C. J. Giesbers, 110 Main-ave; J. Heinz, 400 Tenth-st; Jacob Miller, 110 Third-st; Otto Luedtke, 101 E. Wisconsin-ave; Mrs. Thelma Powers, 101 Second-st; William Lucassen, 301 Seventh-st; George Giesbers, 127 Second-st; Henry Muthig, 107 W. Wisconsin-ave; William Jirkow, 127 Desnoyer-st; Peter J. Metz, 142 E. Third-st; Walter Kappel, 117 W. Second-st; J. Gertz, 147 Second-st; and R. E. Roberts, 126 Sixth-st.

Mayor B. W. Fargo appointed Aldermen William Carnot and E. A. Brewster to the board of public works. The board will meet July 7. The mayor also extended an invitation to the council members to journey to Madison with him next week to get information regarding the new bridge.

The corner of Division and Grignon-sts will be widened 10 feet. Alderman Walter Cooper said that the north road committee advised the widening of the corner as there is a sharp curve there and a big hill on one side. It was pointed out that the curve is dangerous and that the expense of widening the street at this point will cost less than $200.

DISCUSS SEWERS

The conditions of the sewers in several places on the north side was discussed. Mayor Fargo said that the sewer in the vicinity of Wisconsin-ave and Depot-st is causing a stench. Alderman Cooper said that the sewer will be flushed. He said that sewers in parts of the old Tilmann addition, now called the White City, must be put in high in order to get drainage. Mayor Fargo said that the sewer committee can investigate but could promise no relief. He said that the property owners knew of the condition that existed when they bought property there. The sewer committee also will investigate the drainage pipe that empties the sewage of the north side into the river. It was reported that about 40 feet is exposed and the sewage causes an odor in that vicinity.

Alderman Cooper said that youths from the ages of 14 to 20 years are playing ball in the Lawe-st park and causing a general disturbance and that it ought to be prohibited. Mayor Fargo said that the park board is putting two men to work in the north side parks and that the practice will be stopped. Alderman Cooper said that he has received numerous complaints.

The first reading of the $100,000 bond issue took place. Two bills for bondor's care were disallowed by the council. The council indicated that no bills will be allowed in such cases unless the parties are on the city poor list.

ALDERMAN KICKS ABOUT BUGS, THEN PRAISES SERVICE

Kaukauna — Aldermen cannot conduct affairs of the city in a satisfactory manner when they are bothered with bugs. At the council meeting Tuesday evening Alderman E. R. Landreman brought out this fact and said that at the previous meeting the city officials were bothered by them. He moved that the council instruct the utility department to put screens on the windows of the council chamber.

Alderman Landreman probably overlooked the fact that there are no bugs in the council room and evidenced surprise when shown that screens were put on the windows since the last meeting. He immediately changed his motion to a compliment to the utility department on the prompt service.

CORN, BEETS SHOW BEST IMPROVEMENT

Pastures, Small Grain And Hay Least Developed. Writer Finds

BY W. F. WINSEY

All crops are responding in healthy colors and more rapid growth to the showers of the past week, but corn, potatoes, cabbage and sugar beets have made the greatest improvement and pasture, small grain and hay the least. The reason for pastures, hay and grain not keeping pace with the other crops is that pastures were grazed too close to respond quickly to any kind of incentive, small grain is heading out, clovers have blossomed, alfalfa is fast to cut. June grass is ripe and faded and timothy is thin on the ground and stunted beyond repair.

Prospective yields of crops approaching harvest based upon a survey of hundreds of fields in several counties last week and this during the rains are as follows: timothy

NEW SWIMMING HOURS ADOPTED FOR WOMEN

Kaukauna — Ladies wishing to swim at the municipal pool, but who are unable to take advantage of the open hours on Monday evenings for women, will be able to use the pool Friday mornings, according to Fay Fosson, attendant. The pool will be open from 9 to 10:30 each Friday morning.

A LITTLE AT A TIME

You'll enjoy coffee more if you buy Hills Bros. Coffee. No other coffee has such flavor. It is roasted a few pounds at a time instead of in bulk. Every berry is roasted evenly by this continuous process—Controlled Roasting.

Fresh from the original vacuum pack. Easily opened with the key.

hay one-half to three-quarters of a normal. Corn shows good stands but it must grow a foot taller to be knee high on July 1.

The reasons for the prospective low yields of farm crops are (1) low stands of dry soil for a month after planting, (2) cold weather, (3) frost injury.

Farmers are held up in alfalfa cutting by the rains and in working their corn fields, sugar beet fields and potato lands. Weeds are taking advantage of the absence of cultivation, and potatoes are a challenge

BEG PARDON

A statement in the special golf edition published last week that visitors would be permitted to play at the new Kaukauna golf course upon payment of green fees has given rise to the erroneous impression that the course will be operated similar to a public fee course. While visitors would be permitted to play, residents of Kaukauna will be allowed only a limited number of times upon payment of the fee.

A RECORD-BREAKING CAR IMPROVED— AND LOWER IN PRICE..

To improve the famous De Soto Six that broke all sales records for a first-year car—and continued without change for 22 months—is in itself a great feat of engineering. To offer this better car at a lower price is a master stroke of manufacturing and merchandising. The finer De Soto Six has, in addition to a bigger and more powerful engine, a new Steelweld Body—a definite step ahead in modern body construction that provides a greater measure of silence, strength and safety. By improving a record-breaking car and at the same time lowering the price, De Soto today breaks all six-cylinder records in value.

Now that Your First Choice Car Costs so Little More.. Why buy a lesser car?

Forget "list prices" and get the facts. Get the actual costs—trade-in, financing and extras considered. You will be astonished at how little, if anything, more it costs for the outstanding advantages of the Essex Challenger.

The ESSEX Challenger is a SUPER-SIX

Essex costs little more—yet it is a big car, with big car advantages. You ride with ease. You have the solid feeling of the biggest car.

Greatest of all, you have the pride of ownership expressed in these letters—typical of thousands.

"I have owned thirty automobiles, from $1,000 to $6,000. My Essex Challenger equals the best. It is roomy and after 7000 miles there is not a rattle. The light car I used to own was economical. But when I escaped frequent repair expense I considered myself lucky. Since owning my Essex I have learned repair expense is not a matter of luck. Its wonderful performance makes it truly the greatest car value."

Come examine and ride in the New Essex Challenger. See how little more it costs. Then no lesser car can satisfy.

Financial And Market News

SELLING RESUMED
ON MARKET; STOCKS REACH LOW LEVELSFeverish Liquidation Appears; Ticker Falls Way Behind Trading

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER

Associated Press Financial Editor

New York—(AP)—The ordeal of deflation was resumed with determination in the speculative markets

today, after yesterday's brief respite. Share prices shrank rapidly under the weight of feverish liquidation, stock exchange trading facilities were again overpowered and the ticker fell nearly an hour behind.

The failure of commodity prices to come to rest upon a firm bottom has been particularly discouraging in both industrial and financial circles. Wheat and cotton prices again tumbled to new low levels for the decline today, and are now around the levels of 1914. Copper prices were again shaded 1/2 of a cent

by some custom smelter to 11 1/2 cents, also the pre-war level of 1914.

The steady decline in the prices of staple commodities has been an unexpected sequel to the autumn

crash of stock prices in this country, although it is recalled that they started down in Europe in 1928.

Bankers are now of the opinion that the decline was deferred here only by the bull stock market of 1928-29. Manufacturing industry felt fairly secure last fall because of its comparatively low inventories of raw materials, and no such deflation as occurred in 1921-22 was thought possible.

It now appears, however, that the rapid increase in the capacity to produce both raw materials and manufactured goods since the war was not fully taken into account.

With post-war adjustments largely completed, industry now finds itself with plant and equipment in excess of the requirements of present consumption, and confronted with heavy overhead charges for maintaining it. As always happens at such times, price cutting develops, and consumers hold off in the hope of getting the very bottom

prices. In the meantime, earnings and purchasing power suffer.

SEE CUPBURN

While it is generally acknowledged that a seasonal upturn must be expected in the fall, Wall Street is unable to make any convincing prediction as to when actual stability will be restored, and stock prices

continued to slide. Seasonal slackening of activity in business only serves to intensify the gloom. Iron Age reports in its weekly survey that steel production has dropped 3 per cent this week to 65 per cent of capacity, that one middle western plant serving the automotive trade has closed down entirely, and other plants to shortly.

Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Du Pont, north American, American Water Works,

American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Johns Manville, Consolidated

Gas, and Columbia Gas, dropped about 5 to 10 points. A short-lived rally appeared in the early afternoon. Among the high priced issues, J. I. Case and Allied Chemical dropped about 25 points, and Eastman Kodak, 15. Many important issues were carried close to their low level of November.

The headlong decline, which had driven scores of stocks 5 to 10 points lower, was checked late in the day by a recovery of 2 to 6 points. The close was heavy. Sales approximated 7,250,

500 shares.

50 LEADING STOCKS HIT BY NEW SLIDELoss Of Several Points Under Tuesday's Close Characterizes Market

New York—(AP)—Closing prices of 50 leading issues on the stock exchange, together with the closing quotations of yesterday, are given below. When the market closed today the stock ticker was 74 minutes late in recording transactions and these final prices were made public by the stock exchange over the bond tickers. Total sales approximated 7,500,000 shares.

EFFORTS AGAINST CHAINS ARE NOT VERY SUCCESSFUL

Profit Reports Show Up Better This Year Than For Last Year

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1936, by Cons. Press
Washington — (CPA) — Efforts to curtail the activities of the chain stores have not met with any marked success. This is evidenced by the sales and profit reports for the year to date which have come to governmental and private agencies here. In fact, the records make a better showing by far than the average of individual merchandising units.

Sales reported by 32 chain store companies for the last month showed a total of $161,004,511 as compared with $154,883,280 for the corresponding period of 1935. This was a gain of 3.93 per cent. The total sales of these companies for the first five months of the year amounted to $704,875,544 as against $682,005,519 in the same months of 1935. And this was during a period when business conditions admittedly were disrupted and depression existed in many lines.

With sales records like these, it is not astonishing that efforts should be made by many states to impose special license taxes on chain stores. These efforts have led to a wide legal controversy. The chain stores stand firmly on the fourteenth amendment to the constitution, which provides that no state may deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of its laws.

There must be no discrimination against particular persons or classes. As the courts have said, all persons similarly circumstanced must be treated alike. The gist of the battle lies in the words "similarly circumstanced."

LEVY GRADUATED TAX

There is nothing in the constitutional provision, however, which prevents the state from making reasonable classifications for tax purposes. In many cases the chain store tax laws enacted by state legislatures have levied a graduated tax based on the number of stores. In Indiana for example, the tax was $3 for the first store; $5 for 1 to 5 stores; $10 for 5 to 10 stores; $20 for each store over 10 and under 20 and $25 for each store over 20.

The chain stores maintain that putting them in separate classes violates the equal protection clause of the constitution. They point out that a chain may have 40 stores but the amount of capital invested, gross sales, net income and value of the business may be less than that of a single department store. The chains ask why they should pay a tax when the department store pays no similar tax. In other words, they deny the right of the state to put them and the department stores in different classes for taxing purposes.

Seven of the 17 state legislatures recently in session considered chain store tax legislation. In South Carolina, Texas and Louisiana, bills were introduced imposing a tax at a graduated rate, depending upon the

TECHNICALLY FREES OPERATOR OF CAFE

Chicago — (P) — There's a story in the raid on the Maison Ritz Cafe—a story and a half.

The place, operated by David Muligan, called "Cock-eye," was raided by police under a warrant that described the place as occupying "two and one-half stories" in the building at 22 E. Adams-st.

Police found liquor, they said, but it was on the fourth floor. "You can't hold my client," said Attorney Nick Nomando.

ELECTRIC LIGHT GROUP IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

San Francisco — (P) — A full day's program of entertainment today awaited delegates to the fifty-third annual convention of the National Electric Light association.

The convention opened yesterday. President Matthew S. Sloan reviewed economic and political developments of the last year affecting the light and power industry and voiced a demand for application of economic principles through "laws protecting the public without penalizing the utilities."

He reported that a survey of the power and light industry showed $1,045,000,000 would be expended this year for extension of service facilities and said that was the industry's contribution to the united efforts of business to overcome the stock market crash last fall.

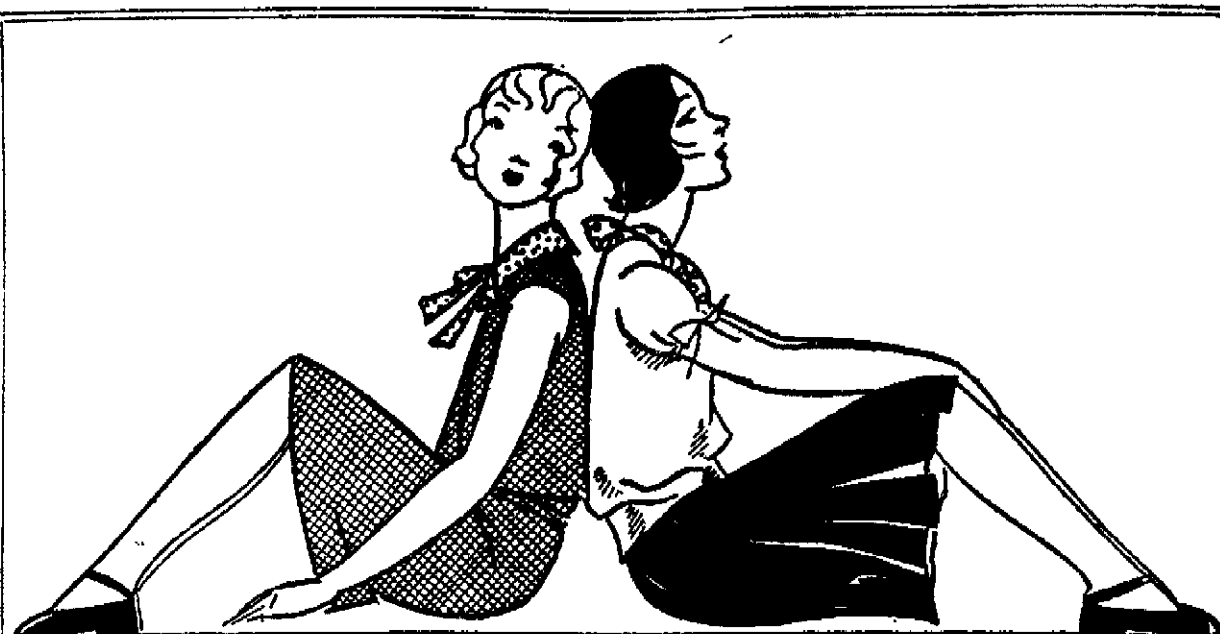

Paul S. Clapp, managing director of the association, read a report saying 5,500,000 new electrical customers had been registered in five years and that nearly 600,000 farms had been electrified. The six billion dollar investment of 1925 had grown to an investment of eleven billions, he said.

number of stores. The South Carolina bill became a law, the Texas bill failed to pass and the Louisiana bill is still before the legislature.

Eats Up Grimy Grease

When your hands are black with grease, grab a cake of this magic soap, plunge into any water—hard or cold—and instantly you have a thick lather that dissolves grime and grease! Contains no pumice, 100% coconut oil. Wonderful for bath and shampoo. Big white over-size cake, 10c. Try it right away.

If You're Twelve-Years-Old And Have a Chum-

Being twelve is awfully good fun when you have a chum—and the two of you like the very same things. You hike together and party together. Play together and study together. Even shop together! And when you shop together you buy similar things that differ just enough!

You're both going to camp, so you select a suit of shirts with a middy or shorts with a tuck-in blouse that has short sleeves and a polo neck. They're built for freedom, so you won't have to think about your clothes. In green, gold and blue. $1.95.

— Pettibone's, Fourth Floor —

Because you both like Lucette and Fleurette frocks, you buy a delightful print with short sleeves, of course. And if the budget will stand it, you choose a plain one apiece in the summer colors you like best.

$1.95 to $3.95

Jack Tar Togs for Outings

These can easily be squeezed into the allowance, because they are only $1.95 now. Ordinarily they are $3.95. A blue bloomer frock with a regulation middie — just the thing for picnics.

Let Him Play this Summer in a Comfortable Sun Suit 75c $1.00 $1.50

It doesn't make much difference to him whether you choose a cotton or a wool sun suit for him, he's going to have the time of his life in it. Wool suits in brilliant colors, sizes 2 to 10 years, are $1.50. Cotton suits in solid colors or trimmed with white are $1 for the same sizes.

— Pettibone's, Fourth Floor —

A Cool Romper for a Hot Day $1.00 to $2.95

Western Half Of City Makes Big Growth In 10 Years

1930 CENSUS IS PROOF OF ADVANCE MADE IN DECADE

New Factories And Home Follow Establishment Of Park And School

Led by German and Irish settlers who came to America about the middle of the nineteenth century settling in what is now the Third and Fifth wards, the west end of Appleton has grown until it is a leader in population and business development.

Proof of the tremendous expansion of the two wards is evidenced from federal census figures this year. Both wards outnumbered others in the city by several hundred. The Third ward during the past 10 years has grown from 3,821 people to 5,154, and the Fifth ward made the largest expansion, increasing in population from 3,715 to 5,494 people.

Construction of the new Wilson Junior high school was a protest factor in the growth of the Fifth ward and the development of Pierce park has led to the expansion of the Third ward, according to business of the west end.

Some of the most beautiful homes in Appleton are near Pierce park, and according to statistics offered by John Welland, building inspector, a large number of houses have been constructed north of Prospect-ave between Outagamie and Story-sts.

Many light manufacturing plants have found their places on the west side of the city. The Knoke Lumber company and Konz Box factory, Liethen Grain company, Fuhrenmann Canning factory and others are among these plants.

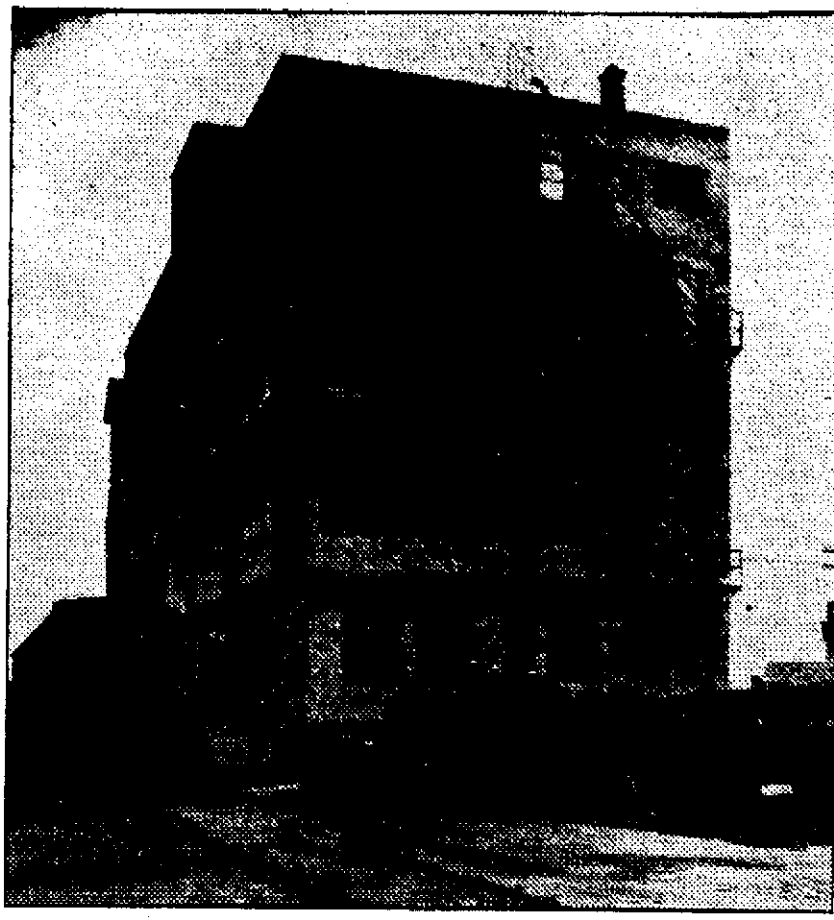

The paving of W. College-ave from State-st to N. Story-st was the first incentive for business establishments to move west. Construction of the boulevard and asphalt pavement from Story to Outagamie-sts also had a marked effect on the rapid growth westward.

At the present time a program of home construction is rapidly materializing in the northwestern part of the city. Just recently streets were developed between N. Mason-st and west of N. Badger-ave.

QUICK-WITTED THIEF

Elvira, O. —Mrs. Harold M. Horace evidently isn't so well acquainted with her husband's voice, or the thief who recently ransacked her home was a good imitator. One night recently she heard a noise in the kitchen. "Is that you, Harold?" she called downstairs. "Yes, dear," came the reply. Thinking it was her husband Mrs. Horace went back to sleep. Later the real Horace came home to find the house ransacked.

West End Elevator

This modern storage elevator and manufacturing plant pictured above is operated by the Liethen Grain Co. which moved into the structure a few months ago. The building is of fire proof construction and represents an investment of about $60,000.

Chinese Woman Carries On Robin Hood Tactics

Peiping—(P)—"Rob the rich; help the poor." So goes the slogan of China's woman "Robin Hood."

Swooping down upon a prosperous village bank or holding up a train, she gathers loot enough to provide square meals for a few days in some other village stricken by poverty or famine.

"Marshal Chang" the common people call her, and the title is not unwarranted, for several thousand followers obey her commands, it is reported. Her bandit army is well equipped with arms and ammunition bought from deserting soldiers of the Chinese civil war armies.

Great ceremony attends her appearance in a village of poor people, for they know her arrival means the distribution of either grain or money to the needy.

"Marshal Chang" believes in advertising. Whenever she goes handbills appear with the slogan: "Rob the rich; help the poor." "Support the cause of Marshal Chang," "Marshal Chang is the salvation star of the poor people," etc.

Once this Chinese bandit Amazon was a law-abiding citizen, living on a farm with her husband and children. They had a few cows, a donkey or two, chickens and ducks, and were fairly prosperous.

Then one night the Chang place was robbed and the husband murdered. The widow swore revenge, sold all her possessions, turned bandit herself and began her depredations.

Military leaders have tried vainly to persuade her to give up banditry. She has refused alike offers of a "pension" or to join her forces with some military organization.

HIS WAY OUT

The pupil had handed in his composition with a long string of dots and dashes at the end of it.

"What are those marks for?" asked the teacher.

"Oh, those are the punctuation marks," replied the boy. "Put them in to suit yourself." —Tit-Bits.

LIETHEN COMPANY OPERATES MODERN STORAGE BUILDING

Structure Is Equipped For Efficient Handling Of Its Products

One of the oldest concerns in the west end, remembered by many old settlers as the Maurice Barto Hay-Pressing company, is the ancestor of the modern E. Liethen Grain company. The former firm which was located on the north west corner of College-ave and Richmond-st. in addition to pressing hay, bought butter, eggs, wool and grain from the farmers of the neighboring country.

In 1888 the Marshall Hammel company bought the property, and in 1900 installed the first electric driven feed grinder. This company operated the property along much the same lines as their predecessor and in 1916 sold out to Engelbert Liethen, founder of the present E. Liethen Grain company, Inc. Since his death the business has been under the direction of his wife, Mrs. Anna Liethen, Frank Liethen and Rose Liethen.

Because of inadequate facilities for handling and storing grain, feed, and flour, plans were drawn up and work commenced October 1 on the new $60,000 home of the company near the intersection of Badger and College avenues. The new structure is the only one of its particular kind in the state north of Milwaukee, according to Frank Liethen who is the present manager. In it are stored grain, sugar, seed and various kinds of feed.

Rising five stories in the air, and built throughout of steel reinforced concrete the new plant is equipped with all the most modern and efficient methods of loading and unloading grains and feeds as well as an efficient transfer and elevating system.

Mr. Liethen related an interesting fact in regard to the grain situation in the vicinity. "Where we used to ship a carload of grain a day, the dairy demands of the countryside now are greater than the grain production and we have to import grain," he said.

Plans are in progress now for the specialization in feed manufacture by the Liethen grain company with the main product a sweet feed attained by mixing various grains with molasses. A fleet of trucks transfers the grain and feed to and from the plant throughout this section of the state.

ATLANTIC HOP LAST FOR KINGSFORD-SMITH

Dublin —(P)— When Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith sets foot on the American continent at the end of his forthcoming transatlantic flight he will have completed his last aerial adventure.

Keeping a pledge to his bride-to-be, Miss Mary Powell, pretty daughter of a Melbourne, Australia, merchant, the intrepid air hero, who has flown across the Pacific ocean, will give up aviation after the Atlantic hop.

He will sell the Southern Cross, the "patchwork" plane in which he and other fliers have reeled approximately 70,000 miles in 750 flying hours, marry the girl of his heart and rest on his honors.

Captain Kingsford-Smith revealed today that Miss Powell, whom he met last year on a mail boat going out to Australia, had exacted the promise from him as a condition of their betrothal.

The heart is one of the strongest organs in the body.

THREE MEN KILLED IN OHIO BOOTLEG STRIFE

Ravenna, Ohio —(P)— Three men are dead and a fourth was at the point of death here today as the result of a shooting affray in an alleged bootleg feud. All the bullets were fired by one man who turned the revolver on himself when he feared capture by police.

The dead are: Joseph Dinato, 40, the alleged gun wielder; Benjamin DeAnglin, 36, and Frank DeEulis, 35.

Mason Work by Lillge

It takes brick and stone to build a satisfactory structure, but just as important is the fact that an experienced mason — one skilled in his craft — must get the utmost in beauty, endurance and practicability out of the materials.

Fred H. Lillge, Jr., mason for over 30 years, supervised the mason work in the new Schlitz Bros. West End Drug Store. He is ready at any time to help you solve your problems in masonry — adequately and economically.

We are proud of the mason work in the new Schlitz building. We feel that it is another reflection of the Lillge tradition.

A SIGNIFICANT story is told in the resources of this bank: $57,000 in 1912; $450,000 in 1922; more than $600,000 in 1930. Here is active proof that this, the only bank West of the ravine, is going forward, matching, stride for stride, the progress of the Greater West Side — of the Greater Appleton.

The spirit of personal service, the assurance of absolute allegiance to depositors' interests and the exercise of sound banking judgment are the primary factors in the growth of the Outagamie County Bank. It is a growth which makes for further growth... a progress which is self-motivating.

As a result, the increase in deposits has been particularly gratifying, the amount of business transacted, the financial aid given, has all substantially increased. More and more, people are turning to this bank for financial advice, for the establishment of an estate.

Yet, in the face of this growth, the Outagamie County Bank has never lost sight of the intimate, human side of banking upon which so much depends. Here, the customer finds a business-like atmosphere plus a spirit of friendliness — a business place in which he feels comfortably at home.

Come in now if you have not already discovered the advantages of this reliable, friendly bank.

Twenty Five Years...

each one stronger than its predecessor... quality tells

FOR the past twenty five years, the Fraser organization has been building homes and stores and supplying the materials for these structures. Each year has been a stronger and greater one than its predecessor — has found the Fraser company in an even stronger position than before.

It is a story told in simple terms—Quality.

It implies, of course, quality of service, of materials, of workmanship, of originality and of dependability.

The Fraser company takes complete charge of building stores and homes. They assist in the formulating of plans, and their part in the job does not end until the building has been given its finishing touches and has proved its worthiness.

It is with real significance that they can say: THE FRASER LUMBER COMPANY HAS BUILT MORE HOMES IN THE THIRD AND FIFTH WARDS OF APPLETON THAN ANY OTHER SINGLE FIRM IN THE CITY!

It is a record of which they are proud. Let them prove its advantages to you now.

16 ON PAYROLL OF WICHMAN COMPANY WEST END LEADER

Furniture Company Has Made Rapid Growth In Thirty Years

Organized by the late Louis Wichman and Joseph Grassberger 30 years ago, the Wichman Furniture company, 513-17 W. College-ave is one of the largest furniture and undertaking establishments in Appleton. At present it is under the management of Earl Wichman, son of Louis. Instead of a combined furniture and undertaking establishment, the Wichman corporation now operates a four story furniture store on W. College-ave, and a funeral home at the corner of Oneida-st and Franklin-st.

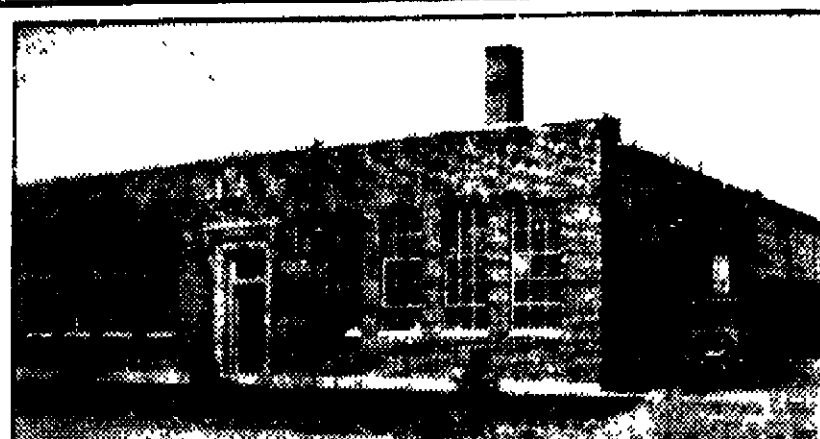

Originally the firm was known as the Grassberger and Wichman company. Five years after its organization Mr. Grassberger sold his interest to Joseph Kroner, and the place became known as Wichman and Kroner. Eight years later Mr. Wichman purchased the Kroner interest, and since that time the store has been known as the Wichman Furniture company. Up until eight years ago, when the new four story building was erected the store was located in the building now occupied by the G. Q. Electric company. The undertaking parlors were a part of the furniture store until two years ago, when the company purchased the Conn funeral home.

When the Grassberger and Wichman combination first opened its store there were three employees; now there are 16, including four undertakers. Other furniture stores in Appleton at that time were the Schreiter, Bretschneider, Schommer and Saecker and Diderich furniture stores.

Officers of the Wichman company, incorporated in 1923, are Mrs. Augusta Wichman, president; Joseph Loessel, vice president; George L. Johnson, secretary and treasurer; Earl Wichman, manager.

Flourishing Industry

The Advance Car Mover Co., one of the city's pioneer institutions, two years ago joined the trek of industry to the western part of the city and now is comfortably housed in the plant pictured here. The building is located at 112 N. Outagamie-st where excellent railroad facilities are provided. The Advance Car Mover Co. has been in existence for fifty years.

Monthly Stock Fair Is West End Institution

The stock fair grounds at the north end of Walnut-st for many years has been the mecca of buyers of "baby" pigs from within a radius of 150 to 200 miles. The fair is held the last Saturday of each month, and from 75 to 100 farmers and prospective pig buyers attend.

During the past few years, however, there has been a rapid change in the congregation which monthly meets at the famous old landmark. Days were when women and children came to market with husbands and fathers to help transact the business and make purchases near the grounds—but today the majority of those congregating at the square are men.

Driving into market in high powered automobiles farmers from within a radius of 20 to 30 miles transact their business, make a few hasty purchases and return to their farms in a short time to proceed with their daily tasks.

No longer do they spend the entire day at the grounds, making large purchases to fill the family larder for the remainder of the month until they return again at the end of the next 30 days.

However, the squealing of pigs, barking of dogs and the occasional bleating of lambs has become stronger in volume, as greater numbers of animals are brought to market.

Hundreds of baby pigs change cars to be transferred to new climates and new conditions.

Dogs and rabbits also are sold or exchanged quite frequently at the fair grounds. Every fair day at least three or four youngsters are seen running and dodging here and there with rabbits dangling by their ears from the tight clutch of small hands.

There are many other interesting sights at the fair grounds, and the spot is dear to the hearts of many old men of the city, who find a lot of enjoyment wandering here and there on the grounds in search of some interesting events of the day.

Way back in 1880 the Advance Car Mover company was conceived and was put into action with the erection of a small building, where the John Haug Coal company now is located, under the name of the Appleton Hay Tool company. The officers were Richard Miller president; John Kanouse, vice president; William Poliske, secretary and treasurer.

Rapid expansion necessitated steady enlargement. They built a factory where the present tissue mill stand. Soon this proved too small for the business and a new building was erected where the boller plant of the Fox River Paper company; now is in operation.

Later the name of the organization was changed to that of Advance Car Mover company, and a corporation was formed to operate the plant at the foot of E. John-st. Here the business continued for approximately 40 years. In 1923 the present large fire-proof building was erected at 112 N. Outagamie-st. and production started there.

Car movers and safety trucks with safety brakes, are the special products of the organization and are distributed to mills, coal yards, mines, quarries, oil companies and wholesale and retail stores all over the world through 450 distributing houses.

LINGUIST OF GERMAN FOREIGN OFFICE DIES

Berlin —(AP)—The German foreign office has lost its polyglot prodigy in Counselor Emil Krebs, who died in Berlin, aged 63.

Krebs spoke and read 45 languages and dialects, and "only read" 20 more.

At 25 he knew most European tongues and then became dragoman at the German legation in Peking, where he mastered the Asiatic ones. One day, a backwoods, Mongolian tribe sent a communication to the Chinese government that no one could understand. Krebs translated the document. Later, he returned to Berlin, where his phenomenal linguistic gifts were in much demand.

Once he was consulted on Persian marriage laws; perhaps the most complicated in the world, full of obscure points and terms for which there is no equivalent in German. He furnished a complete commentary, which is now incorporated in the State National Library.

Lithuanian, Lapp dialects, Blamsee, Korean, Tibetan, all came easy to Krebs, who held that after learning the first 25 languages, the rest was plain sailing. Icelandic he picked up in three weeks. Of the Basque language, supposed to be, for an outsider, the most difficult of all, he had a knowledge which enabled him to write articles for Basque newspapers.

The population of the non-Christian area of the Philippine archipelago is estimated by the provincial governors at 1,265,785.

From the Ashes of the Old—Rises the New "THE STORE OF YOUTH"

A drug store to faithfully fulfill its duty to a community must be a store of service and responsibility. Through the physician and dentist who writes your prescriptions we become one of the guardians of your health and the health of the community. We realize this responsibility. Then also to aid in preventing illness is a duty as exacting. And here again we touch the health and welfare of our customers. Direct owner management insures this responsibility. Then, too, the modern drug store must be a store of service. Not merely a place where you can purchase needful things at a reasonable fair price, but a store that contributes to the social life and welfare of its customers.

Come As Our Guests — See What We Have Provided

The new things here will surprise you in this sun light store of wide aisles, and sunlight windows everywhere. See how we have made this a more comfortable and easy store in which to shop and rest. See the new departments easily accessible, where beautiful things are arranged in tasty displays. See the new features found only in few of the larger metropolitan stores — such a feature as our Motion Picture Studio for private exhibitions.

This Store of Youth was created for the joy of living. It is what we worked for in our plans and unusual equipment. It represents years of thought. A study of the special needs and wants of the people of the West Side, of their spirit of youthfulness, and was built for all who seek new things, who have modern ideas, who appreciate ease, comfort and convenience in shopping. Who demand immaculate, tasty service in refreshments. To the youth of the growing West Side, whether one or one hundred, we say "See What We Have Provided".

This Store of Youth is dedicated to Appleton and the Growing West Side as a social and business center, for mothers, fathers, the boys and girls and the babies too. Come as our guests Thursday and enjoy the good things provided for all.

H. A. Schlintz

Note the Many Pleasant, Comfortable and Sanitary Features of the Soda Fountain and Luncheonette

Here is the pride of The Store of Youth. One hundred and five installations of Soda Fountains were visited for ideas — Some costing as high as $50,000.00. Experts were consulted. Plans and ideas were sifted. The best, we believe, from all of these were selected. Some features of soda service you will find nowhere else. For instance, not the "easy-to-eat-at" counter — like sitting in a comfortable chair at a table — Pullman chairs, leather cushioned with wicker backs and an easy foot rest. Here you can enjoy refreshments, soda, sundaes or lunches in comfort and ease. A special object too, in this unique fountain plan is that children can be served at this low set fountain without the usual dangers of soiling their clothes.

Note the latest, never tarnishing chromium plate used. The beautiful soft tones of the tile fountain front, the black counter with its trim of dainty green enamel. Note, too, how open it is. You can always see how immaculately clean, how sanitary foods and drinks are kept, and served, at this new style fountain.

Two Frigidaire units are used. One is for Ice Cream which is always firm and flavorful here. Another is for cooling the dainty salads, fruit flavors, drinking water and bottled drinks.

Note the arrangement. How service to the Soda Booths never interferes with those enjoying service at the fountain. Then, too, you look out and over the fountain into the activity and happenings on the streets, through the large sunlight windows.

No other fountain you have ever seen, we feel sure, is more scientifically arranged, more beautiful, more complete, restful and comfortable.

It's the social center of the Youth of Appleton and the West Side.

RESIDENTS IN WEST END OF CITY WELL SERVED BY SCHOOLS

Construction of Wilson School Started Movement
In That Direction

Erected at a cost of about $300,000 in 1925, Wilson junior high school is one of the show places of the western part of the city and is largely responsible for the many residences that have been built in that section.

The new building was erected after a long fight to place a junior high school in the west section of the city and is expected to take care of school problems in the junior grades for many years to come. The school is named for Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States 1912 to 1920.

Having a large gymnasium for athletic activities and rooms for all necessary grades, and with arrangement such that additions may be added to the building with little expense, the Wilson junior high is one of the modern and most complete in the state.

Wilson junior high school, however, is not the only educational advantage the west end of the city offers, for there are numerous other schools for persons taking up residence there to send children to. Parochial and other public schools are advantageously placed in the west section of the city and are large enough to adequately handle children who may be sent to them.

There are two large schools for Catholic children living in the west end and one for Lutheran children. The largest Catholic school St. Joseph junior high school with grades from the kindergarten to the ninth grade and with facilities such that even tenth grade pupils can be taught providing they care to remain.

St. Mary Catholic parish also has a grade school for children of its parishioners, and instruction in both schools is according to state and church regulations of highest type.

St. Matthew Lutheran church has the other parochial school in the west end where teachings of the church and a subjects as outlined by the state educational department are taught.

Other public schools in the west end of the city are Washington school in the fifth ward and Jefferson school in the third ward. They are conveniently located for families residing either on the north or south side of College-ave. Children are taught in these schools until they reach an age where they can go to the junior high school. The instructors in the public schools all are subjected to careful investigation before they are given positions and teach courses outlined by state educators and approved by Appleton educational leaders.

BIRGE CONTINUES STUDY OF LAKES

Nine Men From University To Be On Survey This Summer In State

Madison—(AP)—A study of Wisconsin lakes and lake life, started about 20 years ago by Dr. E. A. Birge, president emeritus of the University of Wisconsin, will be continued this summer by nine men from the university.

Dr. Birge and Chancey Jeday of the Wisconsin survey will this year be accompanied by Joseph Morrison, Springfield, Ill.; J. B. Goldsmith, Madison; Ruby Bere, Regina, Sask.; Canada; Hugo C. Baum, New Richmond; F. J. Stare, Columbus; Edward Schmeberger, Cuba, Kan.; and Theodore Setterquist, Duluth, Minn. Already 470 lakes have been studied. Some of them will be studied again and about 30 new lakes will come under the scrutiny of the expedition. Headquarters for the work will be at Trout lake in Vilas county.

Physical, chemical and biological observations will be made on the intensive scale begun in 1925. The final object of the study is to develop a mass of facts about Wisconsin lakes which will be a basis for a scientific conservation program. Community life in the lakes, in which

FUHREMAN CO. TO START NEXT MONDAY

150 Persons Hear Mayor At Formal Opening Of New Plant

The cold and wet weather of the last few days will hold up the opening of operations at the new Fuhrmann canning company, located on W. Spencer-st., planned for this week, according to John F. Fuhrmann, manager. It is hoped that everything will be favorable for the beginning of work on next Monday.

Over 150 buyers, brokers and supply men assembled at the plant last Saturday for the formal opening. Mayor John Goodland, Jr., extended a welcome to the out-of-town attendants and congratulated the founders of the enterprise on the modern structure and equipment. After this the group was taken on a tour of inspection of the buildings and equipment.

With the beginning of work at the plant about 125 men will be employed relieving the unemployment situation to a considerable degree. Once under way intensive production will be pushed as far as possible.

EMBEZZLER IS GIVEN TEN-YEAR SENTENCE

St. Louis—(AP)—Frank L. Berthill, former sales manager and a director of the First National company, investment subsidiary of the First National bank, today pleaded guilty to embezzlement and was sentenced to ten years imprisonment by Circuit Judge Taylor. Company auditors announced in court the total of his speculations was $805,000.

one form of life depends on another, and in which the extent and quality of food for various kinds of lake life is an important factor, will be studied.

Expansion of the studies already begun will be carried out this year, according to Mr. Jeday. Soundings of some of the lakes will be made as a basis for more accurate maps than now exist. Chemical analyses of lake waters will be continued, as will also studies of fish food which floats in the water and which grows on the bottoms. Absorption of light in the waters and other details will be recorded. Mr. Morrison will also continue a survey of clams and snails in the lake area.

The studies of the lakes is analogous to some extent, explains Dr. Birge, to the soil surveys which are made as a basis of improvements in farming and crop production methods. The state conservation commission and the United States bureau of fisheries have assisted officials of the Natural History Division of the Wisconsin Survey in the survey.

New Canning Plant Opens Next Week

The new plant of the Fuhrmann Canning Co., pictured here, will be ready to begin operations next Monday. Unfavorable weather conditions delayed the opening from the date originally expected. The plant is one of the largest in the western part of the city. Recently part of the main building was unroofed by a high wind but repairs were made immediately.

Here is a splendid example of West Side progress and of the forward movement of industry in Appleton. The Fox River Boiler Company now produces structural steel, smoke stacks, steel tanks and carries out sheet iron work, general boiler repairs and incidental steel work such as the construction of large electric signs.

In five years this infant industry has come to the forefront and taken its place among the leaders of this district. You are invited to inspect our plant, to see the many reasons for our progress.

HOPFENSBERGER AND MEAT HISTORY RUN ALONG SAME LINE

Family Has Been Engaged In Market Business For Four Generations

Developing from a small butcher shop into a meat concern that now employs 70 persons, the history of a Hopfensberger meat company recalls that of the meat industry—a good many years back. The Hopfensberger concern has in history four generations of Hopfensbergers. Years and years ago a grandfather of Charles and Edward, copartners in the present Hopfensberger company used to level from farm to farm, killing title for the farmers and making sausage on the farms. Before the day of the packing house, the father, Charles and Edward, Andrew Hopfensberger, bought cattle on the farm, shipping some of it and selling the meat markets in this city with meat. Through working with his father Charles Hopfensberger received his training in the meat game.

Twenty-three years ago he opened the first meat market, two blocks east of the present market on W. College-ave. Besides himself, one son and one delivery boy worked the shop. Seven years later he took his brother, Edward J., into partnership, and opened the Supermarket, with Edward in charge. Twelve years ago he built the present market at 418-420 W. College-ave, and went into the wholesale sausage business. The plans for a new market called for a building 120, and all modern equipment. The same time the Hopfensberger market at Menasha was opened, and six years ago the Neenah market became a part of the company. The two sons of Charles Hopfensberger, who learned the meat business in their leisure hours at school, now operate markets at their father, Norman the main p on W. College-ave, and Andrew one at Neenah. The boys will be taken into the company. The sausage factory, a part of the n store, supplies all the Hopfensberger markets, and covers above per cent of the territory of the e. Two refrigerator trucks and other trucks deliver sausage directly to the door within a radius of miles of Appleton, and other sausage is shipped out by express. During the summer time, the peak of the sausage season, about 100,000 pounds of sausage are turned out by the 22 employees of the factory. During five months of the year the average is about 20,000 pounds a week, and during the other months the average is between 45,000 and 55,000 pounds a week. Twenty-four varieties of Hopfensberger's High Grade sausage made. Charles Hopfensberger is president and Edward is vice president.

Producer Of "Ingagi" To Take Trip To South Seas

BY JESSIE HENDERSON

Hollywood, Calif. — (CFA) — Un-

daunted by the furor over "Ingagi," the film which shows gorillas stealing African women, undisturbed by the charge of other travel picture producers that the gorilla sequences are faked, Nat Spitzer, president of the company responsible for the disputed travelogue, was today deep in plans for an expedition to the South Seas in search, he said, of even more remarkable talkie material. He expects to start in October, accompanied by several scientists from several museums, for a year among islands off the steamship lanes where dwells "a certain tribe about which little is known."

Meanwhile various members of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, the Will Hays organization, have withdrawn Mr. Spitzer's film in their theaters on the grounds that it is less education and more entertainment. Meanwhile also the independent theaters still showing the film are playing to crowded houses with hundreds standing in line.

ENDORSED BY WOMEN

The sensational picture has been endorsed as educational by the California federation of women's clubs. ## START INSTALLING NEW BUS STOP SIGNS

The installation of new bus stop signs was begun by the street department employees Tuesday. On corners where there are stop-and-go signals the buses will stop beyond the traffic lights, so as not to obstruct the view of the lights for other motorists.

For instance, a bus going west on College-ave, will pick up passengers at the intersection of College-ave and Oneida-st in front of the Citizens National bank instead of the Diana Sweet Shoppe, and buses going east on College-ave will stop in front of the Fischer Jewelry store instead of the Zucke building. North-bound buses on Oneida-st will park at the side of the Diana, and south-bound buses will stop in front of the library until the completion of the Zucke building. When they will take on passengers at that corner. The same system will be in effect at the intersection of Morrison, Appleton, Superior, Walnut and State with College-ave.

All red "No parking from here to corner" signs will be changed to yellow signs. Some will be repainted and others will be replaced.

Uncleanliness Not Cause Of Eczema, Says Society

Madison — Eczema is a common skin disease among young and old and has so long been the subject of myths as to its origin that the International Committee of the Swiss Medical Society of Vascery's attempts to dissipate some of the old theories in a bulletin issued today.

Eczema is not caused by uncleanliness. It is not hereditary and neither is it contagious.

Eczema is a disease common to very young people and very old people. It seldom attacks people in middle life.

The once prevalent idea that eczema was due to bacteria and uncleanliness is now entirely dissipated but like all the other myths that have been handed down from generation to generation, it is pretty hard to convince some people of that fact. While cleanliness may still retain its original position in the list of virtues of being second only to goodness, the fact still remains that people should not use impure water and have a lot of virtue in them and get the just the wrong thing for you. The care and treatment to be given an eczema or a skin which has a slight eczema must be based on the one general principle of protection. There is no specific remedy. The skin must rest, its irritating conditions that can ever torment anyone.

Murder at High Tide

IN THE CIRCLE OF LIGHT
M I heart had turned cold at the gravity of Fluke's tone. As my eyes met his the substance of his thought flashed upon me.

"You are thinking of Le Balafre and Bec?" I ejaculated. "They are here—they may have hold of Caroline—is what you mean?"

"My friend, I know those little ones," he said gently. "Did I not tell you that the agony of their hatred would drive them here. Liberty to them is a mockery if they cannot first burn the iron of their hatred into the body of Jules Lacote. I know Le Balafre and Ciceron Bec."

"Are they here on the island?" I cried. "Do you know they are here?"

"I shall tell you something," he said. "A letter from the French consul at Los Angeles was brought to me this afternoon. It told me that Le Balafre and Ciceron Bec were as far north as Ensenada four days ago—"

"That would be last Wednesday," Samuels ejaculated. "Ensenada isn't more than 150 miles south of here. They'd do it in six hours in a fast boat."

"They had a fast boat, monsieur. Fluke continued grimly. "Does not the consul inform me that a launch, a fast one, was stolen in the harbor of Ensenada that Wednesday night? Two rascals beat the owner, carried him off to sea, and put him out in an open boat. He should have died, but he didn't. Yesterday he is discovered and today he is able to speak and to describe one of those rascals, Monsieur. It is Le Balafre, The Scourged One."

"Fluke could not resist the temptation to pronounce that sinister name with a flourish. The room became quiet. Horror began to drill at my heart."

"It can't be that," I groaned. "Why should they take Caroline? Lacote is dead. They could have no reason for coming back."

"Fluke's arm fell across my shoulder. 'Come, we shall find her around the corner, sound and safe. I do not doubt. You ask me what I knew and I have told you. But we waste time!'"

I was not reassured, but the briskness of his tone helped.

"Miss Brent must be found," Samuels was saying. "Every man on the island will take part in the search. Johns and Kirk will look after the south side of The Gut. The rest of us had better spread out like a fan. Gridley, you and Hendricks go to the head of The Gut, then continue straight up the slope. Annerley and I will veer off to the right of you. Fluke, you and Lum we go north along the foot of the slope. Hunt, take the short. She may have fallen off the cliff."

"We'll all work over to the other side of the island, then back. There's an abandoned village over there somewhere, don't forget. Cover every foot of ground. Use your brains if you meet those birds Le Balafre and Bec. Better take what guns you can find."

"We don't intend to stay here doing nothing," Celia announced. "At least, I don't."

"Nor I," Mrs. Parados said. "I couldn't sit still after what I've done. This is all my fault, but I don't need to remind you of that."

"I shall help," Miss Jahries added. "Manning merely quivered."

"My orders are that you remain in the house," Samuels told them. "I have enough on my hands now. If you leave the house you do so on your own responsibilities."

Four or five pistols were available. I did not secure one of them. There were enough torches to go around, however. Celia, Mrs. Parados, and Miss Jahries declared their intention of combing the ground immediately beyond the edge of the developed estate in which the house stood.

Manning, afraid to be left alone in the house, attached herself to Miss Jahries.

As I started at a fast clip down to the beach by way of one of the cove trails, my head and ears were pounding. I arrived at the beach in a lather of sweat.

Not more than a dozen feet of wet sand divided the breakers from the sandstone cliff. The beach curved and I followed its arc at top speed, coming to the mouth of The Gut, where I stood, drenched with spray and deafened with sound. Hissing water and an unscalable cliff guarded this side of The Gut.

Coming back, I threw my light along the jetty, into the boathouse, and over the Parados cruiser and the police boat, then along the cement breakwater Parados had built halfway across the mouth of the cove.

A shoulder of rock jutted into the surf at the northwest corner of the cove. It took me ten minutes to get around it to the west beach. Once I thought I was trapped. The water was up to my waist, then to my shoulders. I swept me off my feet and hurled me against the cliff. The water receded and I staggered through.

My head throbbed and after I had touched it I found blood on my hand. The wound did not appear to be deep, however, and I started down the beach. Fortunately the torch was not broken.

Turning, I reeled back along the beach, playing the light beam upon the face of the cliff with a view to discovering a trail that would take me to the top.

The trail proved steeper than I had expected and halfway up I had to stop, or I would have fallen from exhaustion. I was losing more blood than I had supposed.

I was on the point of starting up again when a beam of light, evidently from an electric torch, shot out over the top of the cliff in a horizontal direction a little to the right of me.

It vanished, reappeared, vanished; again it reappeared and vanished. Each time the light flashed with the regularity of a signal.

So far as I knew everybody had left the house. The women might have returned, but if they had I could conceive of no reason why they should signal out to sea. Inland, or to me on the beach—that would have been understandable.

"It looks queer," I muttered. As I pulled myself over the edge of the cliff, the light flashed again—once. A hundred yards south of where I stood was the house. The light had seemed to come from the parapet of the roof. This time I caught an answering gleam somewhat south of the house and not far off shore.

My first impulse was to approach the roof by way of the outside stair, but I quickly suppressed it. I wanted to see the signaler before he saw me.

Skirting the cypress trees, I made my way to the northwest corner of the house and to the rear door, where I had left my shoes. The door was ajar. I entered, slipped across the kitchen to the hall, and arrived noiselessly at the foot of the stair.

There I paused and listened. The hall and most of the lower rooms were lighted. I saw no one and heard nothing. Nevertheless I knew that I was not alone in the house. My certainly sent me up the stair like a shadow.

At the top I paused once more. Caroline's room was lighted and the door was ajar. I slipped across the corridor and looked into the room. It was empty.

My own room was the next and I had stopped in front of it when my eyes were drawn to the door at the end of the corridor. It fascinated me—because the bodies of Parados and Grainger were behind it, perhaps. At any rate, I found my self moving toward it.

My throat was dry. I felt as if I were moving through a tomb peopled with the living. The door was not locked. It gave slowly, noiselessly before my pressure. The room was dark.

Nothing happened for a moment I heard no sound. Then my face suddenly was ringed in light. My own torch was still in my left hand but I had forgotten it and my fingers released the switch without the consent of my will.

I parried the first beam and cut a second circle out of the darkness. Into the second circle leaped a face that was of neither the living nor the dead.

Scream rang through the room. "Alan!"

The face had leaped at me. Something fell on my head and I dropped.

Tomorrow Hunt begins a wild race to bring Caroline back to safety.

NEW FIRESTONE STATION WILL BE READY THIS MONTH

Super-service Will Be Offered In New Building Nearing Completion

With facilities for all sorts of tire repairing, greasing, brake testing, washing, and oil and grease handling, the Firestone Tire stores, Inc., will open a super-service station at the corner of Richmond and College-ave. on or about June 28, according to the present plans of Mr. M. Macauley manager.

In a large building with approaches from both streets this station is equipped to handle many cars in a quick and efficient fashion. The building, which is rapidly nearing completion at the hands of the Martin Boldt construction company, is of pressed brick and reinforced concrete, and many windows on the two street sides are trimmed in a light green.

Four entrances on the east side give access to a greasing pit, a brake adjusting and wheel alignment pit, ways on the south side also admit cars to the operating floor. The equipment, which is specially evolved by the Firestone company, is of the latest type and with it employees can handle all kinds of vulcanizing and tire adjustment work.

The brake adjustment machinery, onto which the cars are driven, spins the four wheels at a uniform speed and gauges register the braking force of each, assuring accurate equalization. Wheels are also adjusted to perfect alignment here to insure equal tread wear.

Four gasoline pumps will dispense gasoline under a canopy effect with entrances from either thoroughfare. An up-to-date battery charging and service station is included in the equipment, and Firestone batteries will be handled in addition to the service work on all makes. A car washing rack, which is reached from the College-ave approach, is equipped with modern apparatuses. Along the west wall a two story tire storage rack accommodates about 1000 tires of all sizes and styles.

Building operations were started about April 1 and the finishing touches are being made now. The equipment for the shop as well as office furniture and appliances are practically all installed. The cost of the building and equipment will be approximately $75,000 according to a report of the manager.

Talks To Parents

PETER PAN BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

Peter Pan has become a classic not only because it is a charming story but because it is a delightful expression of the universal fantasy of childhood—the wish never to grow up, to do the impossible without effort—the desire never to be harnessed into the responsibilities of adult life.

There is, in every child, more or less of this wish to escape from factual limitation.

One of the tasks of parenthood is to know just how to encourage this fantasy element which may be productive of so much joy and perhaps even artistic expression, while bit by bit the wings of Never Never land are clipped.

There is time and place for Peter Pan in the life of every child. The wise parent senses just when and how much she may encourage those happy flights of imagination without which her child may miss so much that is satisfying and beautiful.

She does not needlessly crush his fantasies but she pins him tactfully to such realities as are essential to his adjustment in the here and now. She encourages the Peter Pan in him to find expression in all sorts of dramatic play, in the invention of stories, in work with such creative materials as paint and clay.

She cultivates these things not by definite direction, but by a passive, sympathetic attitude that tends to keep open always in the child's mind the pathway between the real world of facts and the world of happy escape.

She knows how to play the game of make-believe, how to clarify the distinction between fact and fantasy without either censoring the child's imagination or permitting him to wander from the world in which he must learn to live.

CONDUCTOR ON SPECIAL TRAIN LOST SUITCASE

Police Chief George T. Prim, Tuesday received word from the Chicago and Northwestern railroad that the conductor, who brought one of the Washington special trains to Appleton last Saturday night, had lost his suitcase. The suitcase evidently was removed from the train and carried home by mistake. Chief Prim has requested that whoever finds the suitcase should return it to the police station.

WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN MISSISSIPPI IS GIVEN HIGH HONOR

McComb Enterprise Wins First Place For Greatest Community Service

Milwaukee — (AP)—A Mississippi weekly newspaper, whose publisher entered journalism only six years ago, today was awarded the trophy for greatest community service, the highest honor bestowed by the National Editorial association.

The McComb Enterprise, edited by J. O. Emmerich, a former farm demonstrator, was chosen by a committee of three judges. The paper was credited with having "not only the outstanding record for the last year, but probably would stand first among all weekly newspapers which have completed for this honor in former years."

Other first awards, announced at the annual convention, were: Best weekly newspaper — Greenwich (Conn. Press) newspaper production contest — Brookings (S. D.) Register; best editorial page — Bloomfield (N. J.) Independent Press; best news page — Storm Lake (Ia.) Pilot; best advertising promotion — Cosmopolis (Pa.) Record.

Nine major projects were successfully championed by the Enterprise while more than a score of others affecting McComb were supported. Inexperienced in newspaper work, Emmerich in six years transformed his paper from a run-down plant to a new and modern institution with a large job-printing department.

Second place in community service contest was awarded to the Chronicle Express, Penn. Yan, N. Y. Honorable mention was given the Wapington (N. D.) Plain Leader; Sturgeon (Mo.) Leader; Wayne County Press; Williston (N. D.) Herald and Charlestown (W. Va.) Spirit of Jefferson.

The Traer (Ia.) Star-Clipper won highest rank in the contest for the best weekly, but having carried off the award three years ago, was ineligible, and the Greenwich Press was given first. The Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune was third. Honorable mentions went to the LaGrange (Ill.) Citizen; Colorado Springs (Colo.) Daily News; Ladysmith (Wis.) News; Clinton County (St. John's, Mich.) Reporter-News; Burlington (Wis.) Standard-Democrat; Wayne (Neb.) Herald and Toledo (Ia.) Chronicle.

Second place in the production contest was awarded the Owatonna (Minn.) Journal Chronicle, winner of two trophies in last year's contests. The Minnesota (Minn.) Mascot ranked third. Honorable mentions were given the Traer Star-Clipper; Harper (Tex.) Herald; Ladysmith (Wis.) News; Hancock County (Carthage, Ill.) Journal; Delta County (Colorado) Tribune; St. John's (Mich.) Republican-News and Knoxville (Ia.) Express.

The Ada (Okla.) Weekly News had the same point ranking as the Bloomfield Press in the editorial page competition, but by a narrow margin was reduced to second. Honorable mentions were: Harper Herald, Dalton (Ga.) News; El Reno (Okla.) American; Milwaukee (Wis.) Sun; Minnesota Mascot and Lexington (Ky.) Leader.

The second-best first page, judges decided, was that of the West Allis (Wis.) Star and third best that of the Harvard (Ill.) Herald. Honorable mentions were given the Archbold (O.) Buckeye; Waverly (Ia.) Independent; Brookings (S. D.) Register; Burlington (Wis.) Standard-Democrat; Belle Fourche (S. D.) Northwest Post; Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review and Minnesota Mascot.

In advertising promotion, the Moberly (S. D.) Tribune was second, the St. James (Minn.) Plain Dealer third and the Lake Wales (Fla.) Highland fourth.

PAQUIN FURNITURE SHOP

UPHOLSTERING — REFINISHING — REPAIRING PHONE 966

A progressive man in APPLETON at 124 South Walnut Street, has won a wide reputation through expert work executed on upholstering and refinishing of all kinds of furniture.

Throughout this section this is known as one of the firms engaged in the business of furniture upholstering. He has attained a position in the trade in this line that brings an ever increasing business and as a consequence the place is the scene of a continued activity.

The large business he has done in this part of the state has been the admiration and comment of everyone. He has his place equipped with all the necessary machinery and the proprietor is one of the expert men in these lines, his activities embracing all branches of the business including custom built furniture, made to your order.

There is no branch of this work that he has overlooked. He has you ready in a matter of days while some firms keep your furniture for weeks.

Most correct and reliable upholstering is an art rather than trade and requires a training that can only be secured by actual experience. That is why the work of the establishment is meeting with such universal favor for it is in charge of one of the most experienced and expert upholsterers in the country.

With that business acumen and foresight which has won such wide popularity and patronage in the past for this man, he has anticipated the needs of the people of this section of the state and the establishment of this firm is one of the busiest spots in this section and though the business has grown to large proportions and the demand is far surpassing even the largest expectations, this firm still specializes in rendering individual service to every patron.

We wish to compliment the PAQUIN FURNITURE SHOPS upon the efficiency of the plant and to direct our readers to it when in need of any furniture upholstering. — All Work is Guaranteed —

500 NEW HANDBOOKS ARE JUST OFF PRESS

Five hundred new handbooks containing information relative to city government are off the press and ready for distribution in the office of Carl Becher, city clerk. The books, bound in green this year, contains a list of city officials, committees, aldermen, addresses and phone numbers, rules of the council, the general charter law and a calendar. An addition this year is that of the board of building inspection, which formerly was not included in the booklet.

Dance. Darboy, Thursday.
